Picked Up and Put in Shape By Our Hustling Pencil Pusher

Things are exceedingly quiet around the court house.

The usual Saturday crowds spent the day here.

Mr. Will Goodman's new house on Spring street is being painted.

Fraley will come down four or five days in advance of the Fair to get his horses in trim for the races.

All the prominent racing men of this State and several from adjoining States, will be here for the Fair.

Mr. Elam King has had the piazza torn away from his dwelling and will have another, of a prettier design built.

There are two convicts in the county jail that are afflicted. One, Bill Collins, is blind and Luther Miller, a Cabarrus negro, has chills and malaria.

Arrangements are being made for the Salisbury Dramatic Club to come to Concord during the Fair and present their pleasing comedy, "The Love Chase."

A petition has been sent to Gov. Carr, so we are informed, to release Mr. W J Poythress from the Mecklenburg chain gang. Mr. Poythress is in bad health.

The committee that waited on Evangelist Schoolfield has succeeded in getting him to promise to hold a meeting in Charlotte some time in the near future.

Mr. Will Skinner arrived home from Gaffney, S. C., where he has been doing some work on the buildings contractor Propst is erecting in that place.

Rev. M G G Scherer having returned from his visit to relatives in Catawba, will conduct services in St. James Lutheran church tomorrow at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Mr. Frank L Stanton, of the Atlanta Constitution, will add a fascinating interest to the opening of the Southern Female College, by reading a poem written by him for the occasion.

Dr. D S Harmon, who introduced into this neighborhood that excellent little horse, "Babe," now owned by Mr. Corl, is to be married on the 19th to Miss Neuzeit, of Germany. The ceremony will take place at Goldsboro.

Mr. O A White, of No. 1 township, who has been unwell for some time past, will leave next Wednesday for Columbia, S. C., where he will complete his course in the theological seminary.

Mr. Geo. Barnhardt, the superintendent, has taken the county force to Little Cold Water, on the Mt. Pleasant road. This is the place that was almost impassable all last winter and where horses swamped down. The road will be macadamized.

A citizen from No. 11 township tells of a pitiful sight seen out at Rocky Ridge Friday. While on his way from town home he witnessed a fight between a black snake and a king snake. The black snake was 4 or more feet in length and the king snake about 11 inches. The king snake coiled himself about its antagonist and choked and bit it to death. It is not always the largest and longest that whips.

THE RUSH OF HUMANITY.

People Who Travel as Seen by Our Reporter.

Court convenes in Albemarle Monday.

Cotton seed buyers are prominent among the many street "bums."

Concord is among the best cotton markets in the State.

Mr. George Swink will go to Salisbury this evening in answer to a telegram, to the effect that his mother is quite ill. Mrs. Swink has been sick for some time.

In consequence of the protracted religious meeting in town, the Democratic club will not meet tonight. Delegates to the State Democratic club convention will be appointed by the officers during the coming week.

Rev. Eugene Winecoff and wife, of La Grange, N. C., are at Mr. M M Gillon's, his father-in-law. Mr. Winecoff is a native Cabarrus man, and as pastor of the Presbyterian church in La Grange has made himself very popular and by his earnestness the work has prospered greatly.

Anyone having a 2-gallon fresh milk cow—a kind of a wild geranium with a docile disposition—might be put on to a $15 trade by calling at this office for information.

Jake Wallace, one of Concord's fusionist negroes, who was so long with Cannons & Fetzers as a delivery, has been succeeded by "Doc" Chambers. Jake is with Yorke & Wadsworth and is anxious for the public to know of the change. Jake is very much put out that the daily had slighted him.

About sixty-five bales of cotton were on the market today (Saturday) up to the time we go to press. The crop so far marketed is about 12 days ahead of last year. The number of bales sold from September 1st to 15th this year, weighed at the platform, is 122 against 32 bales last year.

Miss Marshall, so well known as a successful teacher in the graded school here last year, will open a private school in the room adjoining Mr. Edward's school room, on Monday, September 17, at 9 a. m. Persons wishing to enter pupils before her arrival can apply to Mr. L B Edwards. Terms $2 per month. 2t

IT WILL GIVE MANY WORK.

The Carrying Into Effect of the New Tariff Law.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Secretary Carlisle is preparing regulations to carry into effect section 9 of the new tariff law for the manufacture in bonded warehouses of materials imported and manufactured for export. The new law enlarges the class of goods that can be so manufactured in bonded warehouses. Among the more important articles is tobacco. A great impetus has been given, it is said, to the cigar trade by this new provision of the tariff law, and a new field has been opened in Europe for the sale of American cigars from imported tobacco. It also opens a field for labor, and it is estimated that 10,000 people will be given employment in different large American cities.

He Found Out.

Yesterday a quiet, polite Christian gentleman called up a certain business house by telephone. A small boy answered the call, no one else being present. To be sure that he had the right place the gentleman asked—"who is that?"

"Me," came the reply. In his mildest tones the gentleman inquired—"will you be kind enough to tell me who is at the phone?"

