WHOLE No. 1,340

A BATCH OF LOCAL NEWS.

Picked Up and Put in Shape By Our Hustling Pencil Pusher

It is soon time for the marriage bells to ring.

The Charlotte News' cotton thermometer does not move much.

The Standard hears of several cases of diphtheria in the county.

Democrats, go to the speaking at the court house tonight.

A few watermelons are yet seen here and there.

There were communion services at St. James' Lutheran church on Sunday.

The weather today was tough on the spring hats.

All the candidates are on the move.

Painters are at work on the residence of Dr. Fetzer's.

The infant child of Mr. C. P. Caldwell, of No. 2 township, died Sunday afternoon.

The bleachery is closed down today for the purpose of cleaning up the machinery.

The game law is lifted, if we mistake not, but "nary" possum has exhibited himself, swung by the tail, on our streets this season.

General Rufus Barringer, of Charlotte, who has been spending the summer in Pennsylvania, has returned home.

Despite the rain this Monday, there was a good trade with the merchandants and a good deal of cotton on the market.

Dr. W. H. Wakefield, of Winston, will be in Concord, at the St. Cloud Hotel, on Saturday, October 20th, the practice limited to eye, ear, nose and throat.

A gang of "hobos," not Coxeyites, however, were camped near the depot Sunday night. Many of the camps think the town too small to "hit," thus we are blessed.

George Mills, who was on trial in Raleigh for his life, was convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged November 20. His attorneys took an appeal.

Rev. B. S. McKensie, once rector of the Concord Episcopal church, but now of New York, is in Rowan county among the scenes of his boyhood days.

Mr. C. W. Swink has made a fine start in his stock farm out west of town. He has purchased several fine Jerseys from Mr. Hambley, near Rockwell, Rowan county.

Mrs. J. F. Willeford and family arrived in Concord, Sunday morning from Bryan, Texas. Much sore affliction has visited this family during its short stay in Texas. They are welcomed back to Concord; here where they have numerous friends.

A young man of Winchester, Ky., paid a visit to a young lady with whom he was in love and while getting out of his buggy two suspender buttons on his trousers gave way. To prevent embarrassment a couple of matches were substituted for the treacherous buttons and all went well until he stricken against the back of the chair; the matches became ignited. A combustion was narrowly averted and the young man is not over his fright yet.

THE RUSH OF HUMANITY.

People Who Travel as Seen by Our Reporter.

—Conductor Ed. M. Patterson spent Sunday in the city.

—Miss Lommie Maxwell, of Salisbury, is visiting in the city.

—Mr. E. P. Davis is visiting in Lexington.

—Dr. John C. Montgomery, of Charlotte, spent Sunday in the city with relatives and friends.

—Mr. Will Sapp, once operator at the depot here, but now of Greensboro, was in the city yesterday.

Messrs. J. C. Wadsworth and R. A. Brown drove through to Albemarle Sunday evening.

—Buck Kitchen arrived on the noon train and spoke at the court house at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Frank Robbins, of Forest Hill, who has been quite sick with fever, is improving.

There were no services at Central Methodist church Sunday night, Dr. Pool closing to give his congregation the opportunity of attending the First Presbyterian church to hear Rev. Alexander, who held his first service as pastor on Sunday.

The joint speaking tonight at the court house between Congressman John S. Henderson, Democrat, and Candidate A. C. Shuford, Populist, will be one of the greatest treats our people have had in quite a while. Everybody attend.

Why is it more of a sell out on the part of the Populists than on the part of the Republicans? So far as principle is concerned it is not, for the Republican who votes the Populist ticket has left his own principle just as much as the Pop who votes the Republican ticket. But here is where the difference comes in. The Populist party is young, weak, inexperienced, and lacking in party leaders. The Republican party is old, well established, with the experience of thirty years of power, and abundantly supplied with able leaders. No partnership can exist on terms of equality between two parties so widely different. The weaker must give in to the stronger, and that's the whole of it.—Monroe Journal.

Mrs. J. T. Broadway and Mrs. Samuel Caldwell Die at the Cabarrus Mills.

Mrs. J. T. Broadway died Sunday evening at her home at the Cabarrus Mills. Mrs. Broadway has been for a long time a sufferer, having dropsy, and her life has been despaired of for some time. Mrs. Broadway was a good, Christian woman and patiently awaited her call to a brighter world.

Mrs. Samuel Caldwell, wife of Mr. Samuel Caldwell who recently moved to the Cabarrus Mills from Norwood, Stanly county, died Saturday night, after a lingering illness. Mrs. Caldwell had many friends in the city, and the Standard joins them in extending to the bereaved ones our heartfelt sympathy.

A Collision.

A wagon loaded with hay drawn by two big mules was run into this (Monday) morning on West Depot street by an unloaded wagon. No damage was done, however, except that the young white boy driving the team with the hay was thrown to the ground. His fall was fully twelve feet and on to the macadamized road, yet he escaped unhurt. Reckless drivers should be more careful and try to avoid that which might result in a broken limb or neck.

