NOT INTERESTING,

The Davidson-Concord Game Saturday Evening Was Not Close—The Grand Stand Tired Before the Ending and Quite a Number Left.

It was a very uneven game of ball on the diamond at the Miller park last Saturday evening, but Davidson does not deserve too much blame after all for not giving us a good game, as they had expected some other players but they went back on them. Mountain Island was to have furnished the battery for them but on the day before the game they sent them word they could not come. Williamson Morris umpired the game while Prof. Lewis did the scoring. When the Concord boys first went to the bat they made 7 runs, which was enough to have been made during the whole game, if they were playing good ball.

The Davidson boys, during one or two innings, played very good ball. Our boys, knowing that victory was going to fall upon them "dead easy" became careless and made several plays that were the worst made this year by them.

At the ending of the eighth inning the grand stand became sufficiently amused and quite a number left. Not much rooting was done—it wasn't necessary.

The score of the game stands as follows:

Concord	18	14	5
Davidson	5	9	7

NOTES.

Watkins, one of the Davidson players, got hurt during the game by receiving a blow just above his knee. A substitute was put in the game.

Garah Caldwell's bat, containing red, white and blue in rich colors around it, brought down the grand stand.

"SHE FALLS ASLEEP."

Mrs. Dr. Jerome, of Georgeville, Falls Asleep After Lingered With Typhoid Fever—Leaves a Husband and Three Children.

Mrs. Dr. Jerome, of Georgeville, died at that place Saturday night from typhoid fever. She had been sick for about a month.

Mrs. Jerome was an esteemed woman and was from one of the nicest families in that vicinity. She was the oldest daughter of Mr. Jacob Shinn, of Georgeville.

She leaves a husband and three children, the oldest child of which is now very sick also with typhoid fever.

Her remains were interred at Centre Grove graveyard Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock after the preaching of the funeral by her pastor, Rev. A. E. Wiley, of Mt. Pleasant.

A Burglar Gets in His Work.

On Sunday night some person broke into the rear of the store of Bell, Harris & Co., by prizing open the window from the top. The cash drawer in the desk was broken open and robbed of its contents, which amounted to only $1.35. No other damage was done to anything, but the firm cannot tell but that a good many small articles, such as clocks, etc., were stolen. The officers have the matter in their hands and they have an eye on some people.

VICTORY STILL WITH US.

The Long Suspense Broken—The Slaughter Stopped—Gen. Shafter Unable to Advance Further But Sampson Does the Work for Cervera—Only One Vessel Escapes—Gen. Shafter Summons the City to Surrender—Troops Will Be Hurried on if Needed—Dewey Receives the Supplies and Troops Conveyed By the Charleston.

Since it has been known that Gen. Shafter decided on an immediate attack at Santiago it has been a subject of the deepest solicitude. Friday's results seemed brilliant enough for the American arms. On Saturday it was learned that triumphs were gained with the blood of about 1,000 of our soldiery, probably one fourth of the number being killed. Saturday was practically a day of suspense all over the land, all expecting to hear of further triumphs. Sunday but added to the suspense of delayed tidings. This (Monday) morning lays before us the stern fact that the burning enthusiasm and the gallant chivalry of the American fighters had to halt before the almost impregnable position of the Spaniards at Santiago. The situation would be somewhat depressing but for the good news that the Spanish fleet is doubtless destroyed.

It seems that it made a dash to get out past Sampson and one vessel is said to have succeeded while all the others finding the chances hopeless, ran aground and were set on fire and of course were blown up.

From our standpoint it would seem that it would be altogether impossible for the Spaniards to hold the city, having lost their fleet and being at the mercy of Sampson's fleet. Gen. Shafter summoned the city to surrender Sunday morning after the destruction of the fleet but it did not comply, at least till 4:30 p. m.

There is some probability that the place will be evacuated. Gen. Garcia is said to hold one avenue of escape, from Santiago to San Luis.

Gen. Linares, the Spanish commander, has been so severely wounded that he had to yield the command.

From the best information we have the American troops took position Friday night and entrenched themselves, making no special advance and therefore there were probably few casualties Saturday and Sunday.

The Spanish made one sortie but were repulsed.

The hospital ship Relief left Old Point Sunday night for Santiago at the call of Gen. Shafter for help to attend the great number of his wounded.

Reinforcements will be rushed to Santiago at once unless news comes to render it unnecessary. Twenty thousand are ordered to be ready to move from Chickamauga at once.

The railroad is to take 5,000 from Tampa to Savannah to embark from that place.

Reliable news have been received that the first detachment of troops conveyed by the Charleston arrived at Manila on June 30th. The transports, City of Sydney, City of Peking and the Australia were laden chiefly with supplies to Dewey.

On the way the fleet stopped at the Ladrone Islands and captured the officials and took them on to Dewey, while a small force was left.
