Commissioners and salesday.

The board of county commissioners were in session to-day, but up to the time of going to press nothing outside of signing orders and the regular routine business was transacted, except the disposition of the property of the late Dr. Langley, who was some time ago found dead near the railroad bridge on Coddle creek. It consisted of an old shot gun, cooking utensils, blankets, etc. The chain gang matter will doubtless come up to-morrow.

At 12 o'clock Crier James W Long called up a crowd in the front of the court house, and offered for sale at public auction the fair grounds, buildings, etc., which were knocked down to Mr. John C Wadsworth for the consideration of $1,640.

Immediately after the above was sold, the land of Mrs. Elizabeth Platt, lying on Cold Water creek in No. 11 township, consisting of 90 acres, more or less, was sold, bringing $910. It is said by nearly every one who knows the tract that the price was a good one—far beyond any expectation. This property was bid in by Mr. B F Rogers, for Mr. C E Barringer.

Concert Thursday Night.

A concert will be given next Thursday night at the Armory which will deserve the patronage of a full house, having been inaugurated for a most worthy cause by the choir of the First Presbyterian church. The latest music, fresh and sparkling in solo, duet, trio and quartette will be rendered by the best local talent and Mr. D F Summey will add the attraction of some of his finest selections. Presbyterians are especially interested in this effort and it is hoped the citizens generally will so appreciate this opportunity of hearing good music as to be present to enjoy it. Remember the time and place—Thursday night, at Armory.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G Caillouette, druggist, Berrersville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial bottle at Fetzer's Drug store.

STUMBLED OVER HER LOVER

The Mysterious Killing of a Young Boy in Kentucky.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 2.—Miss Alma Crouch, the 17-year-old daughter of Wm. O Crouch, a prominent Bourbon county farmer, was walking in her father's orchard last evening when she struck her feet against the body of a dead man lying in the high weeds, and fell over it. She was struck with horror when she recognized the face of her lover, Dock Ellington.

A few days ago Ellington had trouble with her father, who ordered him off the premises. They met again next day when Ellington was talking to Miss Alma. The girls father attempted violence to the boy, and the latter drew his pistol and fired at the old gentleman, the bullet striking him in the leg. He was put to bed, and is thought not to have been out of his room since. The body of the young man showed that life had been extinct some time. His eyes were blown out, the killing having been done with a double-barrelled shotgun. Fully forty shot had lodged in his face and head. There was no gun near thus disposing of the theory of suicide.

The sheriff of Bourbon county visited the scene, but no arrests have been made. Crouch is in bed, and his family say he has not moved from his room since the shooting a few days ago. Miss Alma will not talk. She fainted, after a series of screams, from fright, and was picked up by farm hands.

A Card of Thanks.

I desire to publicly thank my friends who have so generously remembered me with their means, as well as their sympathy and help in my recent misfortune.

JACKSON SAFRIT.

Believes in Co-Education.

Prof. C L T Fisher, principal of Mont Amœna Seminary at Mt. Pleasant, has, by his own energy and ability, built up a flourishing and successful school for young ladies, but not until recently has it been known that he was in favor of co-education. At least, he has recently enrolled in the seminary a bright, young gentleman. This, however, may only be an experiment.

A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

A Conflagration in the Wee Sma' Hours in Which $1,000 Worth of Property Was Consumed, Including a Barn, Five Head of Horses, Harness, Etc.,—origin supposed to be incendiary.

At exactly twenty minutes to 2 o'clock this (Monday) morning an alarm of fire was resounded throughout the city. It was the burning of the barn of Coroner J P Hornbuckle, who lives at Cannonville, on Pine street.

The loss to Mr. Hornbuckle is estimated at $1,000. The barn was a large one, and was filled with corn and provender, all of which was consumed, besides five head of horses being burned to death, and a mule, which broke out of the stall, is so badly burned that it will die, it is thought. His cattle and hogs were saved, having been in the shed, and were not locked in as were the other animals.

The origin of the fire is supposed to have been incendiary, owing to the lateness of the hour and circumstances. It originated in the east corner of the barn, near by which run a pathway for private use which was very muddy and wet, and would not have caught from a cigar or spark.

To the alarm hundreds of people responded, as did both the fire companies, but too late to save anything except buildings near by. The fire was altogether out of reach of the hose and reel company. The colored fire company did some excellent work in tearing down the burning building in order to save others, and deserve great credit for their faithful, hard work.

There was no insurance, and the fire was an entire and severe loss to Mr. Hornbuckle.

Wilson Bond Dead.

News reached the city Sunday morning of the death of Mr. Wilson Bond, an aged citizen of the county, living on Mr. Frank Pharr's plantation, in No. 11 township. Deceased had been sick for several weeks, of typhoid pneumonia, of which he died Saturday night. He leaves a wife and several children. His funeral was preached to-day (Monday) at Rocky Ridge, by Rev. W H L McLaurin.

An Object Lesson.

Charlotte Observer: Clarence Kraus, the little cripple who sits in his chair on the different corners of the square and sells pencils and almanacs, has made money enough to buy him a peanut reaster and has established himself on Jordan's corner. He will also have a portable fruit wagon. In his thrift and industry this crippled boy has set an example to many who have use of hands and limbs and yet who do nothing.

How is This for High.

Extremes always meets; this time it will be double so. A marriage license is soon to be issued to two residents of Raleigh whose extreme ages and weight is something remarkable. The lady who is the bride to be is 24 years of age and tips the scales at 310 avoirdupois. The groom to be is 60 years of age and registers on a good pair of scales 100 pounds at the most. This couple can stand up against the world without a paralld, says the Visitor.

FOR CONTEMPT.

His Honor Sent Them to Jail, (But His Highness, Sheriff Sims, Would Not Confine Them.

No. 9 township is becoming famous for interesting trials of late, especially since the magisterial administration of the last Legislature is in vogue. The latest development concerns Mr. John W Widenhouse, two of his sons and another young man of that township who were recently tried before his honor W H Smith, and were charged with contempt of court, for which each defendant was fined $2 and costs. This the men refused to pay, which very much displeased the fusionist judge, who on Saturday last issued commitment papers and sent the Messrs Widenhouse and the other young man to the county jail, but upon advice, Sheriff Sims refused to commit them and sent them back home.

The defendants will sue Magistrate Smith for false arrest.

The case is becoming quite interesting.

Off to Be Married.

Forest Hill furnished a topic for general conversation Sunday when it was larned that on Saturday night Mr. Crawford Lyerly and Miss Annie Williams ran away to get married. It was not positively known whither they went, but they returned to the city this morning from Statesville, as man and wife, having been married at that place Sunday.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Dots from Cannonville.

Mr. Horace Barrier left this morning for Atlanta to take in the Exposition.

Mr. H Rowe, our cotton weigher, who has been confined to his room for sometime with an attack of fever is able to be up again.

Mr. Wm. Black and wife left Saturday evening for Durham to be gone one week, visiting relatives.

Mrs. J D Bacon, who has been visiting in Burlington, is expected home soon.

Mr. R L Duval leaves soon for Atlanta, on the usual business.

Families are coming in nearly every day and occupying the new houses, recently erected.

The protracted meeting at Bays' Chapel which has been in progress for more than a week closed last night.

The street preacher preached to a crowd Sunday afternoon in front of the old mill.

The work on the new mill is being pushed right along by Messrs Brown and Caldwell; some machinery is being placed. It is thought the mill will be running by December 15th.

We will stop so as not to overdo ourselves, and will try to give items as we see and hear them from now on.
