FOR CONGRESS FROM THE 7TH

DISTRICT,

HON. THEO. F. KLUTTZ.

FOR SOLICITOR FOR THE 8TH

DISTRICT,

MR. WILEY RUSH.

THEY TELL IT THEMSELVES.

We don't take much stock in what is said by the Caucasian or the Progressive farmer but if they are ever fair it seems they would be when their strickures involve their own political roost. Here are specimens:

Up to this date the Legislature is a damnable disgrace to the State.—Caucasian, February 27, 1897.

The good done by the Legislature could be printed in a small pamphlet. The bad done and the good omitted would fill several large volumes.—Progressive Farmer.

There is some talk of an extra session of the Legislature. Please don't Governor Russell. We can endure famine, pestilence, drouth, war, but don't inflict any prolonged agony on the State such as an extra session.—Progressive Farmer, March 2, 1897.

As to the Legislature of 1897, the one now in session, we have to say as a fact that it has won the contempt of the people generally of all parties, and we have to say as an opinion that we do not believe that it can overcome that contempt in two years' time and hence cannot get the approval of the people.—Caucasian.

The legislature only has about ten days now to complete the work, and it hasn't begun the work yet. Let the miserable pie-hunters go to work or go home.—Progressive Farmer, February 23, 1897.

Sweepson is not the only boss our North Carolina Legislature ever had. To a man up a tree it appears that the Pops. nominated some extremely sorry timber for the Legislature last year.—Progressive Farmer, January 26th, 1897.

About ten more days remain of the legislative session. Unless there shall be, within this time, an almost miraculous change, the record of the Legislature will be nothing, absolutely nothing. All it will have done when it resigns will be the spending of $60,000 or $70,000 of public funds for which nothing will be returned.—Caucasian, February 25, 1897.

Of course there are some good men here, who cannot, in justice, be held responsible for the record, but we are speaking of the record of the Legislature as a whole, and unless that record shall be phenomenally changed within a week it will be the imperative duty, and we think it will be the pleasure of the people to see that such a crowd is never sent up to make laws again.—Caucasian, February 28, 1897.

The various committees to whom bills are referred seem to be composed of men who are either generally indifferent or pitifully ignorant. It is almost impossible to get their attention to any bill that does not carry some job with it.—Caucasian, February 27, 1897.

Let the investigation of the charges of bribery by promises of patronage and money to influence votes for Pritchard proceed. Pritchard's friends say the charge is not true. We believe some of the charges are true. Investigate or stand convicted.—Progressive Farmer.

Thus the people's money is being divided out to pay political reward. There is no help for it now, but the tax payers of North Carolina will speak in thunder tones at the polls when there is another election. No party, no man, has ever been able to run rough shod over the people of the State but a short time.—Progressive Farmer, February 23, 1897.

When Pritchard was elected United States Senator the wishes and trusts of the people were betrayed; the people had repudiated McKinleyism in toto and Pritchard stands for nothing but McKinley.—Caucasian, January 28, 1897.

So then for all practical purposes and in all essentials, the co-operation of the Populists and Republicans in this State has been a dismal and disastrous failure. Only the contemptible pie-hunters see any good in it.—Caucasian, February, 1897.

If the proposition of the Republican party (to fuse on the division of office) expresses the attitude of the Republican party, then that party is nothing less than an organization for official brigandage and spoilation. A division among the leaders constitutes the limits of its inclinations and purposes and the sooner the people can arouse themselves to absolutely and everlastingly repudiate such an organization the better it will be for their individual welfare and for the future of the land in which they live.—Caucasian.

The Republicans have been whooping her up for honest elections, have been crying out for an honest ballot and a fair count, and yet the very first thing they did in their convention was to begin to filch and steal votes from among themselves. Good Lord, deliver us from any such honest ballot and fair count system as this.—Caucasian.

Speaking of the sanctity of the ballot, we just wish Senator Mewboorne could have been here to have seen the Republican State convention count out its strongest candidate, Col. Dockery.—Progressive Farmer, March 19, 1896.

Co-operate to hold the present election law, say the co-operationists, on any terms. Well, wouldn't that call for perpetual co-operation and wouldn't that destroy the hope of genuine reform forever?—Progressive Farmer, May 12, 1896.

We don't believe in the honesty of any man who says he is a Populist and then says he is will to vote for a gold-bug. He may be honest, but we don't want to be mixed up with any such honesty. A man may be a good fellow in his way, but it might be a very proper thing to damn his way.—Caucasian.

