WERE NOT EXCITED.

As will be noted Mr. Kestler comes out in our columns in the footsteps of Dr. Cyrus Thompson and says he did not assert the slanderous reflections against Mr. Swink, but asked certain questions.

Now we admit his article in the fairness with which he credits us, but in entire coolness, in the interests of politics that can engage a Christian and a gentleman we protest against this cowardly method suggesting evil of our fellowman and filling the minds of the less intelligent and wary with insinuations. Many a mind is misled, indeed that is what it is done for. Disagreeing with Mr. Kestler as we do, politically, we would not countenance a lot of insinuating interrogatives that really say nothing but mean a great deal of naughtiness against him. We feel that it would be dirty procedure.

Opposing candidates usually study to keep on the safe side of that courtesy that commands respect, and they are apt to win votes by such bearing. We are astonished that Mr. Kestler should drop into this error.

We are entirely willing, even glad, to have discussions in THE STANDARD that lead to the light of truth and the ability of our readers to think, speak and act intelligently in all matters. With this in view we invite communications, but these insinuating stingers that have nothing tangible or profitable and that thrust in a way to avoid responsibility we protest against.

We think there is nothing in the article that Mr. Swink cannot easily meet or that cannot be met by the thoughtful reader. There is no room to fear that the editor or Mr. Swink will be unduly excited about it. Having not one bit of personal ill will toward Mr. Kestler, the editor hopes that he will not again precipitate a discussion so disadvantageous to himself and party by innuendoes in his press correspondence.

FACTS DON'T SUIT THEM.

Our fusion brethren have one official in Raleigh who believes that a public office is a public trust and that the people have a right to look into the books of a public officer. That is the treasurer of Wake county. His name is Henry H. Knight. What a pity there are not at least two more, one for the penitentiary and one for the Agricultural Department.

Some fusion candidates in Wake did not know their man, and went about boasting that the fusionists had reduced the debt of the county $11,000, that there were no outstanding claims, and that the county finances are in better shape than ever before. This Treasurer Knight, however, says he had nothing to do with the statement and that his books show the receipts of the county from Dec. 1, '96, to Dec. 1, '97, to be $43,027.08 and disbursements $42,999.73, leaving only $27.35 in the treasury. More than this, the commissioners had borrowed $4,000, and there are from four to six thousand dollars of debts contracted. It is a fact, too, that they spent less for public improvements than the Democrats. Thus instead of reducing the debt $11,000 they increased it eight or ten thousand dollars with less to show for it than the Democrats had.

We see that more than our spotless (?) senator, our redoubtable Secretary of State and our gallant Caldwell need to be held down by being confronted with facts.

NO REDUCTION OF FEES WANTED.

That grand party that finds the Democrats such awful insincere people, said in their platform:

"In order to keep our public servants in thorough touch and sympathy with the oppressed masses, and to check to some extent the scramble for office, we demand a reduction of salaries until such time as through an increase of the currency the price of property and products will justify the present rates."

Quite a good number of the members of the legislature thought it was really meant, they had not learned yet what the movement meant, so they passed a bill in the Senate to cut probate fees to 10 cents, and registration fees to 50 cents. Immediately the clerk of the court and register of deeds of Wake county got a move on, and appealed to their fellow craft to write or telegraph to their representatives to leave the fees where they were before.

Nobody knows of any reduction of fees or salaries. But, any how, "Democrats are hypocritical and awfully bad."

Come to my arms the maiden said,
As fast as you can trot,
You are my sweet thing, for you get
Your laundry at the Concord.

How doth the Concord Laundry do
Such work so nice that when
We do it, sir, that very way,
That you will come again.

The kicker cried, "Alas! I'm gone!
The Concord Laundry hit me;
I'll look elsewhere where I can find
My kicks just so they'll fit me."

The Concord Laundry's not so large
But have you noticed how they're growing?
It has not come to them by chance;
It's from the seed they have been sowing.
