CONCORD, DEC. 6, 1895.

Negro Republicans of the District Columbia want a negro chaplain in the National House of Representatives. At a largely attended meeting Friday night they endorsed Walter H. Brooks, colored, for the post. He received two votes. The Washington correspondent of the States Journal says:

It is worthy of several lines that the thousands of faces that look on the animated scene in the hall congress this morning not one black. When Crisp was inaugurated the immense public gallery facing the speaker's chair was packed with colored people. Today the negro's friend for the election, decided to have a negro admitted to the house and they had to content themselves with strolling aimlessly through the corridors."

What a difference! In North Carolina our friend Butler would have his negro friends vote for him at any cost, but since his residence in Washington, he would not consent by vote for a negro to pray for him.

The New York Sun, in its comments upon the President's message, says: "If Mr. Cleveland lives up to the words and the spirit of his present declaration, not only with regard to Venezuela, but in every case where the principle is involved, his Administration will become truly and illustriously American in the last few months of its existence." Not only in matters pertaining to foreign affairs, but in every matter concerning the welfare of America it will be proven that the President has and will continue to figure illustriously, showing great wisdom and practical forethought of an American.

The following recommendation in the message shows that the President is in favor of the enlarged use of silver whenever it can be safely undertaken:

"I do not overlook the fact that the cancellation of the treasury notes under the silver purchasing act of 1890, would leave the treasury in actual ownership of sufficient silver, including seigniorage, to coin nearly $178,000,000 in standard dollars. It is worthy of consideration whether this might not, from time to time, be converted into dollars or fractional coin and slowly put into circulation, as in the judgment of the secretary of the treasury the necessities of the country should require."

The Charleston Democrat announced in its issue two weeks ago that the produce was scarce, and an old subscriber at once drove to town with a huge box filled with every thing raised on a farm, from eggs to turkeys. Such announcements are liable to become a newspaper epidemic.—Charlotte News.

[It would be untruthful for a North Carolina newspaper to make such an announcement this year. Proofs to the contrary, however, would occur only in Charleston.]

That the Lord's Supper ought to be a real meal and not a sham supper of crumbs of bread and drops of wine, was the radical proposition put before his congregation by the Rev. I. M. Gibson, of Plattsburg, Mo., a few days ago. And it is stated that many of the congregation are heartily in favor of the innovation, which is almost as absurd as the Populistic policies of the last campaign.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The Baptist State Mission Board applies to the State Convention for $20,000 to carry on it's year's work. It also conducts Sunday school work. There are 1,300 Sunday schools of this church in North Carolina, with about 100,000 pupils. These contribute about $25,000 annually.

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as a Ideal Panacea for Coughs, Colds and Lung Complaints, having used it, in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physician's prescriptions or other preparations."

Rev. John Burgus, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a Minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 50 years or more, and have never found anything so beneficial, or that gave me such speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this Ideal Cough Remedy now. Trial Bottles Free at Fetzer's Drug Store.

Auction Sale of Horses and Mules.

I will sell at public auction, at Brown Bros. Stable, Saturday, December 7th, 1895, at 11 a. m., one car load of Kentucky horses and mules. This stock is just from the blue grass country of Kentucky, and among the load are some fine drivers and saddlers. Also some heavy work horses and mules. This stock will positively be sold regardless of cost, rain or shine.

Stock must be as represented, or money refunded. No by-bidding. You will find the stock at Brown Bros. Stable, on December 6th. Call and inspect them.

Respectfully,
d6w1 R. A. DODD.

A SPECIFIC
—FOR—
La Grippe, for Colds, Coughs,
AND LUNG TROUBLES,
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Two years ago, I had the grippe, and it left me with a cough which gave me no rest night or day. My family physician prescribed for me, changing the medicine as often as he found the things I had taken were not helping me, but, in spite of his attendance, I got no better. Finally, my husband,—reading one day of a gentleman who had had the grippe and was cured by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,—procured, for me, a bottle of this medicine, and before I had taken half of it, I was cured. I have used the Pectoral for my children and in my family, whenever we have needed it, and have found it a specific for colds, coughs, and lung troubles."—EMILY WOOD, North St., Elkton, Md.