"Yes," said the boy; "You and I." Then the gentleman hung up the receiver and abandoned the job.

Miss Boyd Seriously Ill.

Friday night during services at Central Methodist church, Miss Lottie Boyd, one of Concord's most charming and best young ladies, was taken suddenly with a violent spell of hiccoughs. Miss Boyd was conveyed to her home on North Main street and several physicians were called in, and this morning about 10 o'clock they succeeded in stopping the hiccoughs; but paralysis of the throat was the result, and she was at 2:30 o'clock very low, yet there were some signs for the better. This sudden illness was a shock to her many friends, and it is hoped she will recover.

CONVENTION CLOSED.

Some of the Winding-Up Proceedings—It Will Meet in Raleigh During the State Fair.

The Road Convention ended its work yesterday afternoon and all the delegates have returned to their homes. It was the agreement on adjournment that the convention meet again in Raleigh during the progress of the State fair. The closing business was the discussion of various topics relating to roads, one of the best addresses being that of Prof. Alex. Graham on the relation of good roads to school attendance. He put in one of the best arguments for good roads that was made during the convention. Other speakers were W H Snow, S H Hilton and D P Hntchison. The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the road conference urge each county of the State which has not arranged so to do, to use its own convicts at work on the public roads, and to raise by taxation an amount of money sufficient for the maintenance and guarding of these convicts and for the purchase and operation of necessary improved road machinery.

"Resolved further that we urge the counties of the State to have passed such local legislation at the next meeting of our General Assembly as will enable them to keep and work on their public roads all persons sentenced to the penitentiary for terms of less than fifteen years."—Charlotte News.

THEY ARE FIGHTING MAD.

Trouble is Feared When Election Day Comes in Jacksonville.

Jacksonville, Fla. 14.—The rowing bitterness between the two factions of the Democratic party in this (Duval) county leads some people to fear violence and bloodshed on election day, and several prominent citizens have declared their intention of leaving town that day in order not to be mixed up in the contest.

One side threatens "to force a fair election" and the other side charges that this threat is inviting to violence.

Many laugh at the idea of any trouble whatever, but nobody denies that the situation is strained and that a good deal of bad blood has been stirred up already.

The issue between the factions is the question of a state railroad commission with personal matters entering largely into the fight. The election takes place October 2nd.

A Game is Assured.

The "Versity" boys are coming. High Point and North Carolina University baseball teams will come for the Fair, so it is said.

Mr. F L Emery is making arrangements to that effect.

When the news was received, many of the numerous cranks were seen in different parts of the city and all are full of enthusiasm and baseball talk is all that could be heard all the morning.

This series of games will add no little to the many attractions at the Fair.

TILLMAN IS MAD.

He Accuses the News and Courier of Misrepresenting Him.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 4.—Governor Tillman, in speaking of the editorial of the Charleston News and Courier, recently sent out by the Southern Associated Press, which purports to correct some statement emanating from Baltimore in reference to the Darlington dispensary riot, said:

"The News and Courier is taking advantage of its position as agent for the Southern Associated Press to prostitute that association and slander and misrepresent the State administration, and to falsify the facts about the Darlington riot. It has been using its power for four years to misrepresent me. It will then copy the comments of outside papers when they have received their information from such a lying source and supposed they had gotten the truth. The paper can't hurt me at home, and is using its privileges to try and hurt me abroad. It is distorting, perverting and coloring out of all decency and reason what it has to say."

THE MINERAL EXHIBIT.

The Government will have Charge of It at the Atlanta Exposition.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 14.—At the request of the director of the Geological Survey made to the directory of the Cotton States and International Exposition, the mineral and geological display at the exposition will be under the control and direction of the government. This was decided today by a unanimous vote of the directors and the magnificent mining building, which is to be erected, will be under the direct control of Director Wolcott, of the Geological Survey, and Prof. David T Day, chief of the division of mining statistics and penology, who will be the government officer in charge of the exhibit.

It is the intention to make an exhaustive display of the minerals of the country and especially those of the Appalachian region. Under the plan presented there will be secured a more extensive display than has ever been made of the South, and the plan suggested will secure a unity of display which was not attained even at the World's Fair. The fact that the government will be in charge will insure the hearty cooperation of all of the mining interests of the South, and this will be one of the most attractive features of the exposition.

A Convict Dies.

William Miller, a colored convict from Cleveland county, who was tried and convicted by the October term of Cleveland court, and sentenced, and assigned to the Board of Commissioners for Cabarrus county, to two years on the county chain gang, died in jail Friday night after a few weeks sickness with typhoid fever. He was buried at the county burying ground at the home for the poor. Miller was about 20 years old.

Yellow Jack in Mexico.

Washington, September 14.—Surgeon General Wyman, of the marine hospital service, has received word through the State department that yellow fever exists at Sagama, Mexico, in the province of Campeche. Dr. Wyman sent word to the health authorities at Jacksonville, Mobile and New Orleans.
