A BATCH OF LOCAL NEWS.

Picked Up and Put in Shape By Our Hustling Pencil Pusher

The nights are still very cool.

Mr. B E Harris is quite sick.

The meeting at the Forest Hill M. E. church closed Monday night.

Statesville's new shoe factory started up last Friday, turning out 26 pairs the first day.

Miss Jessie Deaton, who has been very seriously ill for several days, is slowly improving.

They say cotton is coming up, but if the nights remain cool the cotton will get the sore lip.

Mrs. Lyman, the widow of Bishop Lyman, is quite sick in Baltimore, as the News-Observer states.

Capt. McDonald requests us to say that all reports in circulation in regard to his withdrawal from the mayoralty race are without foundation. He is in it from start to finish.

Commodore Edwin D Morgan, of New York, has become the father of his third child, and under the will of the late Gov. E D Morgan will receive $750,000, or $350,000 for each child.

Last Saturday Mr. Alexander, of North Carolina, offered in the House today a bill authorizing the Secretary of Treasury to lease or sell a part of the United States mint property at Charlotte, N. C., to the city for park purpose only. In case of a sale the price is to be not less than fifty per cent of the appraised property.

The threatened trouble between the Norfolk and Western Railroad company and its employees has been averted. The company has restored the ten per cent wages to conductors, engineers, firemen brakemen and telegraph operators. The salary of the men in the offices and at the machine works will remain at the present figures for awhile.

The remains of Hon. William Hooper, one of North Carolina's signers of the Declaration of Independence, were removed from the Norwood lot in the cemetery at the Presbyterian church at this place last Wednesday to the Guilford Battle Ground near Greensboro. Mrs. Julia Graves, widow of the late Prof. Graves and daughter of the late Prof. Hooper, of our State University, was here superintending the removal. The remains were turned over to Dr. D R Schenck, who carried them to Greensboro Wednesday evening.—Orange Observer, Hillsboro.

A Lyman Memorial Sermon.

The Observer is authorized by Bishop Cheshire to state that Bishop Capers, of South Carolina, has kindly promised to deliver in St. Paul's church, Winston, on Trinity Sunday, May 20th, a memorial sermon, upon the life and character of the late Bishop Lyman, before the convention of the Diocese of North Carolina. The bishop therefore desires and requests that the members of the convention should make their arrangements to remain over Sunday in Winston.

Papers in that part of Bishop Cheshire's Diocese, will confer a favor upon many of their readers by publishing this notice.

THE RUSH OF HUMANITY.

People Who Travel as Seen by Our Reporter.

—Mr. J W Cannon open the morning in China Grove.

—Mrs. Dr. L E Rose, of Mt. Pleasant, spent the day in the city.

—Mrs. J N Brown, who has been visiting her sister in Matthews, has returned home.

—Mrs. T P Johnson, who has been visiting relatives in town, has returned to her home in Salisbury.

Ascension Day.

Thursday being Ascension Day, there will be service of Holy Communion in All Saint's church, beginning at 11 o'clock.

Sunday next—Sunday after Ascension—a sermon on the Ascension of our Lord will be delivered by the Rector.

Our New German Residents.

Some days since the Standard said that Mr. Fred Beck was expecting his father and mother from Germany, and that they intended to reside here.

It is his sister and her husband that are coming. And they will make Concord their home. Mr. and Mrs. William Blicke, of Wittemburg, Germany, are expected this week.

Old Mercantile Company Bought Out.

About January 1st, a dry goods firm under the name of the Old Mercantile company started business in Concord.

For several days there has been a little stir at the store over some changes. Mr. Ould, the manager, was absent Monday and returning the stock of goods was sold to Mr. S J Lowe, of the S J Lowe company. Inventory of stock is now being taken.

The goods, which are new, will remain in Concord for sale.

Murder at Paint Rock.

Engineer P D Roueche, of the Western road, who came down Saturday night tells the Herald of a killing at Paint Rock Friday night. A young man named Simmons, who lives just across the State line in Tennessee, was drunk and disorderly and several people were trying to keep him quiet and prevent a row. In the crowd was a young man named Plemmons, who lived near Paint Rock. While the crowd was remonstrating with Simmons he pulled out his pistol and fired. The bullet struck Plemmons in the left breast just above the heart, killing instantly. After the shooting Simmons stood over the body of his victim, pistol in hand, and would not let any one come near him. He remained in Paint Rock nearly all night and no effort was made to arrest him, the people being afraid of him. Just before day he left for his home. Plemmons, the young man killed, was unarmed and said nothing to provoke his murderer. Mr. Roueche was standing near the scene of the tragedy and saw the blaze from Simmons' pistol. He says several shots were fired and that the people seemed paralyzed at the crime and with fear for themselves. Simmons' father was in Paint Rock Saturday morning when Mr. Roueche left. His son had reached home and told him what he had done and he drove to the town to find out the particulars. When Mr. Roueche left no effort had been made to arrest the murderer.—Salisbury Herald.