Letters have come to this office stating that our Republican friends are still driving for fusion, and that they are making an unusual effort to completely control the Legislature. If they should do this a gold-bug United States Senator will be elected from North Carolina. If the Populists should help Republicans to get this control then the Populists will be responsible for that gold-bug Senator. Just think of it! Populists elect a gold-bug! Our party is a failure, even a numbug and a fraud, if we yield enough to enable a gold-bug United States Senator to go from this State.—Ayer's Circular of September 5, '96

HUMANITY RATHER WANTING.

It seems to be rather a sad commentary on the progress of our colored citizens that conditions like the following can be recorded:

A seven months old child of Ida Pnifer in Baptist Town or Allison Town died Tuesday. But one man and three women could be gotten to bury the corpse. The women helped the man in the work.

The girl's mother wears the uniform of one of the societies that we thought looks after objects for the exercise of humanity. Loose morality is not to be condoned, but we thought the time had not yet come when willing hands could not be found to bury the dead. Less desire for elevation to office over white people and more effort to elevate the morality and the humanity of their own race would insure more prosperity and material progress.

MONUMENT FOR LIEUT. SHIPP.

The Charlotte Observer's movement for the erection of a suitable monument for Lieut. Shipp took substantial shape at its inception and meets with sympathy everywhere. We did not enjoy the acquaintance or special knowledge of this hero but his bearing a conspicuous part in that dreadful conflict and sacrificing his life at Santiago in the effort to bring victory to our national arms is enough. There are doubtless those in our community that will find it as convenient as delightful to contribute and we hope the Observer will nominate some suitable person or persons in Concord who will wait on such and receive the noble free will offerings.

As was expected, the Republican congressional convention of this district met at Salisbury last week and endorsed the nomination of Mr. M. H. Caldwell, Populist. The Republican convention of the eighth judicial district, which met at the same time and place, renominated Solicitor Holton. The Populists will endorse Holton in return for Republican endorsement of Caldwell. Notwithstanding the fusion, Mr. Klutz, the Democratic nominee, will defeat Caldwell by a good majority, and here's hoping that Mr. Rush, our candidate for solicitor, will do the same thing for Mr. Holton.—Landmark.

The Highest Price Store in the State

Will claim to undersell their competitors. Assertions are easy but not always true, but figures combined with quality do not deceive. We respectfully submit the following figures and ask you to come and examine the quality. The simple fact that an article is quoted at a low figure does not necessarily mean that it is really cheap. A yard of cloth made to sell for 3c. is no cheaper at 3c. than a 5c. quality would be at 5c.

1 yd wide Cambric (same as Lonsdale) 7 1/2c.
1 yd " Parcale in light or navy ground at 6 1/4c. worth 7 1/2c.

350 lbs remnants of White Goods at 25c. per lb.

1 yd wide Percale at 6 1/4c. worth 15 to 20c.
1 yd " Silisia at 7 1/2c. worth 10 to 15c.
Remnants of Table Linen at 42 1/2 to 95c. per yard.
Solid Silver shirt waist sets at 25c.
Solid Silver Cuff Pins at 25c. per pair. Fancy Hat Pins 5 to 98c. each Nice lot of Jewelry.
Gents Linen Collars 6 1/4 to 10c. Gents Linen Cuffs 5 to 25c.
Gents Handkerchiefs 5 and 25c. 20 styles of Ladies Swiss embroidered Handkerchiefs at 10 cents each.

Foreign samples of Ladies Cotton and Lisle Hose at 25c. Some of these are worth 50c. per pair. Ladies Collars 8 and 10c, Cuffs 10 and 15c.
SUMMER CORSETS 25c. up.

We made a good purchase in Stationary recently. We got about $300 worth, mostly by jobs, for $151.98. This enables us to give you inside prices on almost anything in this line. Good note paper at 10c. per pound worth 5c. per quire. Finer quality at 18c. worth 25c. per lb. This is the same quality we had some time ago at 18c.

BOX PAPER—We have some nice 50c. boxes at 25 cents.
Box containing fine Linen Tablet and Envelopes to match worth 25c. Our price 20c. Nice box of square note paper tied with silk ribbon and long envelopes at 10c. per box, worth 15c.

PENCIL TABLETS—1c. up. Our best value is a 550 page one for 5c.
INK TABLETS—5c. ones at 3c., 10c. ones at 5c. and finer ones at 10c.
400 pen holders worth 5c., $20.00. Our price 2 1/2c., $10.00. See how we save your money.

Nice square Linen envelopes at 5c. worth 10c.
NICE LOT OF SHIRTS—White shirts 25c. up. Puff bosom 59 to 75c. Colored dress Shirts 24 to 50c.
$33 worth of CLUB TIES to be in shortly.
