COME AND GO.

John Robinson & Franklin Bros. Shows Gave Two Performances—Large Crowds.

John Robinson's name is a familiar one to this section of the country, and when his name is attached to a circus bill, no better draw card is needed. The grandson of the famous John Robinson of old carries with him the same magnetic powers of his sire, and when the doors were opened to the great throng of people who had assembled here to witness the performance there were thousands of souls to make a rush for seats under the vast canvass.

The show was not the largest or best that has ever visited our city, but the performances, both afternoon and evening, were good, taken as a whole. The grandest feature of the circus was the splendid riding.

Some very daring and thrilling acrobatic feats were performed, which deserve special praise. The performing elephants, too, added greatly to the success of the show. The clowns were clever with their jokes, and the usual vulgar expressions from this class of fun-makers were conspicuous for their omission.

The show people had large audiences at both the performances.

The circus trains left our city for Salisbury sometime after midnight.

Surprised the Preacher.

Rev. S. D. Steffey and family returned to their home at St. John's last Saturday, after a visit to relatives in Virginia, and on arriving at home they found a great surprise awaiting them. Members of his congregation had gone to Rev. Steffey's home, set the house in order, prepared the meal, and, in fact, did everything possible to make their pastor and his family feel the hearty welcome of their return home. Many nice presents were left at the parsonage, for which Rev. Steffey is truly thankful to one and all.

HOW WAS HE KILLED?

Warren Chambers Found Sunday Near Harrisburg With His Skull Crushed—He Died Yesterday.

The Charlotte Observer of today says: "Warren Chambers, a well known colored man of this city, was found lying by the Southern Railway track near Harrisburg Sunday with a ball in the side of his head, behind the right ear, his right side paralyzed and the blood issuing from his nose and mouth. He was picked up and taken to the station, and Capt. Ryder wired. John Chambers, brother of the injured man, was notified, and at his request the latter was brought here. He was unconscious when found, and remained so until his death, which took place yesterday morning at 11 o'clock.

The negro, it seems, was a machinist by trade. He worked for some time at Wilkes' foundry and afterward on the railroad. He had secured a job at Spencer, and left here Sunday morning on the 5.20 train for Salisbury. He was seen to enter the car at the station, and nothing more was heard of him until he was picked up near Harrisburg, in the condition above described. Just how he was hurt is not known. Although he was said to be lying close by the track, three trains passed him without seeing him. He was not picked up until 12 o'clock Sunday. He had money enough, his brother said, to pay his fare, but whether he was beating his way or not no one knows. Deceased leaves a wife and five children. His brother, John Chambers, also lives here. The remains were sent last night, on No. 12, to Salisbury for burial.

"Officer Jetton says he pulled the same man off the railroad track one night about two weeks ago. He was drunk and had fallen asleep on the track."

Mt. Pleasant and College Items.

Mr. Mose Farr, father of our college boy Henry, was up to see his son Sunday.

Mr. Lingle, of near Salisbury, spent Sunday in our town. He came to visit his son at North Carolina College.

Misses Gertrude Sieber and Mamie Ury spent Saturday and Sunday at Mr. Frank Barrier's, several miles out in the country. They were the guests of little Miss Lucy Barrier.

A good many of our town boys went to Concord to "see the animals."

Mr. Arthur Patterson, of China Grove, spent Sunday and Sunday night in our town. He not only came to see his brother and sister, but some other person's sister. Come again, Arthur.

Our boys are to have a ball ground after all. It is rather late in the season to play ball, but it will just be in good trim for next spring.

Messrs. Chas. Phillips, Hugh Origler and Paul Bost went to Concord tonight to see the show.

Miss Annie Fisher, of the Seminary, who has been spending a few days at her home in Snodgrassville, has returned to her studies.

One of our Juniors went to the Seminary Saturday night to call on one of the teachers. Several of our boys finding it out, gave him a serenade, which consisted of both vocal and instrumental music. It is said that some of it was very appropriate and much appreciated.
