CONCORD, N. C., SATURDAY, MARCH 20, 1897.

WHOLE NO. 1,671

Three Little Boys.

Three little white boys, whose parents are all prominent and influential citizens, were the marauders of the flower gardens in various parts of the city Thursday night. The great mass of beautiful hyacinths were secreted away underneath a very handsome dwelling house on one of the principal streets, and for aught we know, are there now. One little fellow whose guilty conscience hurt him and fearing the detectives would catch him, confessed what he had done to his father, who attended to the plunderer in the proper manner.

Just what disposition the boys intended to make of the flowers is not known. It may be, however, they thought that a nosegay on the lapel of their coat would look a great deal better than a ball and chain hooked to their legs.

They are guaranteed to be perfectly vegetable. They do not weaken by their action but by giving tone to the stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c per box. Sold at Fetzer's Drug Store.

Sons of Confederates.

Messrs. Walter Thompson and Will Gibson have been engaged for the past several days in looking up the sons of Confederate Veterans, with a view to effecting a permanent organization. About fifty names were secured. The young men will hold a meeting at the court house about the middle of next week, when they will organize and elect officers. It is desired that every mother's son of the old veterans be present. The cost will not exceed 30 cents per annum, and the order will not occupy much of your time.

"And There are Others."

Besides the flower gardens of Mesdames Ervin, Caldwell and Anthony, as noted in Friday's Standard, we were told of other visitations. The gardens of Mrs. R. E. Gibson, Mrs. B. F. Allred and Mrs. John O. Young were also robbed of their hyacinths Thursday night, to say nothing of Mrs. W. S. Bingham's and Mrs. Gibson's.

Sold at Auction.

All the stock of goods recently owned by J. A. Rimer, the merchant, were sold at public auction today (Saturday) by W. A. Brandon, of Salisbury, auctioneer Ritz crying the sale.

"Goody."

The Asheville Citizen says the new charter for that City has strange omissions and mutilations. The Governor is not able to see in it his opportunity to appoint a police justice. There is hardly a better term than that we learn in juvenile lore: "Goody!"

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c.

A Prosperous Georgia Farmer.

W. T. M. Brown, of Dewy Rose, Ga., is one of the most prosperous in the State. He has fifty acres of land, which four years ago yielded one-fourth of a bale of cotton to the acre. This year he raised on the same land forty-one bales of cotton, which he sold for $1,148 and the seed for $246; 100 bushels of sweet potatoes for $25. Besides this he sells weekly four dozen eggs at 10 cents a dozen, forty pounds of butter at 15 cents a pound, and thirty gallons of buttermilk at 5 cents a gallon, making for the year $410.80. This, added to the produce of his land, makes an aggregate sum of $2,129.80. Mr. Brown employs three men at an expense of $36 a month. He spent $210 for guano, incidentals $20 and $115 for the keeping of three mules, making the general expenses $777, thus showing a profit of $1,352.80 for the year.—Goldsboro Headlight.

Original Observations.

Some people use a great many words in saying nothing.

Experience is the cream of life—but it often sours with age.

Cheek boldly enters where modesty dare not pull the door bell.

Discipline is the harness whereby heavy loads are drawn easily.

He who is always doubting others has most cause to doubt himself.

At 10 man theorizes, at 30 he philosophizes, and at 60 he realizes.

The big fourths are the fourth of March, the fourth of July and so forth.

There is always two sides to every question—your side and the wrong side.

The distiller is the only medium who can successfully materialize spirits.

Many a scoundrel wears fine clothes, but dodges the tailor whom he owes.

To really benefit man give him all possible help, opportunity and encouragement to earn.

He who succeeds in life attributes it to superior merit; he who fails charges it to bad luck.

Yes, McKinley is the president of the United States of Ohio, upon whom Hanna has his Mark.

A Western preacher has just married a girl eleven years old. The clerical love for spring chicken is proverbial.

The Bible alone is not sufficient for man's salvation, any more than an architect's plan is a complete house.

A pretty girl in a pair of nice pointed shoes is certainly entitled to be considered a beauty in good standing.—Orange, (Va.) Observer.

A Good Invention.

Says the Scientific American:

A bicycle attachment to prevent mud from being thrown by the rear wheel on the rider, and to protect the skirts of a lady, preventing their being blown about by the wind or being caught in the chain or wheel is shown in the accompanying illustration, and has been patented in the United States and England by John G. McNaughton, of Salisbury, N. C. It consists principally of a mud guard, preferably made in the form of an eagle bending over the rear wheel, with his head pointing rearward and his wings extending outwardly on each side. It is rigidly mounted on the frame, and the wings are hinged and provided with springs to keep them distended while allowing them fold inwardly should the bicycle fall on its side. Just back of the crank axle are bearings in which are hinged legs, preferably made of a continuous U-shaped bar the legs simulating to some extent those of an eagle, and having at their extremities claw grasping bearing blocks to contact with the ground and hold the bicycle upright when still, while also adapted to serve as brakes when it is desired to stop the machine. Rigidly attached to the middle portion of the bar forming the legs is an elbow connected to a slide rod, and the latter is connected to a hand lever fulcrumed in convenient reach of the rider whereby the legs may be thrown down to serve as a brake, or as supports when the rider dismounts.
