BROTHER HALE TOO FRACTIONOUS.

We have on our exchange list few if any of wider acquaintance with men and measures, facts and fiction, ethics and aesthetics, than the Fayetteville Observer, and there are few pens whose readiness we would rather possess than Editor Hale's. So much the more is our astonishment and regret that he will now wield that pen, as in the following, with a determination, it seems, to fight a profitless battle, instead of uniting with most of the press over the State in the effort to rid the grand old commonwealth of her present shameful regime:

"Well, we have had a pretty close call here in North Carolina; but after a fortnight's campaign, Democracy and Bryanism hold the field. The enemy are no longer in sight, their cue now being to avoid all agitation of the vital question, 'How can the two wings of Vance's victorious Democracy be gotten together again.' The Democracy's object, on the contrary, must be to get the goldbugs out into 'the open' once more. If we succeed in forcing them to discuss the question, the people will soon see the utter folly of the goldbug position and will be prepared to send only true Democrats to the State convention."

This is from the Observer of September 30th, with no campaign at hand, but a time preeminently fit to lay aside a question on which honest men differ, and which has but a very indirect interest in the next State campaign, if any at all. Further on the Observer says:

"The head light of the grand circuit here in our State has retired with a snarl, and the little lights are quite dim again. Let us stir them up."

The head light of the grand circuit, we presume, refers to the Charlotte Observer, for in the same column he is pleased to quote the Morganton Farmer's Friend, in which that journal says:

"In fact we express the opinion that without Editor Caldwell there would be no gold men or Cleveland men in the State."

This is indeed very complimentary to Editor Caldwell, but it is altogether more influence than we think he or any one else of his good sense would claim, and must recoil on the soundness of views of the author.

In the same issue of the Observer Mr. Hale is pleased to say:

"The issues are the same today; it is the question whether we will re-unite the whites whom Vance led to victory or permit the Cleveland scalawags to divide us in the interest of Republicanism."

This is with reference to Vance's famous campaign in 1886.

Now in the name of common sense, can we get together to regain the State for good government if we are going to expend our energies at alienating each other?

Now we would like to believe strongly that free coinage would bring about all necessary financial reform, it would be nice to be in the swim, but we do not want to become so enthused over free silver as to believe that nobody is sincerely of the opposite conviction, nor would we want to indulge in unkind epithets upon them. The fact is we have no convictions so strong just now as that we should unite to oust the present political domination in the State and we wish Mr. Hale could be more considerate of the feelings of honest opponents and more amicable in the pursuit of unity and ultimate victory.

A FABLE SNAKE ADVENTURE.

Mr. J. T. McEnnis, of Robeson county, tells us of a very thrilling adventure with a large rattle snake last week. He was in his low grounds, and as he stepped over a log he felt something under his foot, and on looking down, he was horrified to see that he was on a large snake. But for the fact that the snake had just swallowed a rabbit, which prevented him from striking, Mr. McEnnis would have had trouble. The snake had 18 rattles, and was the largest ever killed in this section, says the hero of the story.—Fayetteville Observer.

If you feel unappreciated, before you begin to think harshly of others, are you just sure that you have so lived as to merit the best opinions and support of the meritorious and the true? These days, as of others, a thing or person, ought to prosper and will succeed according to deserts. Excellence should be required, and we will be encouraged, if worthy. Nothing less should be given, nothing more asked in return. Good sentiment leads to a noble superstructure, but is not the building.—Marion Messenger.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greene, merchant, of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption and was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by the use of two bottles. For the past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for coughs, colds and consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at Fetzer's Drug store.

Proprietor.

Rev. J. L. Winfield, editor of the Watch Tower, the organ of the Christian Church in North Carolina, died Tuesday at Washington, N. C.

To Fine Them $500.
At a recent meeting of the board of alderman for Salisbury, an ordinance was passed prohibiting the popping of fire-crackers at any time during the Christmas holidays, making the penalty a fine of $500 for each offense.

WARNING.

We wish to caution all users of Simmons Liver Regulator on a subject of the deepest interest and importance to their health—perhaps their lives. The sole proprietors and makers of Simmons Liver Regulator learn that customers are often deceived by buying and taking some medicine of a similar appearance or taste, believing it to be Simmons Liver Regulator. We warn you that unless the word Regulator is on the package or bottle, that it is not Simmons Liver Regulator. No one else makes, or ever has made Simmons Liver Regulator, or anything called Simmons Liver Regulator, but J. H. Zeilin & Co., and no medicine made by anyone else is the same. We alone can put it up, and we cannot be responsible, if other medicines represented as the same do not help you as you are led to expect they will. Bear this fact well in mind, if you have been in the habit of using a medicine which you supposed to be Simmons Liver Regulator, because the name was somewhat like it, and the package did not have the word Regulator on it, you have been imposed upon and have not been taking Simmons Liver Regulator at all. The Regulator has been favorably known for many years, and all who use it know how necessary it is for Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Constipation, Headache, Dyspepsia, and all disorders arising from a Diseased Liver.

We ask you to look for yourselves, and see that Simmons Liver Regulator, which you can readily distinguish by the Red Z in wrapper, and by our name, is the only medicine called Simmons Liver Regulator.
