CONCORD, N. C., SATURDAY JULY 10, 1897

WHOLE NO 1,771

Off for Asheville.

At the early hour of 4 o'clock this morning you could see persons passing on the streets wending their way to the depot or to some neighboring house to join their party to the city of Asheville. It is said that one man with a very strong pair of lungs was heard on the streets at Forest Hill about the hour of 4 o'clock going to almost all the houses waking them up, least they would fail to get ready.

The train was to leave at 5 o'clock, but owing to some disadvantages, the train failed to arrive at Concord before about that time, and after doing some shifting at the depot, it pulled up on the side track until nearly in rear of the Odell factory, where a large crowd stood waiting for its arrival. There was also a large crowd some distance from the mills at what is known as Slippery Rock.

After the usual time was spent in getting the people in the cars, it pulled down to the station, where still another crowd was waiting. But at last all was made ready and they departed for the land of the sky.

Signor Ritz is running the refreshment car, having all the ice drinks needed.

Ex-policeman Jno. W. Cook had on his blue uniform again and accompanied the excursion crowd, though there is no probability that he will be needed, but it is well to have him in case something would happen. He looks very natural again, and says that he feels so.

THE STANDARD sent a reporter with the excursionists, and will please our readers with a write-up of the trip in Monday's paper.

A Concord Steed.

Mr. R. Lee Kerr, of Rock Hill, S. C., cashier of the Savings Bank in that city, and who was in our city some days ago, purchased a horse from Mr. M. J. Cori—the horse once owned by Mr. Billy Swink. The horse was taken to Charlotte Friday evening. We learn that Mr. Kerr is also a partner in a large livery stable at that place. We are pleased to know that he is favorably impressed with our equine advantages.

Murder Near Old Fort.

At noon today Sheriff Nichols received a telegram from Old Fort telling him of another crime committed near Sugar Hill, in that county. L. E. Marlow and W. C. Hogan had a quarrel about some whiskey, and Marlow hit Hogan on the head with a rock, which fractured his skull and caused his death a few hours later. Marlow made his escape, and is thought to be hiding in the mountains near by.

The merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is literally written in blood. It is traced in the vital fluid Of millions of the human race, Its positive medicinal merit And curative power is written Upon the hearts, and graven upon The minds of thousands Of people whom it has cured And given good health When there seemed nothing before But darkness and despair. It cures all diseases arising From or promoted by impure Blood by its intrinsic merit as The One True Blood Purifier.

The Sick in Our Midst.

Ernest Greene, whose home is with Mr. D. B. Castor at Cannonville, who has been sick with typhoid fever for several weeks and who was so critical, is very much better. He is able to sit up.

Miss Daisy Wilkinson, of East Depot street, who has been confined for a week or two, is reported no better this morning.

Miss Della Walter, who was so very low with fever is somewhat better.

Mrs. W. T. Fisher is not critically ill, but is confined with chills.

We are sorry to learn the Mr. Lacy Dick is no better.

Pinkerton Detective at Lexington.

We learn from the Salisbury World that a Pinkerton detective from Philadelphia has arrived at Lexington and will use every means possible to unravel the evidence for the conviction of the assassin of Mrs. A. A. Springs. Mr. Springs seems not inclined to give up hopes that the scoundrel will be found. It is certainly hoped that by the aid of one of these detectives, they will succeed in finding the right man.

The Madstone Failed.

Gilbert Trapp, a negro boy of 13 years, was bitten on the hip and back part of the thigh in Kershaw, S. C., on June 7th by a dog that it was feared had rabies. He was brought to Charlotte where the madstone was applied. It was claimed that the stone stuck to both wounds and both healed nicely. In 21 days however he developed a well defined case of rabies and died Friday amid spasms.

Salisbury's Bicycle Races.

From the Salisbury World we learn of the great time the people of Salisbury were treated to on the Fraley race track at that place Thursday the 8th. The championship was won by Mr. C. A. Baughan, coming out victor in the half mile, quarter mile and also in the mile championship race. To add to the merriment of the occasion, the races were concluded by a race between Mr. W. C. Fraley's trotting horse, Jim Sherrill, and a darkey, the horse having won the prize.

After the races came the presentation of prizes, which was very gracefully performed by one of Salisbury's most popular young ladies, Miss Bessie Henderson, by request of the managers.

Fight at the Brick Yard.

Eulas Melchor, a worthless 15-year-old negro boy who lies around the depot and smokes cigarettes, is in trouble and wears his head in a sling. Friday afternoon he went to Mr. R. A. Brown's brick yard, just beyond the depot, and "picked" a quarrel with one Charley Greeley, who was at work attending to Mr. Brown's and his own business. A scuffle ensued, and finally Charley, tired of Melchor's tilts, picked up a piece of brick and let it fly at his antagonist, striking Melchor behind the ear. The lick was a severe one, and it was thought for a little while that the Melchor negro was going to pass in his checks. The brick hit at the wrong place to have that effect.
