

State Library

THE DAILY STANDARD.

VOL. IX.—No. 305

CONCORD, N. C. SATURDAY, AUGUST 4, 1894

WHOLE No. 1,285

A BATCH OF LOCAL NEWS.

Picked Up and Put in Shape By Our Hastling Pencil Pusher

Miss Ella Honeycutt who has been very ill with fever, is convalescing.

The Southern Railway Company is still chopping off official heads along the line.

Our devil, John Goodman, who came home from the Encampment with fever, is better.

Rev. N I Bakka gave the people of his church a large picnic Friday at the fair grounds.

Housekeepers ask for Alden's Pure Cider Vinegar; take no other.

The Gaingang, numbering 26, are improving the roads of No. 3, near Coddle Creek church.

The blackberry season is over, but we still have all the watermelons and candidates you want.

The High Point ball team is a "daisy." They just "wiped up the earth" with the Danville, Va., team Thursday.

Mr. Daniel S Osborn, of Oxford, died yesterday morning from the bursting of a blood vessel. He was 78 years of age.

Dr. W H Wakefield, of Winston, will be in Concord at the St. Cloud on Saturday, August 18th, for one day. Practice limited to eye, ear, nose and throat.

While the fruit crop is a complete failure, there was quite a nice lot of apples on the market. How it was managed to preserve these few, we haven't heard.

The colored baseball team of High Point is to play a team of Concord's, known as the "Heavy Hitters," next Thursday and Friday at the Fair ground.

We counted, at 9 o'clock this morning, ten wagon-loads of watermelons on the street at one time, and they are not all in yet. This is not a good mason day, either.

Rev. C M Payne will conduct the usual services tomorrow at the First Presbyterian church. In the afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, he will preach at Forest Hill M. E. Church.

Orange Page, colored, was hanged at Raleigh Friday. He was hung for the murder of an old colored woman whom he robbed of $12 in money she had secured for her burial expenses.

There will be no services at Central M. E. church tomorrow night, through courtesy to Rev. C M Payne, who preaches his farewell sermon at the evening service at the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. John A Blackwelder is spending a month's vacation at his old home and about. His engagement at China Grove with the Patterson Manufacturing company closed last week. Mr. Frank Patterson has sufficiently recovered to resume his work.

Mr. Ed Lipe had a lively time Friday. Seven of Concord's fair daughters spent the day at his house, but when evening came they started back. The creek had swollen so they could not reach the bridge, and Mr. O D Barringer, who was going home in his buggy met them and brought them all across but one. One gentleman escort brought his lady across safely. How, we don't know.

THE RUSH OF HUMANITY.

People Who Travel as Seen by Our Reporter.

—Mrs. Dr. J P Gibson and daughter, Miss Grace, returned home last night from a few weeks' visit to Atlanta.

—Miss Ella Barnhardt, of Pioneer Mills, who has been visiting at Mr. W S Bingham's, has returned to her home.

—Mr. and Mrs. John P Allison are spending some time at Morehead City.

—Misses Sue and Addie White, of No 1, are visiting in the city.

—Miss Lizzie Bost is visiting at Mr. J W Cannon's.

—Dr. H C Herring has returned from Morganton.

—Mrs. F V Barrier, of Salisbury, is visiting relatives in the city.

—Little Miss Mary Archey has returned from a visit to her grandpa, Capt. Jacob Fisher.

—Mrs. Houston, who was visiting relatives in Concord, has returned to her home in Monroe.

—Miss Nellie Fisher is spending the day in China Grove.

To The Voters of Cabarrus County.

I announce myself a candidate for the office of Treasurer for Cabarrus county, subject to the action of the Democratic Nominating Convention. JNO. A. CLINE. Aug. 1st. tf.

For County Treasurer.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of county Treasurer, subject to the Democratic Nominating Convention. July 30, '94. tf. A. E. LENTZ.

Bicycle For Sale.

Hartford bicycle, '94 model. Same as new, weight 32 pounds. Will sell on installment plan with good security. Call on R. F. Coble or W. A. Wilkinson, Concord, N. C. Aug. 1, '94. tf.

For Sale.

