Honorable Ignatius Donnelly

As the victorious champion of the people against the Minnesota Coat Combine, Ignatius Donnelly evinced a robust, practical good sense, rather at variance with the speculative spirit shown in "The Great Cryptogram."

Mr. Donnelly is a man of the most versatile talents; his successes in medical science, at the bar, and in the field of letters, are many and unique. Those familiar with his writings (and who is not?) are always impressed with the readiness with which

He Quotes Authority

To support a proposition. One is thus led to believe that he possesses a remarkably retentive mind. But those who know him say this is a mistaken idea; that his memory is poor, but he is a tireless investigator, and has a well selected library, with reference books of every sort, which enable him to turn at volition to any desired information or reference. The work which he values above all others is THE ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA, of which he possesses two sets—one at his residence and one at his office. He knows that its authority is never questioned anywhere, and is said to have won several cases in court upon evidence taken from Britannica.

In your ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA note the fine articles on Bacon and Shakespeare, and for your own satisfaction, endeavor to trace in the writings of Shakespeare the alleged cipher of Bacon. Such comparisons are entertaining and instructive.

If you do not own THE ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA you had better procure it while the new edition is being sold at introductory prices. Address

CLOSING EXERCISES

FRIDAY NIGHT'S EXHIBITION WOUND IT UP.

The Children in Fancy Costumes—In Songs and Verses They Acquitted Themselves Exceedingly Well—Armory Hall Crowded to Overflowing.

Friday afternoon promptly at 4:30 o'clock, the closing exercises of the Concord Graded School began by a grand chorus song of welcome by the school, to one of the two largest audiences ever assembled in Armory Hall.

Every child was prompt and knew his or her part well. There were no blunders, which was a compliment to the efficient corps of instructors and which spoke well of their own studious efforts in learning.

The afternoon exercises were splendidly rendered and the children in their bright costumes and full of enthusiasm did all that could be desired to make the exhibition a decided success. The exercises by the wee bit of children, or primary department of the school was one of the crowning events of the many good features of the afternoon programme.

For the evening exercises everybody, it seems, went early to procure a comfortable seat, but instead of being admitted to the hall the doors were not opened until 7:30, when the large mass of people that had congregated went surging up the stairway, each trying to be first in and the wonder is that no one was run over or even hurt. The hall was packed to overflowing, standing room being at a premium.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the curtain was raised, and the audience was greeted with a chorus song, "Country Fair Glee Song," and when we reflect, were the country, as was the stage, filled with fair ones producing such gleeful songs, man would be more content, women lovelier and children happier.

The pantomime scene, "Nearer My God to Thee," was familiar to many of us, but it being rendered as it was Friday night it was effective and lovely. The flag drill, too, was an attractive production, the old folks as well as the children were highly pleased. "America," the cantata, was beautiful in its rendition, but as yet no new continents have been discovered.

The closing piece, in which the thirteen original States were represented, was faultlessly rendered, every child showing his or her patriotic spirit by wafting a banner or mustering with a gun, sword, or other weapon of defense.

All in all, the day and night programme was carried out in full, and everyone speaks in the highest terms of the days entertainment.

Prof. R L Keesler assisted with the music and Mr. Q E Smith managed the stage.

Two and Three.

A question in Concord: "Johnny Smart: Is there any difference between a duel and a fight?" Old Smart: "Yes, indeed. A duel is between two people. When your mother and I have an argument it's a duel. When your grand-ma sails into the controversy it's a fight."

OSCAR WILDE PRACTICES.

A Criminal Resort Raided by the Indianapolis Police.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19.—A sensation was sprung here today by the arrest of Dewitt D Day, 56 years old well known in the city, and prominently connected with a large business, house on a charge of practicing base crimes. The police, for some time, have been watching a certain block in the heart of the city supposing that a gambling room was in operation there. This morning three officers burst into a room on the upper floor and upon the evidence in sight the arrest was made. The apartment was handsomely furnished and occupied by a colored man. The place, it is now learned, has been frequented by prominent men, who met youth there and indulged in the practices that characterized the Oscar Wilde affair. Day refuses to talk, but the evidence seems convincing against him. Many have told revolting tales of their visits to the place. Other arrests will probably follow.

Mr. Emery Suing for $500.

We get this from the Greensboro Record:

Most of the day yesterday and today was consumed in the hearing by Shaw and Scales, referees, of a case entitled Cook vs. L F Ross.

The matter yesterday in controversy, however, referred to a claim of F L Emery, now of Concord. He went north selected, purchased and placed in Mr. Ross' factory at Mt. Airy a lot of machinery for which work he claims he was never paid in full, some $500 being yet due.

When Ross assigned a year or two ago there were mortgages on this machinery, but Mr. Emery filed a mechanics lien on it, claiming precedence.

Messrs Shaw and Scales were appointed to take evidence and report to the court when the matter will be settled.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

To Recover Her Money.

Clerk of Superior Court James O Gibson is sitting as judge today (Saturday) upon the suit brought by Mrs. Julia Finley, of Wilkes county, against J L Stafford, administrator of I B Teeter, for recovery of money loaned Teeter by plaintiff during Teeter's life time. Lawyer L C Caldwell, of Statesville, appeared for the plaintiff and H S Puryear for defendant. The case has not yet been decided as we go to press.
