RECORD AND RECORDER.

There is a queer situation among the newspapers of our neighbor, Mooreville. It seems that Editor Starrette had some financial misfortune by which the office equipments changed hands, the purchaser understanding that he had bought the Mooreville Record. Mr. Starrette, however, claims the Record with all there is in the name and reputation as his own personal right, and continues the publication of the Mooreville Record. The purchaser of the outfit, however, from his point of view, proceeded to issue the Mooreville Record for a while.

It had the appearance of doubtful, if not dangerous ground, so he added one syllable to the name and made it the Mooreville Recorder. Mr. Starrette claims that the name is confusing and unfair to him. He says he will soon be in possession of a complete outfit and hopes to merit and reap the benefits of the Record's reputation.

WAIT BOYS.

It is wonderful what privileges are claimed by friends of conspicuous characters. The Princeton College boys, having secured the old man Cleveland as a personal friend and finding in him a very worthy subject on whom to bestow special honors (we beg pardon) thought they would surely be allowed to name the baby. But not so. The Old Man knows his own prerogatives and dares maintain his rights. This son of his illustrious father is named Richard Folsom instead of Grover Cleveland, Jr., as the boys had decided in college caucus. The boys take this a little hard but they may understand later that a man feels important enough at the birth of his first son to allow none but the better half to share the privilege in naming the kid.

Household Gods.

The ancient Greeks believed that the Penates were the gods who attended to the welfare and prosperity of the family. They were worshipped as household gods in every home. The household god of today is Dr. King's New Discovery. For consumption, coughs, colds and for all affections of throat, chest and Lungs it is invaluable. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and is guaranteed to cure, or money returned. No household should be without this good angel. It is pleasant to take and a safe and sure remedy for old and young. Free trial bottles at Metzger's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

Hurt in the Harrisburg wreck.

Mr. J. H. Mayes, of Whitinsville, Mass., who is stopping at the Buford, is going south on his first trip since the spring.

It will be remembered that he was one of the passengers on the vestibule train that was wrecked in the collision at Harrisburg.

The shock of the collision threw him from his seat, and injured him painfully, but it was thought he would recover from his injuries in a few days.

He went to his home in Connecticut, and there his injuries kept him confined to his bed until a few days ago. He is yet quite lame, and thinks he will always carry the effects of the accident.—Charlotte News.

A Cure for Indigestion.

"A Seaford, Del., doctor has prescribed kissing as a sure cure for indigestion, and some chronic dyspeptics there will form a society to advance the idea. One man who has suffered with the trouble for twenty years, and tried hot water, pills of all sorts and massage, claims to have been cured by regularly kissing a pretty girl. He says it excites the nerves of the mouth and thus aids digestion."

[This is a very simple remedy, and, we suppose, in some cases not very expensive. Of course the young folks are victims to this malady much more than older people. Probably the young man who knocked Mr. Fred Schade, the bicyclist, down was only curing his girl of his dreaded disease when that match was struck the other night in Washington City.

Henry Watterson's Opinion.

Col. Henry Watterson, of Kentucky, visited the Guilford Battle Ground a few days, while at Greensboro and found it a very memorable spot after learning its history. The following paragraph is taken from the Greensboro Record in regard to it:

"Truly this is a most pleasant surprise. A noble work has already been done here and the fact should be constantly kept before the American people. Not one man in a thousand of those who are learned in Revolutionary history has any idea of what has been done on this sacred field."

New Telephone System.

The Concord Telephone Company is to be congratulated on the progress they are making for our people. The poles are now being rapidly put up, and soon our town will be netted with intersecting wires, and it will be "Hello!" from morning till night. The 'phones are up-to-date ones, being of a nice oak finish, and of the latest pattern. Not only are they nice-looking, but the cost is considerably less than the former price of 'phones in our town. Mr. L. D. Coltrane informs us today (Tuesday) that he has about 32 subscriptions to it already, and the prospects are bright for some others. The work is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and it is thought that in two weeks yet it will be in running order.

Sale of Property.

On the 7th day of December, 1897, I will sell to the highest bidder the following property: One horse, one buggy, one one-horse wagon, some hogs, cows, farming utensils, a lot of corn, wheat, oats, hay, fodder, straw, shucks and all my household and kitchen furniture. Also a lot of chickens, turkeys and a good cook stove.

The sale will be at my residence six miles east of Concord.
M. M. HEGLAR.

Dr. Miles' Pure Pills are guaranteed to stop Headache in 20 minutes. One cent a dose.

Capt. Cook and His Trip.

Capt. Cook came in Sunday night from Columbia, S. C., where he attended the South Carolina State Fair.

He says the Fair was a success. On Thursday the ticket agent estimated that 16,000 people were on the Fair grounds. The exhibits, he said, were of a high order.

The Cleveland Bicycle Company, he said, had their 24 pound wheel ridden by the 525 pound man. The 98 pound woman was there with her sister that weighs 65 pounds and is 6 feet and ten inches high. He saw the petrified man found lately in the branch of the Saluda river. He says it is impressive and almost complete.

The Captain's chief pleasure was derived from a trip to Charleston, where he rendered much of his service to the Confederacy.

He stood on the Battery (which is part of the park) from where he had a good view of Sullivan's Island, James Island, Morris Island, Mt. Pleasant, Fort Sumter and Fort Castle, where the stirring events in the late war will forever be a matter of the keenest interest to the participants.

Beside viewing the battle scenes and treading the streets through which he marched during the war, he visited St. Michael's Episcopal church, built in 1761, and saw the seat on which George Washington sat at worship in his day and that Gen. Lee occupied in 1862. He also visited Old St. John's church, built in 1756, served so long by the great Naturalist, Dr. Backman. He is buried beneath the floor of the church and a marble cross just in front of the altar marks the spot.

The Captain says they have only recently gotten rid of the old horse cars but that the new electric street railway is the finest track he knows of. There is no galloping on the line.

Jail News.

Three persons were brought to jail Monday evening from No. 1 township, to await trial next court. The names are John Means, Bess Means and Emma Means, charged with the stealing of corn from Mr. Frank Dry. They were tried before Esq. J. M. W. Alexander.