One good Jersey milk cow giving five gallons per day. Call at Lippsard & Barrier's store. tf.

Cow For Sale.

One good Holstein milk cow. A good milker. Apply to W L Robbins, Concord, N. C. Aug. 1 '94. tf.

Be sure to go to the court house Monday night to hear the excellent entertainment by the orphans.

A Georgia newspaper says it is so hot down there that the sun recently warped the hide on a veteran mule to such an extent that his hind feet were lifted fully a foot from the ground.

The Charlotte News has a correspondent who tells what to call the bitter warmakers on Senator Jarvis in order to hide Ransom's faults. It is "Scopankers." It might be better to call them "Bohemians."

For the purpose of ascertaining the sentiment of the people on the subject of a proper candidate for Congress, the Observer proposes to print a card in each issue of its paper and receive votes for each candidate daily. The summation of the votes received will be made up each day and the result will be published. By this means the relative strength of the candidates will be shown as the canvass goes on.

Wanted:

To know when the famous Cabarrus pensioner draws his next pension.

The Orphans Arrived.

The class from Oxford Orphan Asylum arrived today, accompanied by Mr. N M Lawrence, superintendent, and lady teacher, Miss Finlater. They are a bright and lively crowd and we trust the entire town will give them a hearty reception.

They will hold concerts, tonight at Forest Hill and Monday night in the court house.

Several Hours at China Grove.

A Standard reporter spent several hours at China Grove. The place has improved wonderfully in the last year.—An extensive mercantile business is done there.—Dr. Crowell and Mr. W G Patterson were just starting off to see some Mecklenburg ladies.—Mr. Frank Robbins was into work chin deep. We couldn't find Mr. Tom Ross.—There are to be eight weddings there soon.—Dr. Trexler has a good school.—Crops are fine round about.

Wants to be Delivered From Such Leaders.

Mr. A Brady's reply to H L Grant relative to fusion with the Populists, contains some sharp passages. Concerning two recruits, Mr. Brady says: "Their spokesman now is Hon Buck Kitchen, who still pours out his abuse on Republicans as vile as ever, and it looks as if Spier Whitaker would soon join him. May the good Lord deliver me from such men as my political leaders; men who have been kicked out of the Democratic party and yet, we Republicans who have stood so much from such as these two and others of their ilk, who manfully fought the battles for our party, are asked to support these men, to let them ride over us into positions which were out of their reach in the Democratic party.—Charlotte News.

Two Girls' Exciting Experience.

Last Tuesday afternoon Misses Daisy and Lula King, of Kingwood, had a very exciting experience. They were riding in a buggy and reached the ford in Mallard creek between Messrs. James Kirk's and Will Alexander's. The creek was considerably swollen from the heavy rains, and when the deepest water was reached the horse lay down. The water was rising rapidly and the young ladies had to get out in four feet water and try to save themselves and horse. They would never have done so had not two young men gone to their assistance. When they were taken safely to the land the girls were both nearly exhausted and required some time to regain their strength.—Charlotte News.

The Populist Primaries.

The County Committee of the Populists met Friday evening in Concord. The date for the primaries to appoint delegates to the county convention was fixed for Saturday, August 25th. The county convention is one week later.

The object of these primaries and county convention is to set up a ticket for county officers and the Legislature. The primary for No. 12 will be held Friday night, August 24.

This is the worst yet: A Concord girl cleans her white shoes with her face powder.

THE MINISTER'S COLUMN.

The Immortal Debt.

The doctrine of love occupies a prominent position in the writings of St. Paul, nearly or quite as prominent as that of faith. While dealing with it most elaborately in the first letter to the Corinthians, he also more than once brings it into view in the letter to the Romans. One of his concluding exhortations to the Christians in the imperial city was this: "Owe no man anything, but to love one another." All other debts can be paid. But, as Alford says: "This debt increases the more, the more it is paid; because the practice of love makes the principle of love the deeper and more active." Bengel appropriately styles love "that immortal debt."

