A RUNAWAY.

Horses Become Frightened While Loading Lumber and Take a Long Run.

This (Saturday) morning at a while after 8 o'clock, while the team of Mr. M J Corl was at the depot waiting for a load of lumber, they became frightened and ran away. They ran up Depot street, going on through town towards the Three Mile branch. When they were going down the steep hill on this side of the branch, they met Mr. Jim Sapp, who had on a load of wood, and realizing his danger, ran up on the bank. Driving too far up the bank, his load of wood turned over in the road, but no damage was done by the runaway team.

The runaway team still kept going at a break-neck speed until they got to Mr. W C Goodman's, just on this side of Cold Water creek, where they met Mr. Caleb Cline's two small boys with a load of wood. The loaded wagon was turned over, one of the mules knocked down, and the wagon broken at several places. Fortunately the boys escaped without injury, having either been knocked off or else jumped just when the two wagons struck.

No damage scarcely was done to Mr. Corl's wagon or team, though one of Mr. Cline's mules is badly bruised up and the flesh is torn in several places.

This makes twice that Mr. Sapp has had an encounter with a runaway team, the two not being far apart, having once had a collision with the large horses now belonging to Mr. J M Burrage, then belonging to Mr. Caleb Swink.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—kept on gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the other victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at P B Fetzer's Drug Store.

Shooting at the Train.

Thursday night as train No. 12 had passed Thomasville, some villain fired two pistol shots at the train, one of which struck between the windows of the express car and the other crashed through a window in the passenger coach where a number of passengers were sitting.

One man sitting near the window was covered with broken fragments of glass, but fortunately no one was hit by the ball.

This is getting to be a very frequent occurrence these days—either shooting with pistols or throwing rocks, and it is to be hoped that the railroad detectives will be able to catch some of these persons.

THE CONCEALED WEAPON LAW.

It Restrains Only the Peaceable—The Vicious Disregard It.

King's Weekly, of Greenville, is a paper which has a refreshing fashion of blurting out what it thinks, seemingly without regard to whether the proposition it announces is comfortable to the public or not. The following from a recent issue is a case in point:

"There is right much now being said about abolishing the hip pocket. It is a popular subject viewed from some standpoints, but the average citizen who has to hustle for a living, comes in contact with the world and look out for himself, often finds a necessity for two. Carrying concealed weapons has often resulted in fatal consequences, but it should not be forgotten that much life and property have more often been protected. No man who understands the times now existing among us fails to see justification in carrying concealed weapons. The law against it ought to be repealed. It is, of necessity, violated every day. It places the weak and law-abiding at the mercy of that element who care nothing for the law. And they are many. In these times, it is best that every man be prepared to defend himself at any time."

This is what a great many people are thinking and the idea upon which they are acting without the nerve to say it. There are many good and peaceable citizens who at times feel the need of carrying a gun and carry it, notwithstanding that there is a law against it. If the law restrains any class it is this class, for it is certain that it has no effect upon the lawless—the only class that needs to be deprived of its weapon. To the extent that it restrains the law-abiding, to that extent it places this class at the mercy of those who do not regard the law. But whether this is true or not it contravenes the very first American principle, the idea upon which all Democratic governments are built, to wit: that the citizen has the right to do as he pleases so long as he does not trench upon the rights of his neighbor. In following out this idea it is to be said that a man has an inherent right, of which the law cannot with justice deprive him, to carry a gun. The law has a right to collar him when he makes improper use of it—not before.—Salisbury Landmark.

Those Who Endure

The pains of rheumatism should be reminded that a cure for this disease may be found in Hood's Sarsaparilla. The experience of those who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for rheumatism, and have been completely and permanently cured, prove the power of this medicine to rout and conquer this disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the One True Blood Purifier, and it neutralizes the acid which causes the aches and pains of rheumatism. This is why it absolutely cures when liniments and other outward applications fail to give permanent relief. Be sure to get Hood's.

A new beet sugar factory near Rome, N. Y., which went into operation Oct. 1st, will work 15,000 tons of beets this season, the amount contracted for by the neighboring farmers, and will make about 12,000 barrels of granulated sugar. Next season the supply will be larger.—Salisbury Sun.

STUDENT.

WARNING.

We wish to caution all users of Simmons Liver Regulator on a subject of the deepest interest and importance to their health—perhaps their lives. The sole proprietors and makers of Simmons Liver Regulator learn that customers are often deceived by buying and taking some medicine of a similar appearance or taste, believing it to be Simmons Liver Regulator. We warn you that unless the word Regulator is on the package or bottle, that it is not Simmons Liver Regulator. No one else makes, or ever has made Simmons Liver Regulator, or anything called Simmons Liver Regulator, but J. H. Zeilin & Co., and the medicine made by anyone else is the same. We alone can put it up, and we cannot be responsible, if other medicines represented as the same do not help you as you are led to expect they will. Bear this fact well in mind, if you have been in the habit of using a medicine which you supposed to be Simmons Liver Regulator, because the name was somewhat like it, and the package did not have the word Regulator on it, you have been imposed upon and have not been taking Simmons Liver Regulator at all. The Regulator has been favorably known to many years, and all who use it know how necessary it is for Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Constipation, Headache, Dyspepsia, and all disorders arising from a Diseased Liver.

We ask you to look for yourselves, and see that Simmons Liver Regulator, which you can readily distinguish by the Red Z in wrapper, and by our name is the only medicine called Simmons Liver Regulator.

Fly Front Coats

are as much in style this season as ever. We have them in very handsome Black and colored Boucles and Kerseys.

Now we've done well with our Jackets and Capes this year. We bought them low, we sold them low. We sold lots of them, too. But the season is getting along and we want to close out what we've got. We won't carry a single Jacket over.

We've got about 15 or 18 very handsome and stylish Jackets left, and today we mark every one of them at Manufacturers' Cost.

This is no fake. We don't often advertise goods at cost, but when we do we mean it.

These are all new.
