No Room For Criticism.

We clip from the full press dispatches the following, which we commend to those who are impatient at the war movements:

"Within the past few weeks, or in fact ever since the determination was positively reached to invade Cuba before the dry season next fall, there have been published intimations that the delay, or what appeared to be the delay in beginning the invasion, was attributed to the navy. It can be stated on the highest authority that the impression thus created is wholly unjust to the navy, and without warrant, in fact. The naval officers, one and all, take special pride in the degree of readiness in which the navy was found at the outbreak of hostilities, and there never has been a moment, even when Sampson's forces were at Porto Rico, when the navy was not prepared on instant notice to aid the army in effecting a landing in Cuba. Nor, on the other hand, has the army been at fault in this matter. It is well known that they proposed to throw a small force, about 10,000, into Cuba immediately and allow the remainder of the army of occupation to wait until next fall before going over. There were various reasons for abandoning this plan, such as the discovery of the insufficient support that could be rendered the first army by the insurgents; the fact that was brought out with appalling force that to delay the campaign meant the absolute extermination of the starving reconcentrados, and there were, besides, other reasons for making haste. These considerations caused a complete change in the army plans, and that involved delay. To equip an army of 100,000 men in 30 days and put them in condition to fight trained veteran soldiers on their own soil was no small undertaking, so that in the opinion of some of the highest officers of the administration there is no reasonable ground for passing the criticism that there is or has been undue delay in beginning the military campaign either on the part of the army or navy."

Mr. Hileman a Sufferer.

We learn from Mr. J. C. Hileman that his brother, Speaker A. F. Hileman is in a most critical condition, physically. Indeed the combination of diseases is remarkable and of course the worst is feared, though on this (Thursday) morning he is probably a little improved. He is said to combine disease of the heart, lungs and kidneys and is dropsical beside.

He cannot lie down but must pass the weary hours in a partially reclining position. His condition inspires much sympathy.

We are indebted to Mr. C. E. Moser, of the class of '98, for an invitation to attend Commencement of North Carolina College. We regret that we did not receive the invitation including the programme in time for the weekly issue of THE STANDARD.

The Troops in Three Wrecks.

A letter from Steward Paul Caldwell, who is with the Maryland Guards now at Chicamauga, to his folks, informs us that the troops going over to Chicamauga, in those different sections were in three wrecks. He also says that they had to march from Chattanooga to Chicamauga, a distance of nearly twelve miles. On the march, he says, twelve men had to drop out of the ranks, being unable to go any further.
