HE HAS KEPT HIS PROMISES—OUR DUTIES.

Bachelor Paul, the apostle, tells us to give thanks "always in all things"—that is under all possible conditions. There is no condition in which we can be placed which will not yield some special cause for thanksgiving to Him, who governs, gives and protects, if we will only look at it in the right light.

Tomorrow is, by proclamation of the Chief Magistrate of these United States and concurred in by the Chief Magistrate of this Commonwealth, the annual Thanksgiving.

The origin of Thanksgiving is clouded in doubts. The most commonly accepted belief as to its origin, places the beginning with the Puritans. An occasion suggesting a common, special day for Thanksgiving, is told of in the records of events in years prior to the Puritan occasion. This was in England.

But origin has nothing to do with it in the present. It is enough for us that two rulers have proclaimed.

What you going to do about it? Grover Cleveland named the 28th and it is interesting to remember that Gov. Carr gave his public endorsement to it—as a day on which all should cease from labors and give special thanks for God's great goodness and numerous mercies to us sinners. But Paul said give thanks "always in all things."

It's a mighty mean and good-for-nothing fellow, that can't itemize the account and find something in which he can rejoice and for which he ought to be thankful. If you can think of nothing else to be thankful for, at least you can thank God while eating your turkey that you are not in Turkey, being gobbled up by the Turks.

Thankful—yes, thankful you are alive—thankful for the absence of starvation, for the presence of acquaintances, for friends, for sight, for strength, for appetites, for the free balloon ascension next Monday.

Every living person, be his condition what it may, whether free, rich or poor, with a big dinner, on the chain gang and without a turkey, or in the penitentiary, has something to be thankful for. Paul said give thanks "always in all things."

Paul practiced what he preached. If Paul could sing praises to God while he was confined to the inner dungeon of the Roman prison at Philippi, with his feet fast in the stocks and his back bleeding from the Roman scourge, surely we who are not in prison can find something to be thankful for; and those of us who are in prison and treated better than Paul, even have that much to be thankful for.

The great bulk of us can be thankful that we are not charges on the county, in the State's custody, or members of the Legislature—this is much to be thankful for.

A thankful spirit is the only ground work on which a joyous or healthy character can be built up. Honesty toward God is the beginning of true goodness and we are not honest toward God if we fail to recognize His watchful kindness to us, and to pay our constantly increasing debt to Him in the only currency which is available for the purpose

The fretful, complaining soul is not happy and does not make others happy. But happy are those who think continually of God's love and who look upon all the dealings of His Providence with them as means by which He is training and fitting them to be His children and friends.

Thanksgiving day has lost much of its force and virtue in the course of time. It is very little observed in the North. Here in the South, it is observed by many, but by many others it has been converted into a general holiday of mixed and varied worldly pleasures.

Some preach, pray and attend service; some hunt, cavort and loaf about. It is a day of liberty and, if there is anything the American people dote on, it is their liberty.

The finite mind can not conceive of a condition on earth so low, so awful, so trying, as not to see bordering the cloud a single silver lining of hope, of peace, of blessing. God's eternal promise of returning seasons and harvest times is faithfully fulfilled.

"Ask and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full." There can be no failure unless the man or the woman voluntarily surrenders to the evil, and so forfeits the benefit.

Let us remember the orphans, the helpless, the widow. Go down in your pocket or your storehouses and fetch out your appreciation of God's goodness to you, that the poor, the needy, the orphans may rejoice and live with you.

The way a man gives, according to the way he has been blest, measures how thankful he is to God.

"Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of GodWe know that when He shall appear we shall be like Him."

Is it not unreasonable and childish to fret over the thorns and the rocks that abound in the path by which alone our Father is able to lead us to so glorious a condition?

Let us all give thanks—and may the good Lord continue His goodness and mercy.

Prayer Meeting Tonight.

Usual prayer meeting services will be held in the several churches tonight, and everybody is earnestly invited to attend. At Central Methodist, owing to the absence of the pastor, the Epworth League will conduct the prayer and praise service at 7:30 o'clock, instead of at 7.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says that it saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 189 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Trial bottles at Fetzer's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

Jerked Nearly in Two.

A small white girl in the west end of the city was leading a cow to pasture in Buffalo creek bottoms this (Wednesday) morning, and came near being jerked in two. A rope was attached to the cow and at the other end was a loop, which was around the little girl's hand. The cow became ferocious, made a plunge to one side and dragged the child some little distance down the macadamized road, bruising and scratching her terribly. She will live.

Church To-Morrow.

Rev. Scherer preaches in the First Presbyterian church at 11, and Rev. Alexander in St. James Lutheran at 7. The collection at the former service will be for the Barium Springs Orphanage, the collection at the latter service will be for a mission in Wilmington. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Services at 8 in the Baptist church; collection for the Thomasville orphanage.

Services at 11 o'clock in All Saints church; collection for the Thompson orphanage.

Notes from the Organ.

There will be Xmas exercises at Organ church on Christmas day, consisting of dialogues, recitations, music, and an address by the beloved pastor, Rev. G. H. Cox. Subject: "Our Orphan Home." There will also be gifts for the children of the Sunday school. And to teach the children the important lesson, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." A special collection will be taken for the Orphan Home. The Sunday school at Organ never uses the children's offerings, or penny collections, for literature to run the school, but have it on hand, subject to the order of the children, it is quite likely they will order it sent to the Orphanage.

Mr. Whit Powlas, one of our enterprising young men has about completed arrangements to move to China Grove where he will engage in the mercantile business.

Mr. Lewis Bonds, who has been afflicted for several years with a cancer in his nose, is in quite a critical condition.

Mr. Allison Bost, formerly of this section, later of Concord, but now of Salisbury, is dangerously ill at his home in Salisbury. WHIT.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. mwj&w 23'95

A Woman With Him.

Deputy Sheriff Hill returned from Charlotte Tuesday night with Minnie Culp, a negro woman violator, who had been in hiding over there for some time. The man that he went for gave him the dodge, but he wouldn't come back empty handed, therefore he brought a woman with him.
