FOREST HILL NEWS.

Goods Skipped to Oregon—Mr. Miller Celebrates—Other Items of Interest. Mrs. L C Cook is visiting relatives at Mooresville for a few days.

Rev. Mrs. J D Arnold has returned from Raleigh, after an absence of three weeks with her sick mother. Mrs. Arnold reports her mother much improved.

The bleachery shipped a car load of goods to Portland, Oregon, last week and has another one most ready for the same direction.

Misses Ida and Nealie Russell went to China Grove today to attend the marriage of their cousin, Miss Pattie Taylor to Mr. Clarence Rogers, both of China Grove.

Mr. Herbert Cook, who has been quite sick for several days, is able to be out again, we are glad to note.

Mrs. Tate of Charlotte is visiting Mrs. J M Odell.

The family of Superintendent Hialop, of the Buffalo mill, who have been visiting relatives at Lowell, N. C., and Chinney Rock are expected home this evening.

Master Ralph Odell has the agency for a book entitled "Christian Legacy." Ralph is having splendid success in taking orders.

Mr. Rufus Hathcock, of Big Lick, is visiting his brother, Mr. T A Hathcock, of this place.

Mr. B N H Miller celebrated his 46th birthday yesterday, and last evening the members of his Sunday school class called at his home and gave him many presents, some of which were very handsome. Music added to the pleasures of the evening and all seemed to enjoy themselves.

Mr. R E Sergeant, of Greensboro, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. W R Odell.

Remembered the Editor.

Mr. J A Litaker, the one arm veteran, who owns one of the best farms, vineyard and orchards, in No. 11 township, kindly remembered the editor of THE STANDARD in a practical way. He brought in a quantity of eloquent grapes and luscious peaches, placing them on the desk for that particular person to enjoy, and the writer is confident that the editor would have enjoyed the treat equally as well as himself (the writer) had he been at home in his absence we return thanks.

Chopped His Toe With a Hatchet.

Mr. Sam Henry, a carpenter employed by Capt. A H Propst, experienced a painful accident Wednesday afternoon while working at the new home of Dr. J E Smoot on Fetzner avenue. He was using a hatchet in trimming a short piece of plank, when the hatchet glanced, cutting through his shoe and nearly severing a toe from his foot. Dr. Smoot dressed the wound, taking one stitch.

A Negro Woman as Postmaster.

A special to the Atlanta Constitution says: "Mary Guion, a negro woman, has received notice from Washington that she had been appointed postmaster for Tar Heel, Bladen county, North Carolina. Mrs. T B Robinson, a white widow, who has been acceptably filling this position, was turned down for the negro woman. The people of Tar Heel are highly indignant at the humiliation to which they are subjected."

AN APPEAL.

Firemen Want Funds and Ask the Citizens to Lend Aid at the Lawn Party To-Morrow Night—Ladies of the Town will Manage Affairs—Everybody Should Go.

The finances of the city are in such condition that the firemen can not ask the city fathers for an appropriation, therefore the ladies of the city have very generously donated everything necessary for a lawn party, and will prepare ice-cream, sherbets, lemonade, cake and taffy, and serve it on the beautiful lawn at the graded school building tomorrow evening from 6.30 to 11 o'clock.

The firemen are sorely in need of funds and it behooves every citizen to interest himself enough to assist them in their struggle to raise a little money. Men, give them a liberal patronage and encourage them. Work for the success of the firemen, and hearken to their appeal for help, for you know not at what hour you may call them to rescue your home, your property and your family from the ravages of the destructive flames.

The firemen request THE STANDARD to ask all those who have subscribed milk, eggs, gelatine, fruits, sugar and flavoring to have same ready by 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, in order that the ladies can prepare it.

The grounds will be illuminated with electricity and fixed up in style.

Burglar Choked a Lady.

Mrs. P S Baker, a widow lady living at King's Mountain, had a thrilling experience and desperate struggle with a burglar Tuesday night last. A man had entered the room in which she was sleeping and with an axe, tried to prize open a bureau drawer, which awakened the lady. She spoke as if to her husband, and at the sound of her voice, the wretch seized and choked her until life was all but gone. She made sufficient noise, however, to arouse her daughters, who occupied a room in the second story. The young ladies gave an alarm, but before men folks could reach the scene the midnight marauder had fled, leaving his axe on foot of the prostrate woman's bed. Mrs. Baker soon revived, and is not thought to be seriously hurt. She was terribly frightened by the horrible assault, and is yet quite weak.

One William Smarr, colored, is now under arrest on circumstantial evidence, which is very strong. The people are indignant and feeling strong.

If the people become satisfied that Smarr is the man, the usual result in such cases may follow.

Rev. H N Miller, president of Mount Amena Seminary, at Mount Pleasant, was in the city today, on his return from a trip through South Carolina, where he has been quite successful in securing students for his school. He will make another visit to the Palmetto State within the next few weeks. School begins on September 9th.

CAME NEAR DROWNING.

Fell from a foot Log into Buffalo Creek—Rescued by His Brother.

Jay, the 7-year-old son of Henry Wisenheimer, who lives on Mr. Jim Deaton's place in No. 4 township, narrowly escaped drowning Wednesday. He was crossing the creek, walking a foot-log, when he slipped off into the raging stream. His 13-year-old brother was with him, and seeing the perilous situation of his little brother plunged headlong into the stream and rescued him. The two boys were carried about 40 feet down the stream, which was swollen out of its regular channel, and it is said that had it not been for the swiftness of the water both boys would have been drowned.
