DUKE CIGARETTES

Springer Will Take to the Law.
Ex-Congressman Springer has been detained in Washington since the close of Congress on account of the serious illness of his wife, who has an acute attack of the grip. He will go to Chicago as soon as she recovers and look out for a location to begin law practice. The Sangamon Statesman said today that he had received no intimation yet that the President meant to tender him a desirable appointment. Mr. Springer will spend the summer at Mackinaw, Mich., where he has a cottage.

Too Literal.
"Little boys," admonished the good man, "why did you strike your little companion? See how he weeps."

"Cause he hit me first. See?" replied Speckled Mulligan, of the hill.

"Hully gee! I didn't hafter turn de udder cheek, mister. Dot bloke gived me a stinger wid his left duke an' den got in wid his right, an' say, I jes' handed 'im a pair o' fives dat put 'im ter sleep. See?"

Cure For Headache.
As a remedy for all forms of Headache, Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It affects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Large bottles only fifty cents at Fetzer's drug store.

He Grew Longer.
As an inducement to get him to bed early Johnnie was told that he grew while he slept. One morning he awoke with his feet protruding through the spokes at the foot of the bed.

"Mamma," he called, "I slept so hard I grew longer than the bed."

Brighter Times Ahead.
Our people may expect better weather after this equinoctial storm is over. All this bad weather has been a severe hindrance to farm operations and even to ordinary business.

Some people imagine that the unusually bad weather is due to Prof. McNulty's not pulling the reins on it. Now that he has again assumed control, those who have confidence in him, may now rest easy.

A GHASTLY FIND.

The Dead Body of a Negro Baby Found in a Gas Pit.

The Durham Sun of yesterday says: This morning about 7 o'clock two colored children, Claude and Daisy Hester, while on their way to Pinnix prize house, stopped by an old gas pit, in the rear of the Globe Warehouse. The pit was about nine feet deep and contained about two and a half feet of water. In there they discovered the body of a child. This was reported to two colored men and they notified the police headquarters.

For some time there was a hitch as to a coroner, this county being without one. The Clerk of the Court finally appointed Dr. N. M. Johnson, who went out and made an examination. It was a colored child, boy, possibly several weeks old. It was the coroner's opinion that it had breathed, and had been killed by drowning, and might have been in there a week or several weeks as the water was cold enough to preserve it that length of time. There was no clue or evidence whatever as to whose it was or who committed the crime, so an inquest was not held.

Politics Ungrateful.

Lots of people have been wondering, since seeing the list of magistrates, how in the world several of the hardest workers in the campaign, in season and out of season, were left off.

Every one expected to see Mr. William Junker and Chairman Jacob Boger, of the executive committee, appointed. These two, in reality, did much for fusion. Mr. Junker held lots of them by his oratorical appeals and chairman Boger certainly did valiant service, in fact did more for Mr. Hileman's election than any man in the county. It was he that made the colored vote solid for him.

But the unkindest cut of all is the overlooking of the tall politician of No. 7, Mr. Amos Melchor, colored. He was the author of Fusion in Cabarrus. He even stood ridicule in the early part of the campaign from his own race on account of his political relations—but steadfast he stood. And yet he was ignored by Mr. Hileman, into whose bosom he nestled during the campaign.

The Blonds Win.

The ball game Tuesday afternoon was called at the end of the seventh inning, the score standing 11 to 9 in favor of the "Blonds." Not the best of feeling existed between the two nines at the close of the game, and from bad to worse matters grew until it wound up in a general "free for all fight." This, however, did not amount to much as peace was soon restored.

Roy Thornburg, the Victors' catcher, got his left eye plugged with the ball. His face is beautifully tinted in spots with blue, black and red.

Harry Montgomery got one of his fingers hurt, but not seriously.

It is to be regretted that the fracas occurred Tuesday, but we will trust to the old saying that "a bad beginning makes a good ending," and look forward to more pleasing and better games in the near future.

Mr. Ed. Murr returned to Salisbury today.

HAD TO PAY BED TAX.

How a Legislator was Dosed With his Own Medicine.

The "Hotel de Gurley" at Smithfield, N. C., is kept by John G. Gursley. Everybody calls him "Uncle John." He is an original character. The portrayal of such a character would have delighted Dickens. Last week Senator Fowler, of Sampson, on his way home after the adjournment of the Legislature stopped at the Gurley House. When he went to pay his bill and found it was $2 he objected to the amount, saying he willing to pay 50 cents a meal but thought 50 cents for lodging was too much. "Uncle John" said "Look here; ain't you one of them do-rocsters that taxed my beds?" The Senator admitted he was. "Well then," said Uncle John, "I want you to understand you've got to pay enough to cover the tax on one of my beds. The Senator appreciated the joke and good humoredly paid the bill without more ado. —Raleigh Observer.

One Thing and Another.
You seldom get cold facts in a heated argument.

There is a great difference between having to say something and having something to say.

Time flies, and stays for no man. The only man who can beat it is the musician.

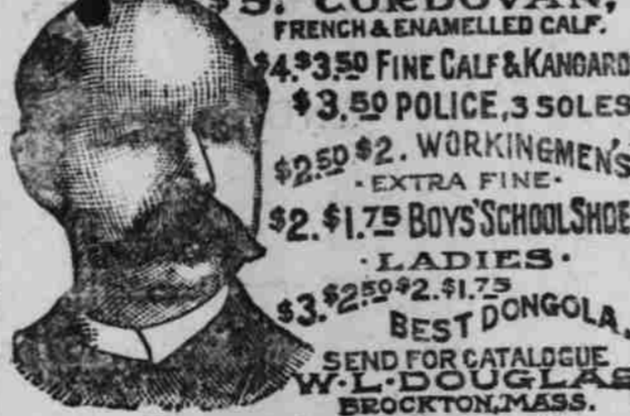

The kick of a cow is not the most acceptable form of a milk punch.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Cailouette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began to its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at Fetzer's drug store.
