RIOT AMONG MINERS.

A Bloody Battle—Nine Men Fatally Injured and Two Score More Seriously Wounded—An Outcome of the Hazelton Trouble.

Girardville, Pa., September 27.—At least nine men received fatal injuries and possibly two score others were more or less seriously wounded in a bloody riot here late last night and early this morning. The battle was the outcome of a quarrel over the Hazelton troubles. Thirty-six men are known to have been wounded, and about fifty more are being secreted by their friends through fright that they will be sent to jail.

The story of the riot is as follows: Several hundred Polanders boarded at William Culacabbage's hotel, on Second street. Joseph Cavandish is proprietor of a hotel at the east end of the town, where several hundred more Polanders make their headquarters. Bad blood has existed between them for a long time, and the recent strike troubles at Hazelton embittered them still more. Last night matters came to a crisis.

Culacabbage, it is charged, and his followers, to the number of several hundred, arming themselves with guns, revolvers, knives, axes and clubs, marched to Cavandish's hotel, where several hundred of their enemies are celebrating pay day. The Cavandish men ascertained that their foes were marching on them and arming themselves hurriedly, awaited their arrival. After a demonstrative march the Culacabbage contingent arrived and immediately stormed the saloon. Then a bloody battle ensued. The men fought like demons, the shooting was fast and furious, and axes, knives, clubs, and other weapons were used with deadly effect. The battle lasted almost an hour, when the Culacabbage was routed, leaving their wounded behind.

After the routed rioters had returned to their headquarters, the Cavandish gang armed themselves and marched to their enemies' rendezvous, where a battle still bloodier than the first ensued. The police force and the constables of the surrounding region were called to the scene, but were unable to cope with the rioting crowd which continued hostilities until this morning.

A Cow Dies of Hydrophobia.

The Jacksonville Times says a valuable cow belonging to Sheriff Hargett died last Thursday night from what was believed to be hydrophobia. The cow has refused to eat for some time; would not allow herself to be milked and was inclined to be vicious, not only towards other cattle, but also to her attendants. The viciousness increased, until she was confined where she could do no harm; convulsions followed in rapid succession until death relieved her of her suffering. It is said that the cow was bitten about three months ago by a dog which had rabies.

Bloomer Girls Run a Harvester.

Four young women clad in bloomers walked into the fields of Lassen county last week and asked permission to work the harvester. They were Orro Dowell, Gertie Sawyer, Lillie Dowell and Fellie Packwood. It was granted them and they proceeded to action. One of them climbed to the driver's seat and began to guide the twenty-six horses around the field, another attended the binder, a third took charge of the sack sewing, and the fourth ran the separator. A whole morning was spent in this interesting occupation, and then, without mishaps or adventures, they retired, leaving the astonished men in possession.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The report comes from Providence, R I., that when laborers were removing, a few days ago, the ruins of the Masonic temple that was burned a year or more ago, they found a mouldering fire that burst into flames as soon as air was admitted to the embers.

Ran in the Blood.

The ordinary of a Georgia county invited all the war veterans to meet at his office on a certain day. When the day arrived he was surprised at the number of young men who put in an appearance.

"Gentlemen," said he, "there must be some mistake, I wanted to meet war veterans and I am here confronted with a majority of the young men of the country."

"Ordinary," spoke up one tall, sockless fellow, "it's true we never done no fighting, but our families did, an' ef we don't inherit the darned war I'd like to know who does."—Atlanta Constitution.
