CONGRATULATIONS, BRODIE!

A Satisfactory Arrangement Made With Creditors—A Deed Filed.
Durham Sun: It will give the numerous friends of Brodie L. Duke great pleasure, we have no doubt, to know that he has effected satisfactory arrangements with his creditors, whereby it is hoped that he will be enabled to get on his feet again.

The substance of the arrangement is that Mr. Duke borrows $125,000 in cash of W. Duke, George W. Watts and B. N. Duke. This amount, together with available stocks on hand will make about $175,000, which it is thought will liquidate his former indebtedness and thus consolidate what he owes.

A deed of mortgage from B. L. Duke and wife to J. E. Stagg, Trustee, was filed in the Register's office of Durham county to day for $125,000. We are informed that no composition with creditors was effected; each being settled with upon the best terms possible.

The sum of $125,000 is payable at intervals of six months until paid, making two and a half years in its payment. Mr. Duke is active and popular and we feel sure that a way is now opened up for success in his business, and we hope it will come speedily.

Death of Charles Hampton.

News was brought to the city Saturday morning of the death Friday night, at his home in the Hopewell section of Mecklenburg county, of Mr. Chas. Hampton. He had been sick about one week, though very few of his friends knew of his serious condition, and the news of his death will be a great shock to them. It was only a few days ago that the News announced that Mr. Hampton and Miss Gamble, a niece of Judge McCorkle were to be married on December 11th, and Mr. Hampton had been putting his house near Huntersville, in shape for the expected reception of his bride.

The deceased was the eldest son of the late Mrs. Cynthia Hampton, and a brother to Mrs. Abner Alexander, of Mecklenburg, and to Mrs. R. S. Harris, of Concord. His mother died last year and willed him the Hampton farm and home place in this county. He was one of the most popular citizens in Mecklenburg. He was a very quiet disposition, and his character was beyond reproach. He had always led a christian life. Mr. Hampton was held in high esteem by all who knew him, particularly by his neighbors, who knew him best.—Charlotte News.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says that it saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Trial bottles at Fetzer's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

COL. JAMES W. LONG DEAD

The Old Legislator, Auctioneer and Peddler Passes Away Peacefully at His Humble Cottage.

THE STANDARD could simply announce the death of Col. James W. Long, in Saturday's issue, as the sad event occurred just at the hour of going to press.

Saturday 16th the Colonel paid his town tax—Saturday the 23rd he was called upon to settle another account. He took sick with pneumonia on the 16th and gradually sank until death claimed him last Saturday.

In 1884 his wife died, leaving him alone, there being no issue. In 1888, Cabarrus county called him from his humble and obscure home in rear of the county jail and sent him to the State Legislature for one term.

At nearly every auction sale of land, the Colonel's voice rang out musically from the court house steps. There are few houses in Cabarrus county that he has not visited, selling knife polish and stuff to sharpen razors. He was well known being a familiar figure on the streets of Concord; and up to its death where the Colonel was his little fice dog was sure to be.

There was never but one Col. Jim Long; there never will be another. At his death he was aged 73 years, 1 month and 28 days.

The funeral services were conducted at his late residence, Sunday afternoon, by Rev. W. C. Alexander, who delivered an interesting and thoughtful discourse to quite a large gathering of people.

The interment took place in the cemetery at the old Lutheran church. The pall bearers were Messrs B. F. Rogers, R. E. Gibson, G. T. Crowell, Jas. C. Gibson, Frank L. Smith and J. F. Goodson.

AN OBITUARY BY A FRIEND.

Died on the 23'd of November 1895 of pneumonia at his home in Concord N. C. James W. Long in the seventy-fourth year of his age.

The Colonel is dead! His droll stories and merry jests are hushed; his vivid imagination is stilled forever! His faults were venial; his virtues genuine. His heart was tender and he wrought wilful injury to no man. During his latter years especially, in his humble and unlettered way he struggled dimly, haltingly, pathetically towards the Infinite and a better life. He stretched out his hands, seeking yearningly for the light of the life to come, and who shall say that the Master did not reach down pityingly and touch them?

May the earth rest lightly on the old man's body, and may the eye of the Omnipotent fall tenderly on his trembling soul when it enters the shining presence of the Great White Throne!

The Fair Grounds Sold.

The twenty days haying expired without an increase of Mr. J. C. Wadsworth's bid, the Fair Grounds become his, at a little less than $1,700. It is the cheapest property sold in Concord for years.

Mr. Wadsworth has already sold a building lot from it to Mr. Chas. A. Dry, who will at once begin the erection of a house.

A White Man Lynched in Georgia.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 23.—A special to the Morning News from Mount Vernon, county seat of Montgomery county, Ga., says that L. W. Perdue was this morning taken from jail by a mob, carried to the woods where his throat was cut from ear to ear and his body riddled with bullets. At a late hour tonight, his body was still lying in the woods. The victim of the mob's rage was about 51 years old, a school teacher, a graduate of Yale college and until his arrest about six weeks ago, was regarded as a highly respected citizen. He was a married man and leaves a wife, two sons and two daughters.

About six weeks ago he was arrested on a warrant sworn out by a Mr. Grady, whose daughter, Miss Mattie Grady, it was alleged, he had ruined. The girl was his pupil and assistant in the school. The alleged crime was committed nearly two years ago. The child of the girl, it is said, died nearly a year ago. The girl made the charge against Perdue only about six weeks ago and Perdue had been in jail awaiting trial. He was indicted last week.
