A MEXICAN AND CONFEDERATE SOLDIER DIES.

Col. Nelson Slough, of This County, Dies Saturday Morning, at Anderson, S. C.

"No braver soldier ever went to the battle field than was Col. Nelson Slough," was what the reporter heard on all sides when his death was announced on Sunday.

Col. Slough died at his home in Anderson, S. C., Saturday morning about 3 o'clock, after considerable suffering from infirmity and gradual wasting of his vital strength.

Col. Slough was born in this county, near the Dotson Mill place, in No. 4. From those who knew him well, we learn that he was 78 or 80 years of age. He often spoke to his friends about carrying brick during the construction in 1825 of the court house that was burned on the corner opposite Allison's corner. From this his age, not being exactly known, is estimated.

During the Mexican war Col. Slough, with J N Brown, V N Mitchell, D C Faggart, Timothy and Ephraim Tucker, Jas. Dorton, George Barnhardt and about sixty others, went from this county to the Mexican war. All are dead, or moved away from Cabarrus except those above mentioned.

At the beginning of the Confederate war, Col. Slough raised a company and went as captain of the Cabarrus Guard to fight yankees and those they imported. He rose to the position of lieutenant colonel. He is one colonel that didn't get his title at home, but in the field where the very souls of men were tried. During the war he was elected sheriff of Cabarrus county. He was once clerk of the county court. He was elected sheriff of the county twice since the war, and before these days was for many years a deputy. In fact, all during his life, at intervals, he was connected with the execution of the law here in Cabarrus county.

He leaves a widow (a sister of Rev. Dieher, once located here, but who died in Mt. Pleasant), one son and three daughters, the latter married. Col. Slough, like all men, had his faults; but his was an individuality that had many a good quality, and there never breathed a braver soldier.

Hundreds of people in the county will regret to hear of his death, and hold for the bereaved ones profound sympathy. Col. Slough, after moving to Anderson about six years ago, lived a very quiet and peaceful life. Peace to the ashes of the old sheriff and the brave old soldier.

FOREST HILL NEWS.

Graphically Portrayed by Our Special Correspondent.

John Hargett of Charlotte spent Sunday at J H Kizziah's.

Mr. and Mrs. A T Bruten are visiting relatives in Montgomery county.

Rev. J J Renn preached two excellent sermons in Forest Hill M. E. church Sunday to a large congregation.

Frank Cook, of Salisbury, was here Saturday.

Forest Hill and Concord played a game of base ball Saturday evening. Score 16 to 4 in favor of Concord.

The clerks in the company store are inclined to be stuck up today. Messrs. Wilkinson and Cook had the misfortune to let a barrel of molasses fall and burst. This was hard luck to Cook, for besides losing several gallons of molasses, he ruined his Sunday pants. We think that Wilkinson after a genuine shampoo will be himself again.

Mr. P L Saunders, formerly of this place, but now of Asheville, was here Sunday. Mr. Saunderson's many friends were pleased to see him.

High Honor to Dr. Bowman—One Which Charlotte Appreciates.

Rev. Dr. W S Bowman, of this city, is the recipient of a high honor from a high source. He yesterday received notice of his being appointed as a member of the advisory department of the religious congress at the World's Fair. The congress convenes in September, and will be attended by representatives of every known religion. There will be Mohammedans, Confucianists, Jewish Rabbis, Catholics, Protestants, and every other religion in the world. Dr. Bowman will not preach, but direct others how to preach, and advise generally. This is a deserved compliment to the doctor, and one which Charlotte feels proud to have paid his ability. —Charlotte Observer.

Then and Now.

In ancient days for many an ill, We used to take a big blue pill. It did so surely tear and gripe, We felt for purgatory ripe.

MALARIA

WINTERSMITH'S Tonic Syrup or Improved CHILL CURE.

The most successful remedy for Fever and Ague ever known. Prevents Malaria in its various forms. Contains no Quinine, Arsenic nor any deleterious substance whatever.

Reasons for its superiority over Wintersmith's Tonic over Quinine and other Remedies. The remedies usually given only prevent the paroxysm or break the chill, without reference to the condition the system may be left in after the chills are removed; whereas the more breaking of the chills is but a small part of what is required to effect a radical cure. A proper use of Wintersmith's Tonic never fails to remove the cause and cure the most obstinate case of fever and ague.
