We now have liping on our hill young hypnotist only 13 years ld. He seems to be right well up in hypnotism.
Mr. Upchurch, our policeman, is ept basy these days-chasing tamps.
To see the train going and coming ery day to the mill with three and fur car losds of goods doesn't loor mach like war yet.
The yourg man Robinson, who ell in the gold mine while on his way to the fire, is able to walk sbout soain. He is a firm believer in the hbse and reel.

The young lady, Miss Cole, of McAdene, who has been visiting her friend, Miss Maggie Smith, rearned to her home this morning.
esignal corps Not included.
After our boys have been drilling in their signal work for quite awhile and have been made to recruit to the desired number, Adjutant General Cowles telegraphed Thursday evening that the Signal Corps was not included in as the boys had already deaide to voluteer for the coming wor, to volunteer for the coming war, quite a number in the Cabarrus Light enlisted infantry.
Infan
We commend the action of these boys in the above. Even though they will not make a sal ary of $$ 35$ or $$ 40$, as they would haye done in the Signal Corps, still they volunteer their services to serve in the army at a small salary of $$ 13$ per month. But the prospect is that some of them will see better days.
The following appeared in the Raleigh Morning Post:
"The Signal Corps at Concord has got grit, and the boys ar made of the right kind of stuff. Under the call the Corps could not be mustered into the troops, and upon being so notified, Capt. Smitb of the Corp, wired the Adjutant General last eyening; ' 1 and my my men have volunteered in Com pany G, Fuurth Regiment, at concord as privates. We're at your call. You can't down the North Carolina Signal Corps. We all yolunteered for North Caroline. Look for us Monday.
If it is possible, the Adjutan General will have the Corps reor ganized after the troops are mus tered in:"

On Thureday night on his way home from the cake walk, a young sitting on the steps at Sloop's shop, and as they were bundled up with their overcoats and sitting on the steps at such an hour in the night steps at such an hour in the night, the young man named the mattor notifying the police headquarters it was found to be Chief of Police Boger and Jailer Hill. They were the tough, suspicious looking characters that were ceen.
