HERE TO SERVE.

THE STANDARD purposes to be in the very front for news and all that makes up a first class newspaper.

Friday it ought probably one of the first flashes over the wire of the railroad wreck near Charleston, though overstated, as first dispatches often are, and of the capture of Jim Coon in Davidson county, and procured by telephone the latest and most accurate data from the unfortunate source of gloom at Newell's. Saturday the phone was again made to serve in getting the most accurate news from the calamity to the family of Mr. J. L. Peck.

THE STANDARD under its present management has been before the citizens of Concord long enough, we hope, that all discerning citizens have learned that its whole bent is along the line of service to its patrons in particular and humanity in general.

It is no small gratification to its publishers that it enjoys many manifestations of appreciation and also that abiding friendship that is bracing amid the arduous labors to advance to ever increasing merits. Again it appeals to friends and patrons to furnish it with whatever news exists that is of interest to its readers. Are you or any one of your family or friends sick? The current of sympathy or aid will be turned to you by the statement of the fact in THE STANDARD. If you have friends visiting you please send a note stating it, and THE STANDARD will tell your friends, who will gladly extend the courtesies of visiting them, to your gratification. Have you any special source of joy or sorrow that could be shared by the public to your advantage let the STANDARD and its readers enter into them too. Many of these items we catch, but some will escape our best efforts.

We herewith send our greetings of thanks for past patronage, good will and forbearance with an abiding faith that our patrons will have no cause to regret lending that helping hand that is so essential to make our service a joy and their generous efforts a mutual benefit.

It's right hard to get a preacher in jail for forgery or anything else even, if you do you have a tough one. No wonder if he gets out as the Reverend Leslie Cook did, out of the Roanoke City jail last Friday night. He will turn up somewhere, we suppose, raising his hands in holy horror at the inconsistencies and the lethargy of church members.

MAY WITHDRAW THE RESIGNATION.

The judgeship is about to take another turn. The President can select but one, and the defeated fellows get mad. He can't please all. Besides, Judge Dick is convalescing so rapidly that the solution now thought of is that he will withdraw his resignation and hang on. That would imply, too, that Pritchard is the logical appointee, and in the event of triumphant fusion again, Pritchard's successor could be named from among the social circle when he would step into Judge Dick's shoes. But then what if Judge Dick were to grow into a senile fondness for his job and would refuse to give it up when all things should become new ready?

The condition of Mr. Gladstone is not assuring. Much solicitude is felt for the great English statesman.

The confirmation of General Longstreet's appointment as railroad commissioner is sharply opposed, but will probably be made.

It has been reported, but promptly denied, that Mr. St. John will retire from the Seaboard Air-Line to accept the management of the Union Pacific.

Dr. T. De Wit Talmage was married in Pittsburg, on the 22nd inst., to Miss Elenore M. Collier of that city. She is 40 years old, while the noted divine is 66. She is his third wife.

The President has nominated Governor John W. Griggs, of New Jersey, for Attorney General, now that Mr. McKenna has been seated on the Supreme Court bench.

There's an immense amount of fuss stirred up and kept boiling in France over the Drayfus case. A fist-cuff fight having occurred in the Chamber of Deputies, Saturday, over this bone of contention.

The Elements That Are Opposed to Reputation.

Our observation is that the press of North Carolina, that part of it, at least which has always been for good laws and honest government, and honesty in business transactions and every day life, are speaking in no uncertain sound against the crime of repudiation. It is very evident that if the repudiationist flourishes in this grand old State it will be after the power of the press of North Carolina is trampled into the dust. You can curb its power but can never conquer it.

Nor is the press the only class that is rising in its might, to suppress this great wrong. The minister, the lawyer, the teacher, the doctor, the merchant, the common laborer—every one, who is honest in purpose and thought are a unit against repudiation of honestly contracted debts.—Newton Enterprise.

Another negro has been appointed postmaster in Halifax county. The office to be so filled is no less important one than Weldon, for which position a respectable and worthy lady, Mrs. W. B. Green, daughter of the late deceased Republican postmaster, W. H. Cepell, was a candidate. J. H. Howard, a local negro politician, is the new McKinley appointee. Comment is unnecessary.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

SPINAL weakness easily cured by Dr. Miles' Nerve Plaster.

Tell it to the Newspaper Man.

There is a golden mean in the way of news carriers. There is a class, composed mostly of men and women, who vex the righteous soul of the newspaper man by eternally trying to get themselves noticed in the columns of the paper. And there is another class which studiously avoids giving a reporter any news. We agree with the reporter who said that there are many good items of news lost to the newspapers by the modesty of the people who hesitate to tell the reporters of matters concerning themselves. No; that they do not want it to appear in print, but are afraid they would be pushing themselves forward. This is a wrong idea. From a repertorial standpoint, the man who will stop a newspaper man on the street and inform him that he has been to some other city, that he is going to get married, or his wife entertained friends from a distance, is the best man alive. May his likeness increase throughout the earth. If you have done anything mean or disreputable it isn't necessary to tell it, for there are always plenty of people who will do that for you. It is good things about yourself and neighborhood that the newspaper man wants you to give him. There is always some one who will tell the bad news about you.—Monroe Enquirer.

The suicide record for 1897 is a startling one. There were, according to the record of the Chicago Tribune, 6,600 suicides in this country, of which 5,186 were men and 1,414 women. Looking at the causes assigned for these crimes, the Tribune gives despondency as the most prolific reason for suicide, and poison as the most common agency employed.
