WHOLE NO. 1,682

OUT FOR A SPIN.

The Bicycle Track and Baseball Park Almost a Certainty.

Preliminary work on the bicycle track and baseball park was begun Thursday morning and by Monday work will be in full blast.

Mr. Dry, who is charge of the construction, will leave no stone unturned until he has put the track in proper shape. The bicyclists are enthusiastic over their prospects and live in great anticipation of having an ideal resort.

Baseball cranks are also at the wheel and have the assurance of a diamond inside of a high enclosure, provided the wheelmen and baseballists will jointly come together and put up the necessary guarantee.

As a means of raising the funds, season tickets will be sold to anyone so desiring to become a member of the association for $2, thereby making the costs light on everybody. One hundred and twenty-five members will do the work.

A New Merchant.

Mr. S. Goodman has arrived in the city from Lexington and will at once open out a general merchandise business in the Litaker store room.

Mr. Goodman brought his family with him and has moved into the Wagoner house on North Main street.

A Household Necessity.

Cascarets Candy Cathartic, the most wonderful medical discovery of the age, pleasant and refreshing to the taste, act gently and positively on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the entire system, dispel colds, cure headache, fever, habitual constipation and biliousness. Please buy and try a box of C. C. C. to-day, 10, 25, 50 cents. Sold and guaranteed to cure by all druggists.

Privileged Class

Four Buffalo newspaper reporters were caught by the police at a prize fight, and arrested along with the other spectators. The court, however, refused to hold the reporters, saying it was a principle of law, as well as common sense, that three kinds of men were permitted to go anywhere without blame—doctors, clergymen and reporters. Buffalo reporters now wear badges signifying their calling, as a protection from arrest.—Greensboro Patriot.

Deaf Mutes to Play Ball.

Clerk H. A. Latham of the Oaks hotel has received a letter from Prof. Miller, of the faculty of this institution and students of the Tennessee deaf and dumb institute, the desire being to have the contest on Asheville grounds. It is proposed that the game shall be played some Saturday after Easter.—Asheville Citizen.

All humors of the blood, from the small pimple to the dreadful scrofula sore, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which thoroughly purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood.

Hood's Pills cure nausea, sick headache, indigestion, biliousness. All druggists. 25c.

An Oklahoma editor is hiding in woods, all because he wrote something about a female bicyclist "losing her path and wandering in the woods" and the stupid compositor made him say she lost her "pants." He is hiding till her rage subsides.—Ex.

Just try a 10c. box of Cascarets, the finest liver and bowel regulator ever made.

Mrs. S. T. Pearson Dead.

A message received by relatives in the city this morning, brought the sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. S. T. Pearson, which occurred at 3 o'clock this morning at her home in Morganton. She had been in very poor health for some time, but was thought to be improving until yesterday morning, when her mother, Mrs. J. R. Ervin, was telegraphed for, the message stating that Mrs. Pearson was very, very low. Mrs. Ervin left on the evening train for Morganton and reached the bedside of her daughter before life was extinct.

The death of this young wife and noble woman is peculiarly sad and is deeply deplored by her many, many friends, who are without number. The news of her death is a terrible shock and quite unexpected. Mrs. Pearson was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Ervin, and sister to Mrs. Dr. R. S. Young, Mr. Samuel J. Ervin and Miss Janie Ervin, of this city.

The remains will be brought to this city for interment, and will arrive tonight at 9 o'clock.

The funeral services will take place at the residence of her parents on Spring street tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The First Shadow.

John C. Leslie, Jr., the nine-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Leslie, died yesterday afternoon at 3:10 o'clock, after an illness of four weeks. The child was not critically ill until a week ago yesterday. Since then his life had hung on a slender thread, and the anxious father and mother had looked to see it snapped any night or morning. It is their first sorrow, and the hearts of many friends go out to them. "It is well with the child," but the bereavement is none the less great to the young parents.

The funeral services will take place this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, at the residence, and will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Howerton. The pall-bearers will be: Messrs. Chas. Keerans, James Henderson, M. S. Elliott, Baxter Ross and Chas. F. Wadsworth.—Charlotte Observer.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie in this city and community learn with sorrow of the sadness that overshadows their home by the death of their little son.

Ervin & Smith.

Ah, There!

They're just perfectly lovely, exquisite, out-of-sight. Just go see them. If pretty feathers make pretty birds and if the pretty hats make the pretty girls still more pretty we fear for the eye sight of the fellow who dares to gaze at the girls who get their hats at Concord's millinery stores this spring. We peeped in at Miss Nannie Alexander's display and "beauty" did not express it. The longer we looked the less we saw. Our eye was full. We rested our ocular organs till we could stroll to the handsome display that Miss Mary Brachen presided so gracefully over and there too we found the apex of feminine beauty worth their weight in gold and more delicate than moonshine.

The styles, we are told, are quite up-to-date in New York and even Paris, and when you sit behind them at the opera you're half persuaded that an unintentional abridgement prevented them from still being in touch with those cities as they extend to the North and the South, the East and the West. Then coronal appendages also seem to meddle with the zenith.

We are proud of our millinery stores. For loveliness they are only surpassed by their cultured patrons. As we scribble now we seem to have dreamed last night of a fairy land where beauty made us glad and the throns to and fro smiled for want of words.

When bilious or costive, eat a Cascaret, candy cathartic, cure guaranteed, 10c, 25c.
