Richard Bost has a pet rabbit that escaped from its domicile Monday. Richard immediately gave chase to his pet. The excitement was more contagious than measles or mumps, and a looker-on counted thirty-five boys in the chase, with all the thrilling intensity of a pack of hounds chasing a fox. In all the crowd, the honor of the catch could hardly be properly assigned, but all the boys got the benefits of the health inspiring chase.

Probable Trip to Washington.

Members of the Cabarrus Light Infantry are conferring with each other over the prospects of a trip to Washington to participate in the inaugural ceremonies on the 4th of March, when president-elect William McKinley will take up the reins of the United States government. The only cost attached to the trip will be transportation and in case a large per cent of the company will attend, the railroad fare will be an insignificant item.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness yields to Electric Bitters. 50c and $1.00 per bottle at Fetzter's Drug Store.

Drawing Well.

It has been some time since an exhibition has been in this city that has pleased the public as well as the exhibition of the large serpent and other interesting curiosities at the Reid building opposite the Morris House, and the beauty of this exhibition is it is neat, first-class in all its departments—for ladies as well as gentlemen. They will be here all this week, so all who have not seen the monster should do so before he leaves for it is indeed a curiosity.

The following invitation has been issued to his large number of friends: "Mr. Charles J Harris, at home, from half past eight until twelve, Friday evening, January twenty-second, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven. St. Cloud Hotel, Concord, N. C.

A Robbery in Stanly.

The store of Whitt Simpson, a merchant of Locust Level, Stanly county, was robbed Saturday last, the thieves relieving the cash drawer of about $6 in money and taking a quantity of goods. Papers have been taken out for the arrest of four boys on whom suspicion rests. Mr. Simpson feels confident that he knows all parties to the robbery.

HEROIC.

An epidemic prevailed in Plymouth, Pa., and was so violent that the town was almost decimated—every one fled that could get away, excepting those who heroically determined that duty required their presence to nurse their families and combat the disease.

Heroes who fight battles and destroy armies, desolate homes and crush nations are lauded to the skies, but there is another heroism that should never be forgotten, that which stands at the bedside defying danger and death, soothing the sufferer. Such devotion was shown in Plymouth, and the fell destroyer was soon driven back, and health smiled upon the doomed town once more.

Having in our official capacity as members of the Plymouth Hospital Committee been asked to test and prove the effectiveness of many different articles to be used as disinfectants in sickrooms and as preventives of infectious fevers, report that Darby's Prophylactic Fluid has been thoroughly tested during the recent Typhoid epidemic in this place. It proved most efficacious in staying the spread of the fever. F. H. ARMSTRONG, S. M. DAVENPORT, J. A. OPP, O. M. LANCE, THOS. KERR, JAMES LEE, JR.

Several of the leading merchants of Plymouth, who had cases of the fever in their families, who are personally known to me, used Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, to their entire satisfaction and have given the best of testimonials to that effect. It is a most effective preparation. It should be used in every house as a preventive from Typhoid Fever, or in any case where a disinfectant is needed. I would recommend it to everyone, having had a good opportunity to know its excellent qualities. G. H. PRINDLER, Hospital Steward.
