SEE THE DRIFT.

The Caucasian of the 6th in a leading editorial has the following: "The Democratic State executive committee has passed resolutions which bear the appearance of willingness to be fair and reasonable. The real purpose is to try to make a proposition which no self-respecting Populist could entertain for a moment, and then when such proposition is indignantly rejected, to go before the people and try to make it appear that the Populists are not honest because they rejected overtures looking to co-operation. There is not a Democrat in the universe smart enough to catch the ordinary North Carolina Populist in such a trap as this, and they are hereby formally notified of that fact."

The same paper says further:

"Chairman Jones is a strong representative of the worst type of Bourbon Democracy and would rather vote for Cleveland today and 'thick' with Whitney, Hill and Brice, than support Bryan or any genuine reform Democrat. Jones is supposed to be a mouthpiece of Bryan. If Jones is expressing the sentiments of Bryan, then the latter is proving to be a man unfit for the presidential chair. If this young statesman's head is becoming swelled on account of honors that have been accorded him, he should be promptly reminded that the same forces which caused that swelling can do that which will unswell it, and that very little provocation is needed for doing it. He is by no means the only man in America whom genuine reformers are willing to vote for."

Ye Democrats that would catch at the bewitching idea of capturing the Populists by a little Republican fusion game after the Republicans have gotten the first smack from Miss Populism, don't you think you discern the coquet that would better be let alone. See what a flaw in the ring that seals the bond of Populism to Mr. Bryan. Watch Mr. Butler (he seems to personate Populism in North Carolina) and see if he does not lift his heel against Mr. Bryan before the 3rd of November. Put your thumb on Mr. Butler, if you please, and look and see if he is there.

Solemn Exercises Interrupted.

"They tell a good story of General John C. Black, formerly commissioner of pensions, out in Danville, Ill., where he lives," said A. D. Mallock of Springfield. "General Black is a very eloquent speaker and has few equals before a jury. Judge Emerson, of Decatur, while not possessed of a national reputation, as is General Black, is famous as an orator in Illinois. They were on opposite sides of a lawsuit recently. There were many pathetic circumstances connected with the case, and in his opening speech to the jury, General Black made the most of these. A solemn hush fell over the courtroom, and tears were seen to stand in the eyes of the more impressive jurymen. It looked as if a verdict would be rendered for General Black's client without much delay, when Judge Emerson arose and in slow, measured tones said, 'Gentlemen of the jury, let us continue these solemn exercises by singing the one hundred and fifteenth psalm.' The tears were followed by laughter, and the judge won the case."—Washington Star.

A Lady Mill President.

One of the model mill plants in the South is the Whittier Mills, in the suburbs of Atlanta, on the Chattahoochee river. It is one of the recent plants built by Northern capitalists in the South. The head of the company is a lady, Miss Whittier. She has been associated with cotton manufacturing for a number of years, and it is stated she is an expert in this industry. The mill, which was referred to in the Manufacturer's Record at the time of its construction, contains 10,000 spindles, and it is understood that the owners contemplate doubling its capacity in a short time. It is equipped with the most modern machinery. Comfortable cottages have been built for the operators, with terraced yards and attractive surroundings.—Manufacturer's Record.

After....

Taking

a course of Ayer's Pills the system is set in good working order and a man begins to feel that life is worth living. He who has become the gradual prey of constipation, does not realize the friction under which he labors, until the burden is lifted from him. Then his mountains sink into mole-hills, his moroseness gives place to jollity, he is a happy man again. If life does not seem worth living to you, you may take a very different view of it after taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
