A Word or Two

to sufferers from catarrh will not be amiss if a cure can be offered. Ely's Cream Balm has become a favorite in all sections of the United States. Your cold in the head will be quickly relieved by it, and the severest attack of catarrh will yield to, and be perfectly cured by a thorough treatment. Catarrh is not a blood disease, but an inflammation of the passages of the nose and throat, due to climatic changes.

PRITCHARD WINS.

ELECTED ON FIRST BALLOT.—DEMOCRATS VOTED FOR DOUGHTON.

The Vote Was Taken in Each House at Noon, and Pritchard Had a Majority of One of the Full Membership of the Assembly.—The Result Will Be Declared in Joint Session To-day.

SIX MAJORITY.

Raleigh, Jan. 20.—Pritchard wins. Joint ballot today gives him majority of six votes, which is a black eye to Thompson and the downfall of Butlerism. The agony is now over.

SENATE.

Raleigh, Jan. 19.—The Senate met at 11 o'clock, Lieutenant Governor Reynolds presiding. After prayer by Rev. Mr. Daniel, of the city, the journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Bills and resolutions were introduced as follows:

Mr. Justice—In regard to probate of wills.

The calendar was taken up and the lynching bill of Person, colored, was taken up. Person made a long harangue in favor of his bill, which had been unanimously reported adversely by the judiciary committee. The bill makes the county liable when a lynching occurs. Mr. McCarthy moved to lay upon the table, whereupon Person jumped to his feet and demanded the support of all "true Republicans." In his remarks he said he "was surprised that the Republicans should allow the Democrats to put them in a hole." The bill was tabled.

The resolution of Mr. Scales, making one-third a quorum of committee, tabled.

Bill to make another election precinct in the county of Edgecombe. Mr. Person, the introducer of the bill, made another speech, airing his political views. He spoke of Democratic fraud, etc., and demanded another polling place in his county. Mr. Clark, Populist, opposed the bill and said the gentleman had his redress in the courts. Bill lost on second reading.

The President, at 12 o'clock, announced that time had arrived for the election of a United States Senator.

Mr. Smathers nominated Jeter O. Pritchard. He urged the Populists to support him, as he could be of much more benefit to them than a Populist. He made quite a long speech and during it called the Populists "a party of broken promises." After a sketch of the life of Pritchard, he ended by another appeal to the Populists to support him.

Mr. Person, colored, seconded the nomination of Mr. Pritchard in behalf, he said of 120,000 colored voters. He said he had wanted to nominate a colored man, but he knew the time was not ripe yet when he could be elected, but the time would come.

Mr. Maxwell nominated Hon. Cyrus Thompson. He said that the Populists on that side of the Senate had a nomination to make. They had been reproached but had not been swerved from their principles. There had been no understanding with the Republicans in regard to the election of a United States Senator. He wanted it understood that he was a middle-of-the-road Populist. Cy. Thompson was a true son of the Old North State—a man who will throw himself into the breach; a true silver man; equal in honesty, loyalty and principle to any son of North Carolina.

Mr. Abell nominated, in behalf of the Democrats, Hon. Rufus A. Doughton. He said: "Mr. President: In behalf of the Democratic Senators, I desire to place in nomination ex-Lieutenant Governor Doughton. His purity of life and his services are well worthy of emulation. His public life and political principles command the esteem and confidence of his friends and challenge the admiration of those who differ with him. He is in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1, because it is right, because it is just. The great crime of 1873 he will endeavor to have stricken from the statute books. It should be blotted out. If elected, he will give real financial relief to the people—even if he has to put it on as a rider to the revenue bill. As a tree is judged by its fruits, so you should judge a man. It you elect him you will not be compelled to force a promise. He would give his word, and God knows he would keep it. He is in favor of an income tax. The money-lenders should pay their part of the taxes. He is an untiring enemy and ceaseless foe of all trusts and combinations. I have respect for the political convictions of Senators, but am proud that I am a Democrat—of the great and good government of my party. I am glad Doughton is a Democrat. He never betrayed his convictions or principles. He is a man of convictions and dares to carry them out."

Mr. Atwater seconded the nomination of Dr. Thompson. He said that the Populists were the ones who breathed life into the Republican party and that it came with a bad grace for the Republicans to ask the Populists to violate their most sacred principles—the financial question. Before he would vote for Pritchard he would go down in defeat. He said "he desired to plainly tell the Republicans that if they persisted in supporting Pritchard there would be no more cooperation."

Mr. Grant seconded Pritchard's nomination and laid much stress on the "contract of two years ago" with the Populists.

The President then announced that the vote would be taken. Mr. Smathers and Mr. McCaskery were appointed tellers. The vote stood: Pritchard 24, Thompson 18, Doughton 7. The following is a list of Senators and their votes:

Pritchard—Messrs. Anderson, Ashburn, Barker, Cannon, Dickson, Early, Grant, Henderson, Hyatt, Maulsby, McCarthy, McNeill, Newsome, Odum, Person, Ramsey, Rollins, Sharpe of Wilson, Sharpe of Iredell, Smathers, Shore, Wakefield, Whedbee, Yeager—24.

Thompson—Messrs. Alexander, Atwater, Butler, Clark, Geddie, Hardison, Lyon, Maxwell, Mitchell, Moye, Merritt, McCaskery, Parker of Randolph, Patterson, Shaw, Utley, Walker—18.

Doughton—Messrs. Abell, Anthony, Barringer, Justice, Parker of Alamance, Ray, Roberson, Scales—7.

After the report of the tellers was announced the Senate adjourned till tomorrow at 11 o'clock, and the Senate will then meet in the House of Representatives to compare and count the vote for Senator.
