THE GREAT TRIANGLE

COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE PATTIE D. B. ARRINGTON CASE.

Time Unlimited, Expense Unlimited and Four Dollars a Day for Each Corner of the Triangle, While the Clerks Get Five Dollars Per Diem—Phillips Lay Across Two Trunks Disgustingly Drunk Last Night in the Baggage Room of the Yarbrough.

Of all the acts of the late mongrel Legislature the creation of a commission to investigate the case of Mrs. Pattie D B Arrington takes the rag off the bush.

The House appointed a committee of three to take the matter in hand, look into the case and see if she had been mistreated by the lawyers and the courts. This triangular commission is subject only to the Supreme court, and has the right to summon witnesses, call for persons and papers, travel anywhere in the State and have all the assistance needed. The time is not limited at four dollars each per diem, and all expenses paid by the State.

The three corners of this triangle are Campbell (Rep), Bryan (Pop) and Phillips (Pop), of Pitt.

Did the members who voted for these men know who they are? Campbell, Republican, of Cherokee, has become a State character, the mere mention of whose name raises a smile. He is a freak of the first order and takes his anti-prohibition three times a day. Campbell is a vast joke with a stove pipe hat and false teeth.

Rev. Phillips, Populist, of Pitt, is a fine specimen of the genus fusionist. He now said to be of the Seventh Day Adventist, having left the Baptist church (in which he was a minister). Last night he lay across two trunks dead drunk in the baggage room of the Yarbrough House.

Yesterday Phillips went to the office of the State Auditor and drew his pay for the two days this triangular commission has been sitting. Then came his little expense account. He had a valise full of books, which he told the chief clerk was included in the expenses. He had been compelled to buy them, he stated, for the use of the committee, which could not get along without them. In fact the toms in that valise were essential to the well-being and happiness of the members of that committee.

The valise was opened. In it were a few old law books and copies of acts of the former Legislatures—the latter old books that any one might have picked up on the floor of the house.

The valise was ruled "out of order." Bryan, of Chatham, on the stump in the last campaign, did not deny that he had passed spurious coin—a crime under the laws of the United States; he did not deny that he had been guilty of stealing a will, of which crime he was accused by the Chatham Record.

This is the trio that has been selected by the late Fusion Legislature to investigate and make report to the Supreme Court. Yesterday and the day before they spent a greater portion of the time at Mrs.

Arrington's room, getting her specification of the charges and mapping out the line of investigation. They will hold this sessions in the Court House hereafter.

Mr. E P Hanser, a well-known Fusionist in Lenoir county, who hanging about the capital much of the time since the Legislature met, is the clerk to the committee. He gets $5 per day.

Attorney General Osborne yesterday decided that, while no limit to the expense or time, was named in the bill, the committee must finish their work so as to hand in their report by the close of the present term of the Supreme court—about six weeks. The committee, in order to save the expense of mileage in examining many witnesses, will visit Nashville, and probably other places during the investigation.—Raleigh Observer.

"Adam's Apples."

Possibly the largest apple tree in Charlotte is in a yard on North Graham street, the property of the late Sheriff Alexander. On the tree is cut the name "Adam," which suggests that possibly "Adam's apples" grow thereon.—Charlotte Observer

RETURNING PRODIGALS.

The legislature has broke up—left Raleigh town for good; An' some will go to plowin', an' some to splittin' wood; So, ring the bell, conductor! an' people, clear the track! But, makes no difference where they go, Hileman never can go back.

They've broke up house in Raleigh—they've headed now for home—They've done got all the honey out, an' throwed away the comb; So, ring the bell, conductor! just take in all the slack! It makes no difference where they go; Hileman never can go back!

The fields are needin' plowin' the land for labor falls; We're cuttin' close on firewood an' runnin' short on rails; So, ring the bell, conductor! Good people clear the track! It makes no difference where they go, Hileman never can go back!

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began to its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at Fetzer's drug store.

Honorable Ignatius Donnelly

As the victorious champion of the people against the Minnesota Coal Combine, Ignatius Donnelly evinced a robust, practical good sense, rather at variance with the speculative spirit shown in "The Great Cryptogram."

Mr. Donnelly is a man of the most versatile talents; his successes in medical science, at the bar, and in the field of letters, are many and unique. Those familiar with his writings (and who is not?) are always impressed with the readiness with which

He Quotes Authority

To support a proposition. One is thus led to believe that he possesses a remarkably retentive mind. But those who know him say this is a mistaken idea; that his memory is poor, but he is a tireless investigator, and has a well selected library, with reference books of every sort, which enable him to turn at will to any desired information or reference. The work which he values above all others is THE ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA, of which he possesses two sets—one at his residence and one at his office. He knows that his authority is never questioned anywhere, and he is said to have won several cases in court upon evidence taken from Britannica.

In your ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA note the fine articles on Bacon and Shakespeare, and for your own satisfaction, endeavor to trace in the writings of Shakespeare the alleged cipher of Bacon. Such comparisons are enlightening and instructive. If you do not own THE ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA you had better procure it while the low edition is being sold at introductory prices. Address

General Prosperity.

General prosperity is the aggregate of successful individual efforts. It represents energetic business methods and careful and economical management of business enterprise. It is the result of peaceful labor conditions and the thrift and industry of working people. Therefore it is well when the public ceases to look to Congress for relief and returns to vigorous individual efforts. With a return of good times labor troubles will diminish and work and money be more accessible. Trade makes a demand for both, and to stimulate trade every business man should put forth his best efforts. Let us stop this talk of "hard times," cease to depend on business salvation through legislation and proceed to forge ahead, each at his chosen work, and all for the United States of America.—Washington Post.

WEBSTER'S

INTERNATIONAL

DICTIONARY

Successor of the "Unabridged." Standard of the U. S. Gov't Printing Office, the U. S. Supreme Court and of nearly all the Schoolbooks. Warmly commended by every State Superintendent of Schools, and other Educators almost without number.

A College President writes: "The ease with which the eye finds the word sought, for accuracy of definition, for effective methods in indicating pronunciation, for terse yet comprehensive statements of facts, and for practical use as a working dictionary, Webster's International exceeds any other single volume."

The One Great Standard Authority. So writes Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice U. S. Supreme Court.
