MR. CALDWELL'S ATTACK.

Mr. Caldwell chose to attack THE STANDARD quite vigorously Thursday. It was the first time we ever knew a candidate to drag the name of his wife into a political discussion as if to provoke, if possible, at least a stirring innendo as he cast at Rev. Page's name. If this was his object it shall fail. We have not the honor of a personal acquaintance with Mrs. Caldwell, but she is a lady, and that is all that is required to command the profound respect of THE STANDARD. We are publishing a newspaper that is conscientiously Democratic. In conducting this paper we have neither swerved to the right nor left in treating political issues because some dear friend might like to see more complimentary things said of a candidate. If the paper went to but one family we would write with that in view.

The thrust of Mr. Caldwell that it was the purpose of THE STANDARD to wound the feelings of Mrs. Caldwell is as purely unfounded as the unfairness with which he is treating most of the political issues.

Mr. Caldwell is a subscriber to THE STANDARD and of course the paper is sent to his home.

If we had not been there to call him down he would have left persons in that audience to believe that we said or quoted uncomplimentary things of him and purposely sent the paper to Mrs. Caldwell to wound her feelings. It is foreign to our ideas of a gentleman. We hope we shall always be able to run a newspaper on a high plane. If Mr. Caldwell thought so meanly of us he would most naturally as a gentleman himself have settled the bill and have forbidden The Standard to enter his home, and left the matter out of a public speech.

We try to be fair and inoffensive with everybody while we try to curb error and wrong. If we took pattern from most of the opposition papers that come to us in exchange, there might be good room for Mr. Caldwell to settle the bill and stop the paper. Nay, more, Mr. Caldwell has himself, while not specially abusive, (we honor him for it) made very free use of the charge of Democratic hypocrisy and insincerity. We are not callous to the ugly flings at the body of which we form an humble part. He claimed to be much hurt at our impugning his sincerity, and in almost the next breath he stepped over and handed us the longlooked-for report and charged us with taking more interest in the penitentiary affairs than in spiritual salvation. There is nothing especially offensive in this to us; we consider the source. If we were hypocritical in our political relations we could hardly be otherwise in our church relations. It does us no harm, but shows that Mr. Caldwell is less courteous to us than he wishes us to be to him.

WHY LONGER DOUBT?

The Clerk of the Superior Court of Craven Tells of the Situation of Affairs in That County.

Rutherford Vindicator.
Mr. L E Green, near Ellenboro, wanted to know the truth about negro rule in Craven county, and wrote to the clerk of the Superior Court for the facts in the matter. Below we give the answer of the clerk to his letter of inquiry, and if you are an honest jurymen you will decide the case for yourself and act accordingly. If you are not an honest juror you will still repeat the slang of the corrupt or ignorant pie-hunter and call it "Democratic lies."

Superior Court, Craven County,
North Carolina.
W M Watson, Clerk.

Newbern, N. C., Sept. 28, 98
L E Green, Ellenboro, N. C.:

My Dear Sir: Yours to hand, and I will endeavor to give you the facts.

In Craven county there are 27 negro magistrates, 12 or 15 negro school committeemen. The register of deeds and his deputy are negroes. All the sheriff's deputies are negroes. The court crier is a negro. The township constable is a negro. One of the county commissioners is a negro. The town has three negro councilmen, and five policemen, and the city attorney is a negro. White men and white women are arrested by negro sheriffs or constables, tried before negro magistrates and committed to the custody of a negro jailer.

The nominees for county offices are as follows:

House of Representatives—Negro.
Register of Deeds—Negro.
County Treasurer—Negro.
County Commissioner—Negro.
Constable—Negro.

The candidates for clerk and sheriff, who are the only whites, were made to promise that they would have none but negroes as their deputies. Could any white people be in a worse condition than we are?

We appeal to the Anglo-Saxon race of North Carolina, with whatever political party they may have been voting, to rescue us from this terrible condition. You have no idea of the complete reign of terror that exists in the eastern counties. The papers have not told half. I forgot to state that the tax-listers in some of the townships are negroes.

Very respectfully.

W. M. WATSON,
Clerk of Superior Court.

VOTES GAINED

For Mr. Kluttz By the Speaking There—Some Building Going On—The Southern's Brush Pushers there—A Music Room Added.

China Grove, Oct. 20.—Mrs. A J Crewell, of Charlotte, is visiting her mother.

Miss Ida Ross spent several days with her brothers, Messrs. Tom and Charles, this week.

Mr. Moody, of Moody Bros., is holding a musical convention in St. Marks church. He will give a public concert Saturday night, assisted by his father and brother. We think his instruction will increase the interest in our church music.

Mrs. W Kimball is again at home after spending two months with her daughter, Mrs. Overcash, at Swananooc, N. C. "In the Land of the Sky."

Messrs Kluttz and Caldwell spoke in our town last night to a good crowd. Much interest was manifested and Mr. Kluttz certainly gained votes in China Grove township.

Mr. Ramsaur, of Lincolnton, N. C., visited his sister, Miss Bessie, this week.

Telegraph operator C J Kimball, who has been relieving operators at Air Line Junction, Concord, Greens, S. C., and Gastonia, N. C., is back at his old place in the office here.

Mr. D H Milton, of Reidsville, is visiting his son, R H Milton, engineer for Patterson Manufacturing Company, and who has been quite sick, but is now convalescent.

Mr. V L Correll is building a beautiful residence for Rev. A Shulenberger near the Lutheran parsonage.

Mr. J G Ritchie has just completed a nice residence for Mr. G H Lips and is now building a house for Mr. Vance Miller, a student of North Carolina College. Vance is going to be ready when he gets through at school.

The Southern has treated our depot to a fresh coat of paint and changed the color, which is a decided improvement. Agent Thom appears to be very proud of the "fix-up" given him.

Prof. Wright has added a music room, which was very much needed and is a decided improvement.
PAUL.

A press dispatch says Gen. Miles extended his hand to Gen. Shafter at the peace jubilee Wednesday at Chicago, and the latter ignored him. It's a pity our splendid victory could not be won without so much internal ill-will and spitefulness.

Blessings ever wait on virtuous deeds, and though a late, a sure reward succeeds.—Congreve.
