CONCORD, APRIL, 5, 1894.

PUBLIC OPINION ON VETO.

Below we give some opinions, here and there, relative to the veto:

Gov. Carr: Our people are practically a unit in favor of the Bland bill, and do not approve the veto. We are in favor of further silver legislation.

Richmond Dispatch: Letters received by many Southern Congressmen since the President vetoed the Bland seigniorage bill seems to indicate that his action was a great disappointment in the section referred to, and particularly is this true of Virginia and North Carolina. The failure of the bill to become a law is not their fault; but they recognize that opponents of the democratic party will endeavor from now on to injure the candidates for Congress with the people.

Ex-Gov Hadley, a goldbug Democrat from Ohio: But the halting policy of Congress on the tariff is distinguished. So was its delay in repealing the Sherman act, which ought not to have taken over a week. Don Piatt once said that the Democratic party represented the organized ignorance of the country, and the Republicans then organized greed. If an election were to take place to-morrow the Democrats wouldn't carry a Northern township and I fear the next House is already lost.

Representative Wise of Virginia, says: Most of the Democrats in Congress I think, will be compelled to break with Mr. Cleveland.

Several Congressmen: Col. Oates Representative from Alabama, says and we group with it some other opinions of Representatives.

Mr. Oates—The effort of the veto will be bad in the South. I regret exceedingly that the President has reached such a conclusion.

Mr. Sayers, of Texas—I regret the veto, not only on account of its bad effect upon the party, but upon the country as well.

Mr. Denson, of Alabama—The patronage heeled and the postmasters and editors will approve the President: the other 98 per cent. of the people will repudiate him.

Mr. Talbert, South Carolina—The

Democrats of my State will still be Democrats, but they will not be upholders of the President. We must part from him on the silver question. He and his party are worshipping at the shrine of the golden calf of Wall street and the money power.

Representative Money, of Mississippi—The veto will alienate the people from Cleveland, but not from the party. The Senators and Representatives from our State have kept the faith with their constituents. Our people hoped that something would be done for silver, and the passage of the Seigniorage bill showed that Congress had not turned its back upon them. The President's action is to be regretted, but it can only hurt himself, not the party.

Mr. Bland: "The President raises the old bond question again. The message makes it very clear that a gold standard means a perpetual issue of bonds. Consequently, no currency legislation can be had without consulting the people who buy the bonds. The purpose of the bill was to utilize the silver in the Treasury to pay the public expenditures, and thus make unnecessary an issue of bonds."

"How does the veto affect the Democratic party?" was asked of Mr. Bryan, of Nebraska.

"Which is the Democratic party?" was the quick reply; "Mr. Cleveland or the people who elected him? The States which gave Mr. Cleveland more than two-thirds of his electoral votes gave only six Democratic votes against the seigniorage bill in both House and Senate. Do the people of these States know what 'sound finance' requires, or does Mr. Cleveland alone understand the question? It is a contest between the Northeast idea of finance and the idea entertained by the rest of the country, and it must be fought out at the ballot box."

THE AUTHORITIES AT IT.

Following up some remarks relative to what a recent Grand Jury did in Durham, the Sun has this to say about boy affairs:

"Following upon the heels of these investigations and indictments the town authorities last night took a hand at the regulation of saloons and preventing minors from entering them. An ordinance was passed making it unlawful for a boy under 21 years of age to enter a saloon, save on business not connected with the bar. The penalty is a fine of $10 for each offense. This law goes into effect on Tuesday next. A great many of her people regard this as a good step and the law will be energetically enforced. The provisions of the law will be found in our local columns."

[We have no barrooms in Concord, but we have a trouble all the same. You can see some men sober and inside of ten minutes see them drunk. Everybody knows that the whiskey wasn't had on prescription. Where did it come from? Ah! Get the evidence to convict, is the trouble.

But really, if town authorities can impose a fine on parties under 21 years for going in barrooms, can they not regulate just what time a mere child can roam over the streets at night, without parental care?

Upon the death of Col. B. R. Moore solicitor of the Criminal court of New Hanover Monday morning, Judge O. P. Meares appointed the Hon. A. M. Waddell to be solicitor in his stead.

Fetzer's Drug Store

CONCORD,

FINE

TOILET SOAP.

We have bought a big lot and got it at a big lot price. We knew it wouldn't go out of style. We are selling this soap at a discount of 16 2/3 per cent from the former price. That "figgers" this way—16 2/3 per cent discount equals a profit of 20 per cent. So when you buy soap from us you realize a profit of 20 per cent on the investment. Don't you see it? It's good soap, too, the very best! Keep this in mind, it'll be money in your pocket. Of course we make a small profit, too. It's better to sell soap on small profits than to sit around complaining of hard times.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Cifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shephard, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is now sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at Fetzer's Drug store.

The Standard has received a card from Mr. M. Voils, of Mooresville. He wants us to send the Standard to Mrs. M. Voils. He jocularly remarked further that "if Congress didn't take the tariff off of eggs she could pay by Fall." That's alright—tariff or no tariff.

Take a sober thought about the South Carolina affairs since the smoke has cleared away, it really appears that the whole trouble comes from Tillman and his policies. The best remedy, at present, would be to bleed Tillman and then give him a sedative. It might not make any difference at what place the blood is let out.

Miss Lillie Kimball has returned to Salisbury.
