CONCORD, N. C., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1897.

WHOLE NO. 1637

Hotels and Crescent Notes.

Miss Mattie Fisher, of Maiden, is visiting at her old home, near Heilig. The East Rowan charge has extended a call to Rev. McNairy, to become pastor of said charge. We hope he will accept.

Mr. A M Carl was called to the bedside of his sister last Friday, who has a very severe case of pneumonia, but we learn she is much improved. Hope she will recover.

Miss Josie Nussman had charge of the school, near Nussman, last week while the teacher was away on other duties.

There is much sickness around at present, consisting of gripe and deep colds.

Mr. Tom Lingle is building a dwelling house near Crescent.

We hope in the near future to have a post office at Crescent. The need of one, we think, very great, and the matter is being attended to. We will be fortunate to get it.

Crescent is growing—one by one they are coming. Last week Mr. J A Marrow, and this week Miss Ada Harkey, entered the Academy. We are expecting more in the near future.

Last Thursday night the debating society was organized with 20 members, of which L H Brown, president; G W Keester, vice president; W F Joay, Secretary and Miss Louana Barnhardt, treasurer, to meet every Thursday night.

Mr. Willie Joay has the mumps. Mr. Boyden Fesperman has the gripe. "SOLOMON."

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The famous signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

A Spacious Store Room.

The Odell Manufacturing Company has for a long time been crowded in the small store room, in which they do the largest mercantile business of any establishment in the city, and just for a change and more room the company will soon begin the construction of a three-story (including the basement) building. The main store room will be spacious. The dimensions will be 75x120 feet. The store room will be built on the corner just across the street from the present one. The Odd Fellows will occupy the upper room of the proposed new building.

W. A. Moore Badly Hurt.

Express Agent W A Moore, says the Salisbury World, was thrown from the express car about a mile this side of Hot Springs last Friday. He had opened the safe door in which there were $3,000 and had in his hand a shot sack containing $200, when, leaning forward, in the open door of the express car just as the train was turning a curve, a lurch and jerk threw him out and he lay unconscious and was found by a searching party sent back from Hot Springs. He regained consciousness after twelve hours and told how it occurred. He is severely hurt and was sent to his home in Columbia to recover from his injuries.

The Stamps Stuck.

A certain negro boy, on Saturday night, walked into the store of W C Coleman and asked for a match. The proprietor was busy writing a letter and beside his stationery which was lying on the showcase, lay a dollar's worth of postage stamps. He left his material and went for the requested match, and when Coleman's back was turned, the boy laid his hand upon the stamps, which stuck to his fingers. Coleman did not discover the theft until after the negro had departed. Monday Coleman notified several business houses to look out for some one to offer the stamps for sale. A man offered the stamps to Mr. Luther Shirey, clerk at the St. Cloud, at a discount, but when Mr. Shirey told him that a warrant was out for him for stealing the stamps from Coleman, the negro lost no time in returning the property to its rightful owner.

The man who returned the stamps to Coleman was not the one who stole them, as has been learned since the above was written.

Dr. Hamilton Will Not Leave.

Always go from home for news. THE STANDARD learned from a source out of town that "Dr. Jesse Hamilton will soon leave you, having accepted a position with a firm in a neighboring town." Dr. Hamilton was sought and from his own lips we learned that the report was without foundation. We could not well get along without Jesse, as he is the biggest man in town and popular with everybody. He will remain with Dr. Johnson.

Did the Mule Drown?

On every side Monday one could hear of a mule being drowned in Buffalo creek at the depot Saturday night, but no evidence sustaining the report could be obtained. A search was made for the recovery of the dead animal's body, but the spirits had secreted it away. Some one found a horse blanket in the stream, and because it resembled the one seen on a certain mule, the report got out that the mule was drowned. Mr. Sam White did have a very uncomfortable experience, however. He was on his way home muleback, and when the beast got in deep water it lay down. Mr. White, of course, had to wade out. He had a rough time in rescuing old Kit from a watery grave.

Passed Both Houses.

Mr. John C Wadsworth has received a letter from Speaker Hileman stating that the bill providing for the charter of the proposed railroad from Aberdeen here had passed both houses and that it would become a law. The charter will be forwarded to Mr. Wadsworth just as soon as the bill is ratified.

A Card.

I wish to correct a statement made in yesterday's STANDARD concerning my action in the so-called fire at the High School building, which was nothing more nor less than a few pieces of paper burning under the stove. I did not assist the "heroes" who saved the building and its occupants from cremation and I do not wish to rob them of their just HONOR? R P G.

A Card of Thanks.

The members of the Benevolent Society desire to express their thanks to Mr. Keester, all the other gentlemen, young ladies, and children of all denominations for their assistance in the entertainments last week. Mrs. D. B. MORRISON, Secretary.

The Origin of "Chestnut."

In an old play called "The Broken Sword" there is a captain who is always telling old stories, the details of which often varies. He starts a tale about a cork tree, when he is interrupted by another character, who suggests "It was a chestnut, Captain, a chestnut!"

"Bah!" says the Captain, "I say a cork tree."

"A chestnut," repeats the other. "I should know as well as you, having heard you tell the tale these twenty seven times." At a dinner one evening a gentleman was telling a story of considerable antiquity when an actor present, who had played in "The Broken Sword" said, half audibly, "A chestnut. I have heard you tell the tale these twenty-seven times."—Weekly Telegraph.

WARNING.

We wish to caution all users of Simmons Liver Regulator on a subject of the deepest interest and importance to their health—perhaps their lives. The sole proprietors and makers of Simmons Liver Regulator learn that customers are often deceived by buying and taking some medicine of a similar appearance or taste, believing it to be Simmons Liver Regulator. We warn you that unless the word Regulator is on the package or bottle, that it is not Simmons Liver Regulator. No one else makes, or ever has made Simmons Liver Regulator, or anything called Simmons Liver Regulator, but J. H. Zeilin & Co., and no medicine made by anyone else is the same. We alone can put it up, and we cannot be responsible, if other medicines represented as the same do not help you as you are led to expect they will. Bear this fact well in mind, if you have been in the habit of using a medicine which you supposed to be Simmons Liver Regulator, because the name was somewhat like it, and the package did not have the word Regulator on it, you have been imposed upon and have not been taking Simmons Liver Regulator at all. The Regulator has been favorably known for many years, and all who use it know how necessary it is for Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Constipation, Headache, Dyspepsia, and all disorders arising from a Diseased Liver.

We ask you to look for yourselves, and see that Simmons Liver Regulator, which you can readily distinguish by the Red Z on wrapper, and by our name, is the only medicine called Simmons Liver Regulator.
