WOMAN'S WORK.

An Interesting Programme at Trinity Reformed Church Sunday Night.

At Trinity Reformed church, last evening, the Woman's Missionary Society of that church held an open meeting. It was conducted in a quiet peaceful manner, by Miss Francis Lippard, president of the society. After an opening solo and chorals, and prayer by the pastor, a prepared programme was rendered. A Bible reading was engaged in by every member of the Society. This was a study of God's word, answering the following questions:

1. Whence have we our commission as Christian workers?
 2. What conditions must Christians comply with in order to save souls?
 3. What motive impels us to this work?
 4. Where is our field?
 5. Whence cometh our strength?
- Recitations, "The Gleaners," "A Plea for Missions," and "The Curse of Empty Hands," were given respectively by Misses Lizzie Bostian, Lillian Misenheimer and Addie Barrier.

Mrs. G T Crowell and Miss Esther Cook gave selections, one giving "A View of the Field," the other urging to "Go Forward" in the work.

Mr. B F Davis gave a thoughtful paper, showing the demand for woman's aid in the Mission cause, her fitness for it, and closing with a stirring appeal to women to awake to the situation and press forward in the Master's work.

The program was interspersed with appropriate music and held a good audience in perfect attention for one hour and five minutes.

The offering was devoted to the Mission Chapel on West Corbin street, which, though doing good work, is under the burden of a small debt. It is believed that the meeting was an inspiration for good to all present.

Bookkeeping, Shorthand and Penmanship.

Mr. Lewis Lee, representing Droughon's business college, of Nashville, Tenn., is in the city and will open a school of bookkeeping, shorthand and penmanship on next Monday night. He is stopping at Mrs. Henderson's and is now working up a class.

A fight occurred at the Buffalo mills, Saturday night, in which one white man struck another on the head with brass knucks, inflicting a severe wound. The names of the men could not be learned, but the one who struck the blow is said to have come from Charlotte.

Death of Mr. Phifer.

The announcement of the death of Mr. Charles Henry Phifer, which occurred in his room at the St. Cloud hotel at 12:10 o'clock today (Monday) was not unexpected by his many and anxious friends who have been watching at his bedside day and night for the past fortnight.

Had he lived he would have been 50 years of age September 28, 1897, having been born September 28, 1847. His sister, Mrs. Sallie Williamson, of Winston, and Mr. Robert F Phifer, his brother, the only two surviving members of a large family, and a number of friends were at his bedside when he breathed his last.

Mr. Phifer had been an invalid for many years, having suffered a stroke of paralysis, which developed into Bright's disease, which was the ultimate cause of his death.

He was once a member of the firm of Phifer Bros., who conducted a large mercantile business in this city, but early in life he retired from business. He was prominent and among the foremost of our citizens.

The funeral services will take place from the residence of Mr. R E Gibson tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. The remains will be interred in the family plot at the Presbyterian cemetery.

That Dog Wasn't Mad.

No little excitement prevailed in this city Saturday evening about 6 o'clock when Chief of Police Boger was called upon to kill a "mad-dog." It is true that the animal was having a spasm after spasm and looked as if he did have rabies, but the truth of the matter is: The dog was lying in the street near Mrs. J S Fisher's and was run over by a heavy wagon, receiving internal injuries that caused the spasms. It was a country dog and belonged to some one at Mooresville. It was not mad.

The Best Game.

"The smoothest game of baseball ever played in the city limits took place at Forest Hill Saturday afternoon," said one of the players. And it was. There was no contention on either side and the boys played ball for ten innings, resulting in a victory for the Forest Hill team. The score stood: Forest Hill 7, Concord 6. Another game will take place soon.

Cannon & Fetzler Company.

We will close our Store At 7 O'clock P. M. during June, July and August, except on SATURDAY

WHEN WE CLOSE AT 11 O'CLOCK P. M.

This is necessary in order to give our salesmen a little rest during the hot weather months. They are in the store from 13 to 16 hours a day during the other nine months of the year, and certainly need and are justly entitled to the short time for rest and recreation afforded by this arrangement. We hope our friends and customers will appreciate this and come to see us during the summer months before 7 o'clock.

We have a splendid stock in all lines and will spare no effort to please you in Goods and Prices.

Yours to Serve
