A Good Haul.

Some unknown thief recently succeeded in getting $220 from the safes of Register of Deeds and Superior Court Clerk of Statesville, $160 from the Register's safe, belonging to Treasurer Wright and $60 from the Clerk's safe belonging to Mr. J. W. Gray.

The theft may have been committed in the day. If so the thief had a duplicate key, and if done at night he must have had the combination and a key. The thief is evidently well acquainted with the surroundings and therefore is the more dangerous. No clew seems to be laid against the guilty person. Great vigilance is needed to down a rising tendency line by robbery. We thought the whole tribe kept near Mr. Bryan's train.

The Morgan & Wright Guarantee

The guarantee of the "good tires" is broad enough to cover almost any kind of ailments and to satisfy the most exacting rider, but the line must be drawn somewhere, and Morgan & Wright are trying to make it known to riders everywhere that the guarantee does not cover damages resulting from the carrying of anti-leak preparations inside the tire. By having as much air as possible in the M. & W. quick-repair tire before putting the tool into the puncture, and following the few other simple instructions in the catalogue, a permanent repair can be made in two minutes, at the roadside, without removing the tire from the rim.

Outlaw Died Game.

RALEIGH, N. C., October 6.—The official report of the killing of Barnum Jones, outlaw, murderer and moonshiner, has been received by Revenue Collector Simmons.

Jones was killed in Bladen county by a posse of six. The chief of police of Florence, S. C., and Deputy Sheriff Parish, of Robertson county, North Carolina, crept up to within seventeen yards of him intending to capture him. He was several yards from his shotgun when he discovered the officers, but sprang to it and shot them both.

Then he ran, and loading as he went, fired again.

The posse fired at him and four bullets struck him. He fell, but reloaded and rose and fired, but missed.

Then he was shot and fell, but as he went down fired both barrels at the posse again. The third volley killed him, one bullet piercing his brain, another the heart and the third his abdomen.

The verdict at the inquest at Lumberton is that the killing of Jones was justifiable. There is some doubt that Jones murdered men in Alabama and Texas. He had twice recently made attempts to kill people in Bladen.

Revenue officers had run after him for four years.

An Old Soldier's Patriotic Words.

An old soldier of the Federal army, living in Washington, a Mr. Bartlett, makes an appeal to his old comrades. Mr. Bartlett says:

"In this fight the pensioners of the government should be on the side of the people. From what source is the money which they get derived except from the people? Had the old soldiers depended upon the millionaires they would long since have died of starvation."

Mr. Bartlett pays a high tribute to the Confederate soldiers:

"Is it safe to join hands with our late opponents at the South and believe them as loyal to this government as we are? We never found the Southern soldiers cowards. You and I can certainly testify to their courage. Brave men are seldom treacherous, seldom untruthful. If I must choose between the men who once fought against us, and those who acknowledge the paternity of the single gold standard, I will turn to the man in gray and say, 'Johnny, count me with you.' But are these men who uphold bimetallic Anarchists and Nihilists? You and I stood shoulder to shoulder with more than a million farmer boys who thought no sacrifice too great for the flag they loved. These are the men who want bi-metallicism. As they loved their country then, they love it now. The farmers have always been the bone and sinew of the land. The farmers know that on our present gold basis there is nothing but want and suffering. They believe that under the old bi-metallic system there is honesty and plenty. They ask simply a return to that system; nothing more. They are honest, they are earnest, they are loyal; we can trust them. Comrade, I am with the common people, for our land and our liberty, and against the moneyed aristocrats who would bind us in the train of European aristocrats."

These are ringing words from a brave man, who does not fear or hesitate to pay a tribute to those whom he met as enemies. Mr. Bartlett is as patriotic now as he was when, as a young man, he marched to the front as a soldier.—Richmond Star.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He doesn't care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula, or consumption. "That," he will tell you, "is nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So, here's the first part of the proposition:

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microbe hunter and killer. Many persons of scrofulous blood, encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all other lingering bronchial, throat and lung diseases.

Better Off Than Vanderbilt.

While sick the other week Cornelius Vanderbilt, the multi-millionaire, lost $10,000,000 in one day by shrinkage in his railroad stock. What a pity it is to be rich. A country editor can lie sick 12 months and about the only thing he will lose is a few punctuated 'cusses' from the suffering public and a very small shrinkage in the vicinity where his vest joins together in front.—From the Georgia Cracker.
