A RESUME

Of the Work at Bethpage—Parting Sermon—From a Member for The Standard.

On January 2, '98, Rev. W M Shaw preached his last sermon at Bethpage Presbyterian church. It was a sad day for his many warm friends to think that perhaps these were the last words from the lips of him who has endeared himself to these people by words of comfort and cheer from the sacred volume, also the last words of admonition so gently and appropriately rendered. His sermon was based on the doxology of the Epistle of Jude, in which he beautifully exhorted the people to earnestly contend for and continue in the faith once delivered to the saints—also showing the certainty of the execution of judgment upon all the ungodly with all their wicked deeds, and showing the abundant sufficiency of the Lord Jesus Christ to present all his followers faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy, commend his hearers unto the only wise God, to whom only we should give all the honor and glory, he closed his discourse.

Rev. Shaw then read a short account of his work at Bethpage and from a report taken from the records, it was shown that during the six years labor there was taken into the church sixty-two by examination, twenty-two by letter—a total of eighty-four, and infant baptisms about fifty-seven.

The congregation contributed to all causes $3,678.00, an average of $613.00 each year. The present membership numbers 200. Thus closes his labors among us.

May the blessings of Almighty God go and abide with him and his dear ones to his new field of labor.

Another One on the Chain gang.

Policeman Bost seized a negro at the depot this (Wednesday) morning for beating a train. He gave his name as Adam Hart, and said his home was in Charlotte, but that he was on his way home from Baltimore. Being unable to pay his costs, he was put in the hands of Superintendent Blackwelder to be worked on the chain gang thirty days. Some of the colored people seem to know him and say that he is a preacher.

Wanted—A Correspondent.

The following dainty little verse was found at the bottom of an orange box in a store in Elkin during Christmas. Perhaps some of our lady readers would like to hear from the gentleman, so we publish his production, "just for fun."

I am a single man of twenty-one,
I pick oranges from sun to sun,
And if some pretty girl wants to correspond for fun,
Just address E A Dunn,
Homeland, Fla.

Here are some excellent maxims which it would be well to remember:

It is better to be nobly remembered than nobly born.

Whoever improves his opportunities will soon be improved by them.

He who wants to do a great deal of good at once will never do anything.

Showing our best side to others will cause them to show their best side to us.

There is no service like his who serves because he loves.—Ex.

COMMENTING ON OUR TOWN.

Honest Confessions By Other Towns—Concord Sets the Example.

Following is what the Oxford Ledger has to say about our town:

"The town of Concord has a population of 6,000. For fifteen years it has been without a bar room. Only one policeman is employed or needed. Thirty-two hundred of its citizens belong to some protestant church. Nearly $2,000,000 are invested in factories and everybody who wants work gets it. A capital system of public schools provides education for all the children. The banking facilities are good."

Following is what the Greenville Reflector says:

"This goes ahead of Greenville, still there are those who openly assert that liquor is an essential part of a town's prosperity. It is a thing hard to be understood how a business which has nothing for its object save the destruction of the people and lowering the moral tone of society can contribute anything to a town's prosperity.

"If soul and happiness destroying propensity is prosperity, then Greenville is indeed prosperous."

It need not be considered as boasting to say Concord has a combination of two elements of upbuilding as congenial as twin sisters, and to these her progress is largely due. No bar rooms makes more willing workers and makes invested capital remunerative, while these enterprises furnish employment at wages that spread happiness in the homes of many who without such employment would suffer abject poverty.

Reflexively our market is benefitted and the wave widens as it goes. Let those have their conspicuous and licensed dram shops who want them, but we don't want them. We have something better.

Robbed the Grave

A startling incident of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—kept on gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the other victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at P. B. Fetzner's Drug Store.

To the Thompson Orphanage.

Four of the unfortunate Ryan children, whose mother was so ruthlessly murdered and whose father was so justly hanged in Greensboro, have found refuge in the Thompson Orphanage at Charlotte.

The Discovery of the Day.

Aug. J Bogel, leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J F Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes, "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and today stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at P B Fetzner's Drug Store.

The X-Ray Finds It.

As noted Tuesday the little girl, Jennie Lewis, of Wilmington, was brought to the hospital at Charlotte to have some obstruction removed similar in effect to the thimble of little Ellen Harris. Prof. Smith came down to Charlotte last night and found the piece of hat pin with part of the head on it. The operation was set for today.

A Brutal Deed.

Daniel Hayes, colored, lives on Mr. Miranda Henderson's place, on the Beatty's Ford road. He had a fine milch cow. Sunday night some one entered his stable and cut the cow's tongue out. Hayes had to kill the cow Monday.—Charlotte Observer.

The British registrar general, Dr. Totham, has issued a supplemental report showing the influence of occupation upon male mortality. The clergy had the healthiest lives and after them came in turn lawyers, doctors and farmers. The good editors die young.—Ex.

Greensboro Record: Prof. Claxton of the North Carolina Journal of Education, has secured two hitherto unpublished letters of Gen. Lee on education, which will appear in the next number of his paper to be issued next week.

WARNING.

We wish to caution all users of Simmons Liver Regulator on a subject of the deepest interest and importance to their health—perhaps their lives. The sole proprietors and makers of Simmons Liver Regulator learn that customers are often deceived by buying and taking some medicine of a similar appearance or taste, believing it to be Simmons Liver Regulator. We warn you that unless the word Regulator is on the package or bottle, that it is not Simmons Liver Regulator. No one else makes, or ever has made Simmons Liver Regulator, or anything called Simmons Liver Regulator, but J. H. Zeilin & Co., and no medicine made by anyone else is the same. We alone can put it up, and we cannot be responsible, if other medicines represented as the same do not help you as you are led to expect they will. Bear this fact well in mind, if you have been in the habit of using a medicine which you supposed to be Simmons Liver Regulator, because the name was somewhat like it, and the package did not have the word Regulator on it, you have been imposed upon and have not been taking Simmons Liver Regulator at all. The Regulator has been favorably known for many years, and all who use it know how necessary it is for Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Constipation, Headache, Dyspepsia, and all disorders arising from a Diseased Liver.
