WHITE CAPS ABOUT.

Two Girls Beaten, Tarr'd and Feather'd—Bloodhounds on the Trail.

Oakwood, Nov. 13.—The white caps maltreated two young girls here last night and the community is thoroughly incensed. The girls were named Edith and May Roberts and were only seventeen and nineteen years of age respectively. A white cap notice had been sent to the girls sometime ago warning them to leave the county and transferring them with dire punishment if they remained. They paid no attention to the notice and last night ten men went to the house where they were sleeping, awakened them, tarred and feathered and beat them terribly. One of the girls had a flesh cut to the bone with a pocket-knife. Bloodhounds have been placed on the trail of the men.

The Two-Headed Woman

Wagoner to the club while her husband tends the baby, as well as the good old-fashioned woman who looks after her home, will both at times get run down in health. They will be troubled with loss of appetite, headaches, sleeplessness, fainting or dizzy spells. The most wonderful remedy for these women is Electric Bitters. Thousands of sufferers from Lame Back and Weak Kidneys rise up and call it blessed. It is the medicine for women. Female complaints and Nervous troubles of all kinds are soon relieved by the use of Electric Bitters. Delicate women should keep this remedy on hand to build up the system. Only 50c. per bottle. For sale by P. B. Fetzer.

The Mite Meeting.

The regular Mite meeting of the Presbyterian church was held Friday night at the St. Cloud Hotel. The amusement committee had "old chestnuts," as the thing to amuse them. Each person had a chestnut and also had to tell one, which made it a very amusing and interesting thing. The one telling the best "old chestnut" was given a nice picture, which was presented Mr. Charley Craven. "Little drops of water," etc., was Mr. Aubrey Hoover's chestnut, and by a unanimous decision, he was awarded a bag of chestnuts, tied with red ribbon, as the booby prize.

"Aunt" Lou Entertains.

Aunt Lou Moss gave an elegant tea to some of her white friends, Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Those present were, Mrs. E. C. Cannon, of Charlotte, Mrs. J. W. Cannon, Miss Nan Cannon, Masters Archie and Charles Cannon. The occasion was highly enjoyed by Aunt Lou's friends, as a token of that un fading attachment and fidelity, so strong in the bosoms of the ante bellum type of the colored race, and by Aunt Lou as a mark of reciprocal kindly regard and special honor to her.

THE TWO-HEADED WOMAN.

She Pays Twice at the Hotel But Rides on One Fare.

It takes a pretty tough case to get ahead of Capt. Will Stagg, conductor on the Winston train, but he found one that stopped him. It is thus told to the Winston Journal:

There was fun for the passengers on the train the other evening. One of the passengers was Millie Christine, the two-headed woman, and when the conductor came to this dual piece of humanity only one of the heads handed him a ticket. The conductor then demanded a ticket from the other. The manager, who was in the seat behind, mentioned to the conductor that as she was only one woman only one ticket was required. But the conductor did not see it in that light, so again insisted on a ticket.

Finally the Millie head said she had given a ticket for her ride and told the conductor he would have to put the Christine head off the train, as she had no ticket, but in order to put off the Christine head, who had no ticket, he would have to put off the Millie head, who had a ticket. So the conductor came to the conclusion that he would let both ride on the same ticket, as the one that did pay her fare would sue the company for damages for putting her off the train. The conductor then continued collecting the other tickets amidst the laughter of the passengers who overheard the conversation.

"Her manager claims that she is only one person physically and only occupies one seat; that one fare on the railroad pays for both; but at the hotels they pay fare for two, as both heads eat and expect service for two."—Asheville Citizen.

Louis Bonds Dead.

Mr. Louis Bonds, of No. 6 township, who has had a cancer on his face for several years, died at his home Thursday last. He had been confined to his bed for about six months, and death came not unexpected. Mr. Bonds was a good citizen and had a good name among all that knew him. We failed to learn his age but he is at least 50 years old, and leaves a family.

His remains were interred at Lower Stone church Friday.

• WARNING.

We wish to caution all users of Simmons Liver Regulator on a subject of the deepest interest and importance to their health—perhaps their lives. The sole proprietors and makers of Simmons Liver Regulator learn that customers are often deceived by buying and taking some medicine of a similar appearance or taste, believing it to be Simmons Liver Regulator. We warn you that unless the word Regulator is on the package or bottle, that it is not Simmons Liver Regulator. No one else makes, or ever has made Simmons Liver Regulator, or anything called Simmons Liver Regulator, but J. H. Zelin & Co. and no medicine made by anyone else is the same. We alone can put it up, and we cannot be responsible, if other medicines represented as the same do not help you as you are led to expect they will. Bear this fact well in mind, if you have been in the habit of using a medicine which you supposed to be Simmons Liver Regulator, because the name was somewhat like it, and the package did not have the word Regulator on it, you have been imposed upon and have not been taking Simmons Liver Regulator at all. The Regulator has been favorably known for many years, and all who use it know how necessary it is for Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Constipation, Headache, Dyspepsia, and all disorders arising from a Diseased Liver.

We ask you to look for yourselves, and see that Simmons Liver Regulator, which you can readily distinguish by the Red Z in wrapper, and by our name is the only medicine called Simmons Liver Regulator.

Hurried to Knehe Future.

Joe. C Buller, of Big Stone Gap, Va., committed suicide at Central Hotel, N. on Friday. It is not stated that he was especially skeptical, yet had a strange absence of all idea what life is and is for. He had had curiosity to learn what is after life and gave himself the opportunity to verify his theories, but to benefit himself by his knowledge if his theories should prove true. In a letter to his brother says:

"For my fit I ask only the charity of life. If I possessed any virtues, them live in memory. You will know, be interested in knowing how a person feels who is about to go into the unknown world. Hence I will tell you what my feelings are. I wonder, I doubt, I hope, but all the wonder and the doubt and hope, a feeling of intense cure prevails. What is the future? believe I know, but it is only a life. I am very curious to verify it, the feeling of fear is absent. I am going from here to the Eden Me, to play chess with the automaton. This fact illustrates my mental ditior, perhaps, better than a volume of my writing would. De seems to me to be merely an act of no more importance, say, in breakfast. I love life, and I hope to leave it, but the summons has been served, and I must answer. And now, good-bye. We will meet again.

Your brother,
"J. C. BULLITT, JR."
