Picked Up and Put in Shape By Our Hustling Pencil Pusher

The very latest in stiff hats, Philadelphia block—just received at—Cannons & Fetzer's.

Mr. K L Craven has gone to Climax, Randolph county, in answer to a telegram calling him to the bedside of his mother who is extremely ill.

Dr. W H Wakefield will be in Concord at the St. Cloud hotel on Wednesday, April 18th, for one day. Practice limited to eye, ear, nose and throat.

Mr. A J Blackwelder, whose barn was burned on Tuesday, had full insurance in a company represented by Rev. T W Smith. His loss will be comparatively small.

The case against Mr. I H Foust, of Salisbury, was sent up to the Supreme court on an appeal by the defendant. The Supreme court confirmed the finding of the lower court.

J T Pounds asks us to say that he is still plaining and selling lumber, and that he is ready at any time to take contracts. The idea has gotten out that he was in the coffin business alone.

NOTICE—I will collect dues for Equitable Building & Loan Association on Monday 9th. will be out of town this week.—W G Boshamer, Secretary and Treasury.

Mr. M Melchor, of Pioneer Mills was in the city. He reports the general health of Col. Jacob Barnhardt very good. He suffers so very much with his eyes, however, that he can scarcely see well enough to recognize even an old acquaintance.

The Durham Globe states that since the disappearance of Mr. Charles E Crabtree of that city, every effort has been to find him but all has proved fruitless. No cause for his disappearance can be assigned; and none of his friends know any reason for his leaving. His accounts were found to be all straight.

Mrs. France M Smith, of No. 9, died Tuesday night after a short sickness. Mrs. Smith was a Lincoln county lady and her maiden name was Susian L Hedrick. She was a little over 50 years in age. In this bereavement that has come to his home, Mr. Smith will have the deepest of sympathy of friends and neighbors.

Jim Carter, a moonshiner from Stanly, was being conveyed this morning from Albemarle to the Federal Court at Greensboro, in charge of Officer Neal. Just before the train reached Misenheimer Springs station, on the Yadkin road, Carter was allowed to enter the gentlemen's closet. He closed the door and that was the last time Officer Neal saw prisoner Carter. An open window with the window sill thoroughly dusted by Carter's corduroys told the tale, and Carter is still snuffing the breezes that sway the lofty pines of the Stanly forests.

THE RUSH OF HUMANITY.

People Who Travel as Seen by Our Reporter.

—Mr. John McDowell, of Morganton, is in the city.

—Bob Fisher went to Charlotte on the 10:37 train.

—Mrs. A B Reese, of Charlotte, is visiting at Dr. Fitzgerald's.

—Miss Lois McDowell, of Charlotte, is visiting her sister, Mrs. S J Lowe.

—Mrs. Hargrave, of Lexington, is visiting at her brother's Rev. Dr. Payne.

Mr. A Jones Yorke has gone to Mt. Pleasant and Albemarle, via dirt road. He intends to sell a big lot of hats on the trip.

Some Superstitious Notions.

The colored people (many of them) are entertaining some very peculiar notions about matters connected with the sad death of Henry Surrat. This item is not written out of lack of respect to the memory of the faithful colored man, but merely to show that some of his friends are entertaining very foolish, superstitious notions.

It is said that a cuspidor in the New South Club room, on Saturday night, rolled from one side to the other of the room, no one touching or being near. This the superstitious claim was a warning to Henry not to marry.

They claim too that for the last several months a spirit would come and hold Henry's feet down (when in bed) so that he could not move them.

They claim that when Henry was descending with his would-be bride to the bridal altar, he saw the appearance of his dead wife, and then it was he threw up his hand, fell and expired.

Now these are very foolish notions without a particle of ground for belief and the ones entertaining confided in them are away behind in advancement.

The remains of the courteous janitor were interred Tuesday evening, followed to the grave by one of the largest funeral processions ever seen in town.

Cure for Headache.

A remedy for all forms of headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headache yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In case of habitual constipation Electric Bitter cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Large bottles only Fifty cents at Fetzer's Drug store.

Last Notice Town Taxes.

All property upon which the taxes are not paid by the 31st day of March, 1894 will be advertised for sale, with additional costs added. I will also ask warrants to be issued for the arrest of all persons who have not paid their poll taxes by the 20th of this month I have waited patiently, but can not wait any longer. Now to save costs come forward and settle at once. J. L. BOGER, Town Tax Collector.

Can't you persuade your neighbor to take this paper?

Even Names Are Compared.
Some one, who has some knowledge of grammar, knowing that adjectives were subject to comparison such as "low, lower, lowest, made an observation.

This same grammarian peeped into the store now occupied by Mr. J S Lowe, where Mr. G M Lore and Mr. Elam King [the lowest one in stature] are making their offices temporarily. This Grammarian then remarked I am reminded of what I use to learn in school: Lowe, Lore, Lowest. You see the point.
