CONCORD, N. C., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1897.

WHOLE NO. 1.644

HOUSE VOTED TO ANNUL.

May to Fifty-Four—The Contest Spirited.

At 12 o'clock yesterday the Lower House of the Legislature entered upon the most exciting contest of the session except that memorable Senatorial election.

The annulment of the 99 year lease of the North Carolina Railroad was taken up as the special order of the hour. The galleries were well filled and the strongest array of talent and power on each side was there, for it is the result probably of the railroad feud between the Seaboard Air Line and the Southern, and the best of talent on each side of the question was fitted against each other.

The discussion by representatives was heard before the committee and every available feature, both pro and con, was presented and the House decided to devote but three hours to the discussion, that probably could not change a single vote, after having been so long and so forcibly on the minds of the members. At 3.30 p. m., the House took a vote which resulted 53 to 62 on the minority report which was of course unfavorable to the bill. The majority report was then taken and resulted 60 to 54 in favor of the bill.

The bill is yet to run the gauntlet of the Senate and if carried the legal talent can smile at the remunerative contest before them in the courts and the capitalists can see that North Carolina is a dangerous field to invest in at present.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c.

The following is by an unknown hero, but is nevertheless a good way to make money. "Take a dollar bill and fold it several times, each way. Then unfold it and you will find it increases." Keep the increase but send the original bill to the printer who put you on to the scheme. Then "take a silver dollar and drop it on the counter," and notice the ring it makes. Send the ring to your best girl and the $ to the printer and everybody will be happy.

Who does not know women and young girls who are continually in tears? Who always see the dark side? Who have frequent fits of melancholy without any apparent cause? The intelligent physician will know that it is some derangement of the complicated and delicate feminine organs. The young girl suffers, bodily and mentally, in silence. There is undue weariness, unexpected pain, unreasonable tears and fits of temper. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription exerts a wonderful power over woman's delicate organism. It is an invigorating tonic and is specific for the peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and painful derangements of woman. Careless, easy-going doctors frequently treat their women patients for biliousness, nervousness, dyspepsia, liver or kidney troubles when the real sickness is in the organs distinctly feminine, and no help can come till they are made perfectly strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1000 page COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, illustrated.

For Sale. A lot at the Baptist church, 70x200 feet. See Rev. J. J. Paysour, pastor, at once. 118.

Swallowed a Cigarette Button.

Francis, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Roueche, yesterday afternoon swallowed a cigarette button, which came near choking the little girl to death. She turned black in the face, and it was only after repeated efforts of Mrs. Roueche, that the button was gotten out of her throat. She is all right today, none the worse for her novel experience.—Salisbury World.

Fools Not All Dead.

The author of the bachelor law aimed at a little joke and it took and went the rounds of the papers in and out of the State, but the author of the following is less happy in his hit. It seems to be a pointless piece of folly for which time should not be spent in the General Assembly and assures us that there is still a good job available for the fool killer.

A bill to abolish the complaint of hard times. Section 1. That from and after the inauguration of Hon. Wm. McKinley, President of the United States, on the 4th of March, 1897, it shall be unlawful for any Republican or Republican or "Gold-Bug Democrat" to complain of "hard times" or of the continuation of the present "gold standard of finance," or to criticize adversely the financial policy of said McKinley's administration.

Sec. 2. A violation of this act by any person who is embraced within the provisions of the foregoing section shall be deemed an offence against patriotic duty, and upon conviction thereof the offender shall be imprisoned in the insane asylum of North Carolina until the expiration of the term of office of President McKinley and the inauguration of his successor.

Inauguration of President McKinley.

There is no occasion which is more magnificent or inspiring to the patriotic American citizen than the inauguration of the President of the United States, which occurs in the city of Washington on the fourth of March, every four years.

For the inauguration of William McKinley, on March 4th, next, the crowds will probably exceed the attendance upon any similar occasion in recent years. The reduced rates and splendid train service offered by the Southern Railway from all points in the South, and especially from Virginia and North Carolina, leave no excuse for not attending and participating in this great occasion. For civilians round trip tickets will be sold at a single fare for the round-trip, and for the accommodations of military companies and brass bands accompanying them, (25 or more men traveling together (in uniform) on solid ticket) the extraordinarily low rate of one cent per mile has been authorized. From Charlotte, Salisbury, Raleigh, Durham, Greensboro, Winston Salem and intermediate points, the trip to Washington occupies only about 8 to 15 hours, the journey being accomplished in one night (if you prefer to travel at night to save time) and the return trip can be made in the same quick time on magnificent vestibuled trains with elegant Pullman sleeping cars and day coaches. Thus passengers from the territory referred to can leave home the evening of the 3rd and arrive at Washington early a. m., of the 4th in ample time to participate in the Inaugural ceremonies.

For detailed information call on any agent of that company.