Notice.

There will be a regular communication of Stokes Lodge No. 32. A. F. & A. M., Monday night October 8th at 7:30 o'clock. By order of W. M. J. L. BOGER, Sec.

Death of a Young Girl.

A young daughter of Mr. George F. Callaway died at the home of her father, on Pine street, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, of diphtheria. She was a young girl entering her teens, and we extend our sympathy to the bereaved ones in the loss of their affectionate child. Her remains were taken to Stanly county for interment.

A Story and a Moral.

When the lamented and beloved Vance was a candidate for Governor, in 1876, he and Judge Fowle were not even on speaking terms, yet that great orator and lover of constitutional liberty stumped the State for Vance, and all the way down from the lofty peaks of the blue ridge to the sandy beach of old ocean his splendid voice was heard in favor of Vance, Democracy and constitutional liberty. Let every Democrat in the State go and do likewise.—Weldon News.

Spotted Skin.

Says the Sampson Democrat: "A new skin having grown upon Mr. Butler, he is now desirous of meeting Mr. Glenn again."

A PILE OF BONDS BURNED.

A California Lady Presents a Claim of $3,000 Against the City of Wilmington.

Mrs. Graham, of California, arrived in Wilmington last Tuesday and was a guest at The Crton until yesterday evening, when she left on the 7 o'clock train for Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Graham has a claim of $3,000 against the city for bonds to that amount which she says were destroyed by fire with the exception of some small pieces and a few coupons, which she brought with her. She is a widow lady and formerly lived in Virginia. Her husband, she says, had $10,000 worth of city of Wilmington bonds that were called in, we think, in 1887 or 1888 and to redeem which a fund was set aside by the city. It is said about 6,000 or 7,000 of the bonds he held were redeemed, but the remainder are yet outstanding.

When she arrived here and called the attention of the city authorities to the matter, they began to look into it and on yesterday afternoon, there was a conference of the board of audit and finance, Mayor S. H. Fishplate, City Attorney P. B. Manning and some of the aldermen, to consider the claim. Mrs. Graham states that her husband is dead and that while he was living he was one day sitting at his desk smoking, and becoming suddenly sick he left his seat hurriedly and knocked the stump of his cigar into the waste basket with the result that it set fire to the papers on his desk and so destroyed the bonds.

A reporter of the Messenger dropped in while the board of audit and finance was in conference but he was asked to retire as they desired to consider the matter in private. They will consider the matter at their next meeting, and if Mrs. Graham will give an indemnifying bond they will make arrangements to satisfy her claim.

We understand that she has a similar claim of $10,000 against the city of Richmond, Va.—Wilmington Messenger.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharia, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykerman, Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottle free at Fetzer's Drug store. Regular size 50 c. and $1.00.

Sunday at the Depot.

At the depot Sunday a crowd of several hundred of Concord's citizens were gathered all the day long—it being a day of rest and restlessness for many—to see the new railroad bridge across Buffalo creek. A large force of hands were at work and not until about 10:30 o'clock at night did the trains get to pass over it. There were four trains at the bridge at one time, three of which were passenger trains. The northbound local passenger and vestibule were on the main line below the bridge and the south bound passenger and a freight train at the station above the bridge. The delay of the northbound passenger and vestibule was of about two hours and forty-five minutes, the others making schedule time.

An Unusual Sight.

A woman, not bad looking, at that, was tried in the Federal Court yesterday afternoon for selling liquor.

She was acquitted, or rather a nol. pros. was entered, for she was charged with selling spiritous liquors and the evidence showed it was lager beer.

The district attorney will send another bill. In the meantime she is in jail. She hails from Durham. She did not seem to mind her surroundings—a lot of blockaders, black and white.—Greensboro Record.

A Democratic Reduction.

Here is something about politics that the good ladies of Surry county can appreciate. Flannel which were sold three months ago at twenty-five cents a yard can now be bought for twenty cents. This is a saving of five cents a yard. The saving on all qualities of flannel is twenty per cent or one fifth. Flannels which heretofore have sold at fifty cents a yard can now be bought at forty cents. In buying ten yards of flannel which has heretofore sold at twenty five cents a yard there is a saving of fifty cents. All this is the result of the new Democratic tariff. In hundreds of other ways the people will save many dollars which have heretofore gone to satisfy the greed of an extravagant Republican government. The Democrats are carrying out their promises and if given time will give this country the best and most economical government it has had for thirty years.—Mt. Airy News.

Jellico Coal.

It is important that you consider the character of coal you buy. An inferior quality is always expensive. The celebrated Jellico coal possesses the highest heating capacity and the smallest proportion of ashes of any coal known, and is conceded to be the most satisfactory on the market. It is offered with the guarantee that it will show the best results. Always reliable. Its reputation is based on its merits. Your orders solicited. K. L. CRAVEN.
