LEE LEAVES

AT 12.30 O'CLOCK TO-DAY BY ORDER OF GOVERNMENT.

Message Late Awaiting Announcement That Lee Is Safe Aboard—Cuba Will Have Independence.

Special from the Charlotte Observer to THE STANDARD.

Gen. Lee was ordered to leave Havana at 12:30 o'clock to-day. Message will go in late, presumably awaiting message that Lee has left Havana, possibly, too, on account of a strong fight among Republicans in Congress to the President's ideas. Many members favor both independence and intervention.

Cuban Junta brings the message declaring that Cuba will fight the United State before accepting anything short of independence.

THE STANDARD has made arrangement to furnish any special item of news that may occur till late every evening. A bulletin board may be expected in front of this office containing news of vital importance.

MERIDIAN POSTS.

To Be Erected at Concord for the Use of Our Surveyors—A Valuable Improvement.

As noted in the proceedings of the County Commissioners, our county has accepted the proposition from Mr. J. A. Holmes, the State Geologist for the erecting of meridian posts at this place. The great advantage has also been stated through our columns. In order that the citizens of the county throughout may know what it is costing, and what it will be, we will give a condensation of the contract with the county.

The cost of the posts to the county is to be only $25.00 and the State agrees to set aside a sum as large or larger for paying all expenses not covered by the $25.00 which may be necessary for making a complete magnetic map.

The United States Coast Survey also agrees to furnish for this work, without cost, one of the most skilled experts in the government employ and a full set of the most accurate and costly instruments made in this country.

It is also promised that the work will be done as thoroughly and as economically as possible and in case the cost is even greater than was estimated, in no case will the county be asked to appropriate anything more than the $25.00 appropriated.

No part of the work shall be paid for until after the work of setting up the meridian posts has been completed and accepted satisfactory.

Lecture at Patterson's Mill.

Mr. Holland Thompson, of this place, delivered a lecture at the school house at Patterson's Mill on Tuesday night. The subject of his lecture was "North Carolina," in the broad sense of the word. It was a descriptive lecture and the map of the Old North State was drawn before them. The lecture was, of course, interesting and gave the pupils of the school some new data about our State.

MT. PLEASANT NEWS

As Gathered By Our Correspondent There.

The Cornet Club has received two more calls to furnish music for commencement exercises—one from North Carolina College and one from Yadkin Mineral Springs Academy at Palmerville.

Mrs. James Misenheimer, of Charlotte, is visiting at her father's, Esq. H. C. McAllister.

OUR CLOSING OPENINGS.

Misses Brachen and Alexander Close the Opening of the Season With Lovely Millinery Display.

It is not an empty saying that pretty feathers make pretty birds. There's no use in having any but pretty girls, when we bear in mind that we have so many complete millinery stands.

Misses Brachen and Alexander have just had their grand opening in which a bashful fellow stood no chance to see.

Calling on Miss Brachen Tuesday we found the spirits serene on the most prosperous opening ever enjoyed by her. The eye was filled with all that would inspire dreams of lovely woman.

At Miss Alexander's we found a profusion of exquisite beauty, the natural and the artificial, forest-mosses, violets and evergreens all interspersed so that our vision had to be aided by a guide to detect the difference. All were busy, touching here and there, to put on the finish to that which makes superlative loveliness. We took a souvenir of a new style of bonnet that was also new when the writer was new and came away reproaching myself for not feasting the eyes every day at these stations of beauty.

NO WAR YET.

The Message to Go in Today—Wants Armed Interference—Congress May Differ and Cause Delay.

The President's message went into Congress today (Wednesday). It is understood to recommend armed intervention and argues against recognition of independence at this time. He thinks the United States should supervise affairs on the island till a substantial form of government can be inaugurated.

There is much speculation as to what Congress will do in the way of acceding to his plans. It is more than probable that there will be that diversity of plans and clashing of opinions that will stay off any decisive action for some days to come. On the whole the prospects are more favorable to no immediate war than on Tuesday.

Armory Moved.

The armory of the Cabarrus Light Infantry has been moved from the room in rear of Gibson's drug store to the rooms upstairs over Fetzer's drug store. The change was made on account of the dampness of the room, which caused the guns to rust somewhat.

The United States Senate Committee has found, by a vote of 19 to 17, that Senator Hanna is guilty of bribery in obtaining his seat. Let him be ousted as quick as the time can be spared from Cuban affairs.
