WHOLE NO. 1,659

NORTH CAROLINA TROOPS

Won Laurels at the Nation's Capital for Soldier Lads as Seen By Others.

North Carolina was represented in the inaugural ceremonies at Washington Thursday by the soldier boys of the State guard, and abroad at home, they were conspicuous for their good behavior, good drill and handsome appearance. The North Carolina troops were quartered in the Interior building, and from the officers in charge of that building came this compliment: "The Interior building has been headquarters for visiting military companies from all parts of the nation for many years, but none have ever equalled the North Carolina troops for sobriety and good behavior. Their departure from these quarters is regretted by every attaché of the department."

The following is clipped from the Washington Post:

"A historic company marched behind the Virginia boys. It was Company G, Fourth North Carolina, of Concord, W. A. Caldwell, captain. They carried a gorging State flag of red, white and blue, which could be seen for squares. The company was organized May 20, 1775, and was first known as the "Cabarrus Black Boys." The organization did active service during the revolution. Now all in it are young, vigorous-looking fellows. Thirty men were in line. Company C, First North Carolina, of Raleigh, next appeared, their captain being A. J. Crawford, commanding twenty men. Col. J. F. Armfield, of Statesville, led the North Carolina troops."

The press dispatch sent out from Washington Thursday night bore the following lines: "The North Carolina troops were among the best drilled and most handsomely uniformed in the parade. The company of naval reserves with them was greeted with demonstrations of pride and interest, which were awarded to all of the organizations in this popular branch of the service."

The visit to Washington by the State guard was not alone to see Billy McKinley take up the reins of administration for high tariff and sound money, but to witness the exit of one who is grand and noble, the retiring President, Grover Cleveland. It was an eventful occasion and the ceremonies were impressive and interesting, even though he were not a Democrat who was inducted into office.

The Discovery Saved His Life. Mr. G. Calhoun, Druggist, at Beaverville, N. C., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it. Get a free trial at Fetzer's Drug Store."

To be Kestler Dead. Mr. Tobias Kestler, a wealthy citizen of Rowan county, well known in this community, died at his home near Salisbury Friday afternoon. He had been sick for several weeks. He was 86 years of age and leaves two daughters. Mr. Kestler was considered a man of excellent business qualities and was a leader in many business enterprises in Salisbury.

A ROW IN THE HOUSE.

A Railroad Substitute Throttled.—Arbitrary Adjournment.—The Worst of all the Confusion.

Yesterday at noon was the hour for the House to consider the substitute passed by the Senate one week before.

The great moment had come to make a clear sky that had been dark and threatening for some time in the legislature.

To concur with the Senate substitute would probably have quieted all. But that was destined to fail. There was blood in the eye and low rumblings of war. As the substitute was about to be taken up a resolution was offered to ask the Supreme Court to give an opinion on the constitutionality of the Senate substitute. This sprang discussion and suddenly a whole group wanted to talk at once: pandemonium reigned.

There was a motion to adjourn which Cook the chairman (Hurman was too hoarse) declared the motion carried though the noes evidently had it. This fanned the flame, Cook withdrew amid murmurings of unfairness. Freeman was made chairman and the row grew worse. Men shook their fists and curses rent the air. There were charges of treason and men were wild with rage. A blow—single assault and no one knows where the thing would have ended. When fury had spent itself in breath and excitement had blown off at high gage all seemed to feel better and adjourned in reality. The affair is probably unprecedented and is mortifying to all that pretend to respectability.

At the 3 o'clock session the bill was, by resolution, sent to the Supreme Court for a decision and was made the special order for today at 1 o'clock.

Cure For Headach.

As a remedy for all forms of Headach Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and a few case long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once, Fifty cents and $1.00 at Fetzer's Drug Store.

Moore's History.

It is not easy to understand why the House on Thursday passed a bill excluding Moore's History from the common schools in the face of the fact that each county selects the books for itself. It would not be surprising if some one were to write a better history of North Carolina than Moore's is, but it is better than none.

If the county commissioners are to select the books too, whose business is it besides?

The Inaugural Bible.

The bible on which the President took the oath was made especially for the occasion and is elaborately fine, bedecked with silk, satin and gold. On the gold plate is inscribed "William McKinley, President of the United States of America, inaugurated March 4, 1897."

It is the gift of the African Methodist Episcopal church.

Here's Our Hand.

We join our neighbor in the following:

"The Landmark gives Old Man Cleveland good day, wishes for him health and happiness in his retirement. He isn't popular now and he hasn't been for some time, but in the after years, in the cold, clear light of reason, he will be accorded a place among the great men of his time."

[Here's our hand, Brother Clark!]

A Frankford girl stole a novel from a book store the other day, and was quite taken with the book on her person.

Wigwag—"Why do you drink so? Don't you know that strong drink is the enemy of mankind?" De Tanque—"Yes, and doesn't the Bible tell us we should love our enemies?"

WARNING.

We wish to caution all users of Simmons Liver Regulator on a subject of the deepest interest and importance to their health—perhaps their lives. The sole proprietors and makers of Simmons Liver Regulator learn that customers are often deceived by buying and taking some medicine of a similar appearance or taste, believing it to be Simmons Liver Regulator. We warn you that unless the word Regulator is on the package or bottle, that it is not Simmons Liver Regulator. No one else makes, or ever has made Simmons Liver Regulator, or anything called Simmons Liver Regulator, but J. H. Zeilin & Co., and no medicine made by anyone else is the same. We alone can put it up, and we cannot be responsible, if other medicines represented as the same do not help you as you are led to expect they will. Bear this fact well in mind, if you have been in the habit of using a medicine which you supposed to be Simmons Liver Regulator, because the name was somewhat like it, and the package did not have the word Regulator on it, you have been imposed upon and have not been taking Simmons Liver Regulator at all. The Regulator has been favorably known for many years, and all who use it know how necessary it is for Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Constipation, Headache, Dyspepsia, and all disorders arising from a Diseased Liver.
