CONCORD, JUNE 10 1898

OUR VERACITY ASSAILED.

We try our utmost to be truthful (save in a vein of humor some times) and we also are very desirous of being accommodating to our citizens (even though they be not subscribers to THE STANDARD) in withholding news that is not essential to public interest when from good reason we are requested to do so, but we ask that too much be not expected of us and that we be spared the provokingness of reflecting on our veracity when our rights, our motives and the fair mindedness of others concerned would dictate a more generous construction of our acts.

In this we have reference to the fact that on last Saturday morning Rev. J. J. Payseur, chairman of the city school board, came into our office and asked the senior editor to say nothing in the paper with regard to the teachers and the graded school etc, that day. We understood it to refer to editorial or local notice of the affairs and we readily gave our consent and our promise. Later in the day the secretary of the board, Mr. J. L. Miller, placed in the hands of the city editor a notice to teachers to file their applications etc, (as noted in Saturday's issue) over his official signature. When we saw the notice in proof (they were repeated in our local column) we did not think for a moment that there was anything wrong in their being there or that the promise we had made was to forestall the publication of an act regularly passed in the board and made the duty of the clerk to publish. We would have been very far from making a promise to thwart the action of the board and we do not understand that we violated our promise as made or that we did wrong in publishing Mr. Miller's notice as it appeared, yet the chairman saw fit to attack us with the charge of infidelity to our promise and will accept no other construction of our course. We repeat that we hope too much will not be asked of us.

Mr. Payseur wore a contemptuous mien when we told him that Mr. Miller's notices were to be paid for at regular rates, Mr. Payseur seeming to think there should be no fee. THE STANDARD has good and only good motives for the efficiency and the well being of our graded school and it does not propose to wield a particle of influence in the matters belonging to the board.

It has entire confidence in the wisdom and the integrity of every member of that board excepted the chairman and it confidently hopes for the best. We have no axe to grind in this matter but we have a reputation for veracity of which we feel honorably jealous. We cannot conceive who is wronged in the publication of the notice referred to and therefore think it the less excusable in Mr. Payseur to ruthlessly inflict a cruel wound on our feelings. But with this we hope to end all relations with him till we can depend upon him for the treatment due one without sinister motives or real error.

MORE MUNIFICENCE BY MR. DUKE.

And now we see that Mr. W. Duke has given an extra $5,000 to be spent on Trinity College grounds. This on top of the $100,000 gift shows the pleasure there is in giving.

We rejoice to see such munificent gifts and we praise the giver but we doubt very much if humanity would not be the better without the whole tobacco business by which the habits, very unfortunate we think, are made to congest great heaps of wealth to a few spots while through this tobacco habit ignorance, poverty and squalor are so much augmented over the land.

We would like to be wealthy and bestow large sums on favorite and noble causes, but we are content to labor on in frugal straits with little to enjoy or to bestow rather than gain desired wealth from an enterprise that we believe is really a curse. We have no condemnation, however, for those who take a less serious view of it than we and when so gathered it is well that such wealth is liberally bestowed on such institutions.

HOBSON'S INHERITED BRAVERY.

'Good blood will show itself' is a truism and Lieutenant Hobson's heroic feat, grand and unique as it is, is the less surprising when his mother's noble dignity is revealed by the following story. When her son by his chivalric deed, made the name Hobson stand forth among names as a star of first magnitude amid the pale clusters of the milky way it was observed that there is a mortgage on her home. A movement was inaugurated at once to raise the money by subscription and relieve her of the debt.

The movement was of the most generous impulse but the brave mother of that brave son declines to accept any public contributions and eases the public mind by stating that the indebtedness is not much and that she will be able to meet it.

No wonder that that son is brave and noble.

Charlotte is now pulling for the State mobilization camp. She has strong claims and we do not see why she should not have it. If the war lasts till we get the Aberdeen we'll enter the race against her.

Lieutenant Colonel Owens.

In regard to Mr. Geo. W. Means' regiment of moonshiners, which is being organized, the Shelby Star has the following suggestion to make:

"We respectfully present the name of Col. Amos Owens, the famous Cherry Mountain moonshiner, for lieutenant colonel of the regiment and our claim is based on 'seniority in service.' Colonel Means will please appoint at once and save a split in the Cleveland contingent of regiment.

Rev. Denny Dead.

From the Salisbury Sun we learn that Rev. J. C. Denny died on Thursday the 7th and was buried at Phaniel church cemetery on Wednesday.

The Progressive Farmer Lied.

A friend sends us the following from the last issue of the Progressive Farmer, with the query, 'Is this true?'

The clipping is as follows:

"We have it from the lips of an attorney for the Southern Railroad Company, that 33 out of the 36 members of the new State committee of the so-called Democratic party, are lawyers, and that 23 of these are paid attorneys for the Southern Railway Company."

No, it is not true. It does not approach the truth. It was known to be untrue when published, and was published because it was not the truth. But it is by such falsehoods, however, that the Farmer and Caucasian hope to deceive honest people, deceive them to their own hurt, that the falsifiers may continue to fatten at the public crib.—Raleigh Post.

Subject for Romance.

It will be remembered that there was quite an ado made over the marriage of Miss Nellie Grant to her English suitor, Sortoris. He proved a scamp and Nellie got a divorce. She had an American admirer who fought in the Confederate war, and is the last surviving officer on the staff of "Stonewall" Jackson. He is now Gen. Henry Kyd Douglas, U. S. A., of Maryland and it is said they are to be married in the fall. What a pretty subject for a romantic tale.

We all want to do something. A dispatch says it is proposed in Kentucky that each distiller furnish a barrel of the ardent to put the soldiery in good fighting trim. We don't think that is needed. Our Southern boys have plenty of sand in the gizzard and need no snakes in the brain. Let Kentucky send her blue grass for the mules, but our soldiers will do the fighting without the Bourbon.

In Receivers Hands.

New York, June 7.—The Arkell Publishing Company, which published Judge and Leslie's Weekly, and the Judge company, the old concern, have gone into hands of receivers.
