SHORT ITEMS.

Paragraphed, refiled and Properly Placed Here.

The protracted meeting at Forest Hill closed Tuesday night.

The steam laundry will be in readiness for business in about ten days.

Fair and warmer tonight and tomorrow, is the prediction of the forecast.

Several new houses are in course of erection on Simpson street at Forest Hill.

A half dozen Mountain wagons, loaded with apples, chestnuts and cabbage, struck our town this morning.

Mr. Robert Hodson, who has been confined to his room for several weeks with rheumatism, is able to be out again.

GREAT SALES prove the great merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Hood's Sarsaparilla sells because it accomplishes GREAT CURES.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ridenhour have moved into the Gillon house, on West Corbin street, recently vacated by Mr. Fred Swink.

For nice bread, cakes, pies and candies, every day, call at the Concord City Bakery, on East Depot street.

The mite meeting of the First Presbyterian church, will hold its weekly session on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. E. A. King.

Mr. R. P. Black, the popular clerk at Cannon & Fetzer Co.'s, says that Mr. Harry DeGastor, the new barber at Sells & Hartman's, gave him the best shave he ever had.

A number of young people from the city attended a dance five miles in the country Wednesday night. A delightful time was had. Twenty-five couples were in attendance.

Thirteen weavers left their looms, fifty-three in number, at the Salisbury cotton mills Tuesday last, and spent the day in sight-seeing at Robinson and Franklin Bros. circus.

A gentleman coming in from Charlotte this morning, stated that 81 bales of cotton, from near Pineville, passed through Charlotte this morning at an early hour, heading for this market.

Edward C. Ray, a North Carolinian and former citizen of Charlotte, died in New Orleans Wednesday, a victim of yellow fever. Other members of his family have had the fever, but recovered.

For the last few weeks, the Sunday-school of Trinity Reformed church has been preparing for a Sesqui-Centennial service. This service will be held on Sunday, October 17th, beginning at 11 o'clock, a. m. Would there be anything interesting to you in such service?

What is the Value of Life?

The following contribution was sent THE STANDARD by a lady friend of the county, which we publish for the benefit of all concerned:

Nothing to breathe but air,
Nothing to eat but food,
Nothing to wear but clothes
To keep us from going nude.

Nothing to do but things,
Quick as a flash they're gone.
Nowhere to fall but off,
Nowhere to sit but on.

Nothing to quench but a thirst;
Nowhere to sleep but in bed.
Nothing to have but what we've got,
Nothing to bury but dead.

Nothing to weep but tears.
Ah me! Alas and alack!
Nowhere to go but out,
Nowhere to come but back.

What is the value of life?

The Big Warehouse.

The material for the construction of the large cotton warehouse for the Odell manufacturing company is being placed on the ground.

The warehouse will be built in the rear of No. 2 mill, and will be located in a position that will cut off Forest Hill street at the big well, somewhat changing the course of the street, which will bend and come out into Church street just above the Walker store room. Several of the old houses that stood on Forest Hill street, facing the factory, have been torn away to make room for the new building.
