CONCORD, N. C. SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24 1898

WHOLE No 11799

The Bride is Known in Our City.
The Monroe Enquirer has the following account of a marriage which is news to a number in our town and also at Mt. Pleasant, the bride having been a student of Mount Amena for several years: "That love which laughs at locksmiths and says 'ta ta' to objecting parents, got in some work ere last Sunday and two more souls were made happy and two more hearts were made to beat as one."

On last Sunday morning Miss Roxie Fullenwider, a charming young lady of this place, left her home ostensibly for Sunday school, but she failed to appear in her class and tell about the captivity of the Jews, for her heart had been captured by Mr. Lex Davis, popular salesman in the Cotton Mills store, and he was waiting in the streets for Miss Fullenwider, with a marriage license in his pocket. As soon as they met Mr. Davis and Miss Fullenwider went to the residence of J G Covington, Esq., and were united in the inseparable bonds of matrimony. After the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Davis left for the groom's parents' home at Olive Branch."

A Grateful Editor.

We are always grateful for friendly advice and counsel. No man has grown so smart that he does not need the advice and counsel of his friends. We have received instructions—not advice—as to how to run this paper from a postoffice where only one copy is sent—and that a dead-head—signed "Many Readers." Now, we greatly appreciate the way that free copy circulates, but instructions from any man who signs his name, "pays his money and takes his choice," will do as well.—Greensboro Telegram.

A LIVELY TIME.

Mr. David Hannan Takes Exceptions to a Little Joke That Appeared in The Standard—Assaults Wade Barrier On the Street—The Latter Gets a Blow On the Shoulder—Hannan Resists Arrest.

On last Thursday the following paragraph appeared in THE STANDARD, which was written by the reporter as a mere joke over which it was intended the persons named might have a laugh:

"On October 11th there will be a convention of horse 'swappers' at Gainesville, Ga. We see that Rowan county has already elected their delegate to this convention and it is hoped that Cabarrus will also send one. It is very probable that President Jesse Garmon and Secretary Dave Hannan will call a convention soon to elect a delegate."

Today as the local reporter, Wade Barrier, neared the court house gate, Mr. Hannan, after only a few words, hauled back with a large stick and landed a blow upon the shoulder of the young man. Sheriff Buchanan soon interfered, but could not quiet the man. Mr. Geo. Goodman, after being summoned by the sheriff, laid hands on Mr. Hannan also, and soon Chief of Police Boger was on hand. The case was at once tried before Esq. Pitts, which warrant indicted Mr. Hannan for an assault with a deadly weapon. After taking the testimony, Mr. Hannan was found guilty and bound on a fifty dollar bond for his appearance at next court.

This was an unfortunate affair, and the writer, who is the party assailed, deeply regrets the happening, but, as before stated, it was nothing more than a mere pleasantry. THE STANDARD, under its present management, has never been known to hurt anyone's feeling intentionally by such jokes, and if Mr. Hannan had come to THE STANDARD office and expressed himself as not enjoying the joke, he would have received respectful attention and due apology, but, instead, he unthoughtedly acted as he did. Mr. Hannan has openly made his threats of vengeance since his bond has been secured.

Mr. Garmon, who was the other party named in the joke, took it good-naturedly and intended to return the joke in some way. He also tried to persuade Mr. Hannan to take it as a joke.

THE SECOND AFFRAY.

Some difficulty occurred between Mr. Will Misenheimer and Mr. Ed Joyner about 2 o'clock. The trial had not taken place at this writing and we can give none of the particulars. Mr. Misenheimer is somewhat hurt about the head, and Mr. Joyner has a thumb probably dislocated.

A Record Breaker.

Mr. P M Faggart, of No. 3 township, furnishes us a record breaker in the way of cotton picking.

Five hands picked in one day 1,541 lbs. as follows: John Bost, his nephew, 398 lbs., Tom Berry, a negro man, 388 lbs.; Ernest Faggart 283 lbs.; Jane Berry, Toms wife, 248, and Dannie Faggart 224.

The Work Resumed.

Rev. S D Steffey, pastor of St. Johns, tells us that he is now taking up the work again on the new Lutheran church near the Plott school house and the purpose is to have the building ready for occupying within the next 60 days. It is not the purpose yet, however, to complete the church for dedication until later. The building is up and under roof now and the order for the doors and windows is made.

Improvements Contemplated.

St. Johns congregation, we learn, is contemplating the addition of a veranda in front of the church that will be entirely of metal and will, beside being a great protection to the door, be quite an ornamental touch.

Ocean waves have on a number of occasions dashed over the tops of light-houses which are 150 feet high. As a wave in the open ocean is accompanied by a depression as deep as the wave is high, a ship in the trough of the sea encountering such waves would be banked by hills of water, if the term may be used, 300 feet high.—Ex.
