THE SENATORIAL FIGHT.

The Senatorial contest at Raleigh is interesting and equally enigmatic. At the last Populist caucus nineteen men bolted and walked out of the caucus. They set forth that they have been gagged and that when they are wanted in the caucus again they must be fairly treated. The other side explained that there was no gag rule and no unfairness.

The great fight is between Senator Butler and Harry Skinner who it would seem were at dagger's points, but beheld them at a downtown restaurant eating quail on toast at the time that the nineteen walked out.

The News and Observer states that $5,000 were offered to a Populist member of the caucus for his influence in behalf of Senator Pritchard. This is stated without fear of denial as the proofs are not wanting.

Senator Butler does not yield the election of Pritchard.

Not too Much Executive Clemency.

"Justice on Both Sides" in the Charlotte Observer says some things well enough with regard to the petition to the Governor to commute the death penalty to that of life imprisonment in the penitentiary in the case of Monroe Johnston.

Our law makers did well to attach the death penalty to certain heinous crimes that are only committed by a class for whom any punishment short of death has little terror.

No amount of sentimentalism should work an insecurity to the citizens of the State when they are enclosed in their homes, all unconcerned of the outer world, and gathering new strength for life's duties in Nature's own appointed way of quiet and undisturbed sleep. Executive clemency should guard well the sacredness of home security against night marauders who carry murder and every other crime in their train.

Increasing crime can hardly be checked by an effusion of executive clemency.

GOVERNOR CARR'S MESSAGE.

to recommendations contained in my last message to the General Assembly and to renew the same to you.

It gives me pleasure to testify to the faithfulness with which all the State officers, members of the various boards and commissioners, with rare exceptions, have discharged the duties imposed upon them.

To the people of North Carolina and their representatives I desire to express my sense of obligation for their kindness and forbearance during my administration of the affairs of the highest office in the State. It is a great honor to be the chief executive of such a people and while my relations with the people in public and private life have always been pleasant, still at times the responsibilities of the office have been onerous, oftentimes perplexing, yet I have the proud consciousness of knowing I have never evaded a duty or imposed upon another a responsibility which I should assume myself, and I retire to private citizenship without any regrets.

The administration of the State governor by the Democratic party for the past twenty years is now behind you. It is a grand record of great achievements for the upbuilding of this Commonwealth and the promotion of the interests of the entire people. With my administration closes that series beginning under the illustrious Vance and continuing through the wise and economic administrations of Governors, Jarvis, Seales, Fowle and Holt. The party retires from the administration of the affairs of the State through the executives and other officers, feeling that North Carolina has had a series of years of good government, economically administered, which challenges comparison. Gentlemen of the General Assembly, you have been sent here to legislate for the good of the entire people of this State, and while a majority of you differ from me in a political sense, yet I am sure you will join me in expressing the hope that your deliberations may be wise, your term of service as a representative of the people pleasant, and the results of your legislation beneficial to the best interests of the State. ELIAS CARR, Governor.

Simon Cooper Lynched.

Judge Green in sentencing Frank Howard, complimented the community in which the crime was committed, for its forbearance that did not take vengeance on him at once. It would be hard to compliment the community of Mayesville, S. C., if it had not expressed innate outrage at the blood curdling crimes of Simon Cooper and not administered the Divine principle that "Whosoever sheds man's blood by man shall his blood be shed," in that short, terrific and terrorizing method by which society was rid of a monster that was a terror to everybody. Cooper had shot and killed a negro by the name of Davis and wounded a number of others. On last Thursday he wanted the use of Mr. Ben Wilson's buggy. On being refused he split the head of the old man with an axe, then one by one he succeeded in murdering the son and his wife and almost killed a negro man that was coming to the rescue.

He was captured with great difficulty and was even shot in the tussle.

As the horrors of the tragedy and the enormity of Cooper's devil-like disposition the posse was resolved into a mob, overpowered the officers and executed Cooper by hanging and shooting.

It is said to be a source of joyous relief to white and colored that his wickedness is at last ended.