BUN CONED OUT OF $5,000.

A Rich New Jersey Farmer the Victim of two slick Swindlers.

James Emmons, a wealthy farmer of White House Station, N. J., was buncoed out of $5,000 on Tuesday. Two strangers visited him. They described the property on which the mortgages lay, and offered them at a great reduction. The farmer agreed to take them, but insisted on plenty of them to verify the papers. He drove the men to Sommerville and drew $5,000 from the bank there. This he was to take home and have ready when the men brought the approved mortgages.

Emmons allowed the men to count the money. When they completed the count they placed the money in a tin box, in front of the farmer, and then turned the key in the lock. They handed him a box a minute later and said they would bring the key when they brought the papers.

The farmer went home and kept the box closed until yesterday, when he received a letter postmarked Bound Brook. The key to the box was inclosed. The letter advised him to open the box and say nothing to any one, or the farmer's neighbors might think he was a fool. Emmons opened the box and found it filled with sticks of wood. There is no clue to the swindlers.—New York World.

From No. 5.

Miss Myrtle Miller, of Mt. Pleasant, spent last week in No. 5 with friends.

Mrs. Geo. Goodman and children, of Tulsa, and Miss Jennie Shimpock, of Enochville, are spending this week with friends and relatives.

Rev. Paul Barringer and family spent last week among their many friends.

Everything was in fine trim, beautiful weather, large crowds of people from the surrounding country, Concord and Forest Hill, and good order was among the good things at New Gilead Classis last week. On Sunday Old and New Gilead and Mt. Carmel (Methodist) churches were filled and a large number of persons outside. Among some of the resolutions passed and adopted was, granting licenses to two young men, viz: H A M Holsheuser, of Newton, and assigned Catawba charge, and W H McNairy, of Newton, was assigned to Davidson charge. These two young men will graduate this year at Newton college. The two young men delivered Sunday school addresses at New Gilead last Sunday morning that are highly spoken of by all our folks.

CLASSIS ON SUNDAY.

The Difference Between "Lutherans" and "The Church Reformed" Stated Clearly.

New Gilead, April 29—Perhaps never in this history, of the community has a larger crowd assembled to worship than the crowd which attended upon the different services held by the members of Classis today. The day was bright, beautiful, glorious, and early in the morning the crowd was seen coming. Men brought their families in wagons, in carriages, in buggies, and a great number near the church came on foot. They occupied the large church building and each was filled to overflowing. Six sermons were preached, two in each church.

In the new Reformed church, Rev J O Leonard and Rev. A H Smith preached; in the Methodist church Rev. Dr. Trexler and Rev. J L Murphy, president of Claremont Female College. In the old Reformed church, Revs. Messrs. Andrews and Lyerly.

From the fact that the Observer has referred to this meeting as the Lutheran Classis, I am moved to say that the Reformed church is not well known in North Carolina, although some of the congregations have been organized over one hundred years. This church dates its origin from the stormy days of the Reformation of the Sixteenth Century when Martin Luther and Ulrich Zwingli commenced their independent preaching, the one in Germany and the other in Switzerland. These two great leaders had a controversy over the doctrine of the Lord's Supper. Those who adhered to Luther's doctrine were called "Lutherans," while the followers of Zwingli called the church, "the Church Reformed," or "the Reformed Church." The Reformed Church in the world numbers about 20,000,000 adherents. In the United States it is strong in the States of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

In North Carolina flourishing congregations are found in most all the counties settled by the Germans. Catawba College, located at Newton, is the church school in this State. Claremont Female College, located at Hickory, is also under the direction of this church. These people are conservative, and of the most substantial character. Intelligent, honest and thrifty, they are a power in the communities in which their churches are located.

Cleveland County Contributes Here.

Chief of Police R S Jones and Deputy Sheriff Andrews, of Shelby, arrived Monday evening with three convicts from Cleveland county sentenced to the Cabarrus county chain gang. They are: Henry Pruitt, white, 12 months; Stepeny Wright, colored, 18 months; Tom Turner, colored, 8 months.

This makes a service of 38 months for one man.

Our Mines Being Wonders.

The ore that was taken out at the Concord mine, Mr. Church superintendent, during last week was worked with excellent results, 580 pennyweights of gold is the result of the week's work.

This is the mine in which Senator Jones is interested. If it keeps on as it has, Senator Jones may become in reality a bimetalist.
