Gone to Get a Mill.

Mr. W M Widenhouse, of No. 9 township, passed through the city this morning on his way to Charlotte, where he has gone to purchase a mill to be put down at the Widenhouse gold mine in that township. He carried with him a lump of gold weighing several hundred pennyweights. The ore turned out at this mine is worth $30 per ton. He will operate the mine on a small scale regularly, and will sink the third shaft after the first of the year.

On to be Married.

Mr. John N Barringer, accompanied by Wm. N Misenheimer, left Monday night for Barium Springs, where Mr. Barringer was married today (Tuesday) at 2 o'clock to Miss Lelia Dayvault, sister of the Messrs Dayvault of this city. Immediately after the happy nuptials, Mr. and Mrs. Barringer left for Washington City to spend a week. It is very likely that the happy couple will reside in Charlotte when they return.

To the couple we extend our heartiest congratulations and best wishes.

The Franklin County Assassination.

Mr. J T Harris, of Franklin county, is in the city. He tells us that his son who was shot a week ago last Thursday night, is improving and the doctors think he will recover. The details of the attempted assassination, some accounts of which have already been published in this paper, as given by Mr. Harris show it to have been a crime of a kind happily rare in North Carolina. "Nobody was in the room," said Mr. Harris, "except my wife and two sons. It was a very dark night and it had been snowing nearly all day. My wife, whose seat was in direct range of the window, got up to go in the other room. I think the assassin must have waited for her to move before shooting. The first thing I heard was the crack of the window pane. It sounded like an explosion in the house. My son James, who was shot, rose from his chair and ran to his mother saying: "What is it?" She saw the blood on his left jaw and neck and said: "You are shot my son." We laid him down, and then heard another shot, which had been fired into the opposite room of the house, the shot breaking a large mirror on a bureau and a picture of "The Last Supper." Nobody except some little children were in that room and nobody was hurt."

Upon being asked whether he had any suspicion as to who had committed the deed, Mr. Harris said he believed the shot was fired by P D O'Bryant. "My son had had a difficulty on the 8th day of last March growing out of some slanderous remarks that O'Bryant had made about a lady. It was settled, but O'Bryant never forgave them. My sons never intended to have anything to do with him again. O'Bryant had been heard to say that he was going to kill James Harris, but this evidence could not be used, and O'Bryant was discharged for want of evidence."

"The people of Franklin are indignant and there is much excitement growing out of this stealthy crime. A purse has been made up to secure the capture of the assassin." —Raleigh Observer.

G. W PATTERSON, Treas.

Children, Listen.

Mr. James Loman who attends to the dynamo, says for the little children of the city to listen for his whistle tomorrow morning and when they have heard it for quite a long time, it will be a signal for them to arise and see what Santa Clause has brought them.

The Seaboard Withdraws.

Monroe, N. C., Dec. 20.—The sixty days notice required for withdrawal from the Southern States Freight Association was served upon that organization today by the Seaboard Air Line in a letter to Commissioner Heines stating plainly the reasons for withdrawing.

It's Paying Well.

We neglected to state one fact yesterday in the conversation with Mr. Grissom about the Advocate and the Eastern Conference.

Mr. Grissom tells us that this year has been the most prosperous in the history of the paper, compared with what Dr. Reid told him had been the business under his management in Raleigh.

Mr. Grissom is aware that efforts are being made to start another paper in the east, but says the Advocate will stay in Greensboro.

Reaction in the Markets.

Boston, Dec. 23.—There is reaction in the Stock Market. It is believed that the worst is over.

New York, Dec. 12.—The Stock Market shows a general improvement, there being an advance of one to six points. Railroads in the interior are particularly strong. The industrial market shared in the rise subsequently reacting slightly. The general dullish tendency is attributed to the fact that Congress decided not to adjourn for the holidays without taking steps to aid the Treasury.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 23.—The Stock Market opened higher all around.

LONDON, Dec. 23.—This afternoon there is less excitement on the Stock Exchange. The market, however, is unsettled. There is a disposition to make a more hopeful view of Venezuela, but there are grave apprehensions regarding the financial outlook in the United States. Liverpool, Manchester and Glasgow showed a distinct improvement.
