The Discovery Saved His Life

Mr. G. Cailloutte, Druggist, at Beaverville, Ill., says: To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it. Get a free trial at Fetzler's Drug Store.

Capt. Barringer Dead.

News reached the city Sunday morning announcing the death of Capt. C A Barringer, of No. 2 township, a note of whose illness appeared in this paper several weeks ago.

Capt. Barringer had been an invalid for a long time, having suffered several strokes of paralysis, and was patient through it all until the cold clutches of death bore his soul to the great beyond Sunday morning at 3.30 o'clock.

Deceased was 78 years of age, and leaves three living children, Mrs. S C Alexander, of this city, Mrs. Barnett, of Mecklenburg, and Mr. Watt W Barringer, of No. 3 township.

Baseball Tomorrow and Wednesday at Southside Park—Boys in Excellent Shape.

No game that has ever been pulled off in this city, has created as much talk and general interest as the games booked for tomorrow and Wednesday between Concord and Greensboro. Everybody is talking baseball and no doubt the largest gathering of enthusiasts ever assembled for the purpose of witnessing a like contest in our city, will hug the grand stand and bleachers. The new grounds at Southside park are in trim and the boys are in excellent shape.

Tickets for the game are on sale at Johnson's drug store and at Marsh's drug store. General admission will be 15 cents and 10 cents extra for grand stand seats.

The boys deserve good patronage and will doubtless have it, as they put up good ball.

Had to Borrow His Friend's Horse.

A young gentlemen of the city went to the country to see his best girl Sunday night, and after unhitching his spirited steed from the buggy, he put the animal in the stable and tied him with a halter. After spending several hours at the house with the object nearest and dearest to his heart, the young man got out his horse, and thinking more about the separation than he did the horse, the halter slipped off and the beast made a break for his home at Brown's stable, and didn't stop until he got there.

The young man says he borrowed a horse from a friend to bring him home, and as there is no one to prove that he didn't walk, the story goes. A Query—Guess who?

A Good Move.

Rev. Steffey is not only doing a good work, ministerially, at St. John's, but is going out into the highways and is looking after the neglected ones of the flock. There is an essentially Lutheran element in and about the Plott school house neighborhood that needs a house of worship nearer to them.

The proper committees are formed and work will soon be begun to build a house of worship there. This is a good move and we hope will prove eminently successful.

Gash in Her Forehead.

Sunday morning while Mr. and Mrs. D B Coltrane were attending services at Central Methodist church, their little children were left at home, and were engaged in walking about the yard with their eyes closed when little Ruth, their five-year-old daughter, fell over the curbing into the pool surmounting the fountain, cutting quite a severe gash on her forehead. The cut was painful and makes an ugly wound. Dr. W H Lilly was called in and dressed the wound taking several stitches.

NAUGHTY CONDUCT.

Visitors Treated Badly by Young Rude Boys

Meanness on the part of perpetrators will be found out by some one who is not interested, and there are several youngsters in town, who engaged in very naughty conduct Sunday night. Two young gentlemen (we say gentlemen, because their conduct indicated as much,) from Salisbury, called on a lady, and after leaving the house a shower of rocks followed them. Fortunately, no one was hurt. The young men stood their grounds like brave soldiers, and offered to defend their privileges, but the mischievous boys did not make themselves visible to the eyes of the visitors.

Such outrages should be stopped, and if the offenders are caught, they will be severely punished. The authorities have the matter in hands and will adjust differences their way, when the case is ferreted out.

They will get 'em.