The reason why the duty of love is so inexhaustible is found in the fact that it involves all other duties: "He that loveth another hath fulfilled the law"—hath already yielded a perfect compliance to the whole moral law as it is summed up and set out in the decalogue. All the specific commandments, such as: "Thou shalt not commit adultery; thou shalt not kill; thou shalt not steal; thou shalt not bear false witness," etc., are really contained in the one great commandment: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." It is easy to see how this can be so. "Love worketh no ill to his neighbor." Neither by theft, nor by false witness, nor by murder, nor in any other conceivable way, will one harm the man whom he loves. The thing is a moral impossibility. Therefore it comes to pass that "love is the fulfilling of the law."

If it had been the apostle's wish he might have broadened his argument very much at this point. Love is not only a negative or restraining influence, but is also a positive force of tremendous strength. It asserts its existence "by doing good of every possible sort, and, as far as possible to all men." It misses no chance to help and bless its objects. It is always on the lookout for an opportunity to render service. It may not have the eyes of Argus nor the hundred hands of Briareus, but it can see and relieve as many cases of want as if it had. It is capable of condescension or of martyrdom. It will gird itself with a towel and wash the disciples' feet, or, with equal willingness, submit to be tied to the stake or nailed upon the cross. Nothing is too hard for love to undertake, too dangerous for love to dare. It does not measure the largest which it bestows upon the world, nor stop to indulge in selfish calculation as to whether it can afford to squander its heart of pity upon thankless men. Like the gentle and grateful Mary, it breaks the costly alabaster box, and lets out the imprisoned perfume to fill the earth with its fragrance.

Yes; love is the immortal debt. We can never fully discharge it. It will always be our duty to love God with all our heart, and soul, and mind, and strength, because he first so loved us that he gave his Son to die for us. It will always be our duty to love our neighbors as ourselves, because they, like us, are purchased with the precious blood of Christ, and made heirs of eternal life. If we walk in the light our ability to pay this debt constantly increases. Nothing grows by exercise like love. The human heart is the most spacious thing in the universe except the heart of God. The more we love, the more we love. And what divine rapture can we experience than to feel the stir and tumult of this seraphic emotion in our bosom?—Nashville Christian Advocate.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

Central Methodist church.—Dr. S. Pool, pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

All Saints Episcopal church.—Rev. J. C. Davis, rector. Morning service at 11 a. m. and 5 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Prayers Wednesday at 4 p. m.

Baptist church.—Rev. J. O. Alderman, pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Prayer meeting every Saturday night at 7.

First Presbyterian church.—Rev. C. M. Payne, D. D., pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m.

Forest Hill church, South.—Rev. M. A. Smith, pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Prayer meeting every Saturday at 7:45 p. m. The public cordially invited.

Bay's Chapel, Methodist Church.—Rev. Thomas W Smith, pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Sunday school at 9:45 p. m.

St. James Lutheran church.—Rev. M. G. G. Scherer, pastor. Services every Lord's Day at 11 o'clock a. m. and 8 p. m. Prayer meeting and lecture Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Reformed church.—Rev. B. Frank Davis, pastor. Sunday school at 3 p. m. Preaching at 4 p. m. Prayer meeting at 8 p. m. on Wednesday evening.

Carnot's Assassin Sentenced.

Lyons, August 3.—At 12:57 o'clock today, Cesario, President Carnot's assassin, was sentenced to death.

As the sentence was pronounced he tottered and with a weak voice said: "Vive social revolution." Then, in a louder voice he shouted, "Courage, comrades; vive anarchie."

In spite of the prisoner's defiant attitude, his habitual smile disappeared from his face when the sentence of death was pronounced.

M. DuBrueil, the prisoner's counsel, gave notice of an appeal, and so in doing asked that the presiding judge's to the jury at the opening of the session, be entered on the records.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Fetter, Chapped Hands, Chiblaina, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale at P. B. Fetzler's Drug store.

The Minister's Association has, for the last three weeks, furnished us most excellent clippings. This we can do; and not being able to write as the membership of this association, we but voice the wishes of our readers when we beg the association to give us some original articles on timely topics. We have been favored heretofore and beg our minister friends to use the pen again for us.

A certain man is too mean to express an opinion. He says it is cheaper to mail it.