LET THEM ASSENT IT.

It was to be expected that the men who can say that our fusion reign has been fairly good, or anyhow not positively bad, would try to create the impression a few counties away from here that there never had been a foul outrage and murder followed by the lynching of two wretches here in Cabarrus, while here at home they would try to make themselves and others believe that Democrats got around Mr. Sam Hartsell and pressed upon him to issue a letter dictated by others. Yes, of course that was to be expected. If Democrats, or at least the writer (who is one of the suspected) should claim the inspiration of that letter they would have to lose their veracity and come down on a level with those who make these charges. Poor creatures! They have a cause that cannot be conscientiously defended and they try to hook the finger of criticism into every imaginary loop-hole. We learned that Mr. Hartsell was going to write a letter and we went to see the nature of it and how long we would have to hold our forms open to get it. We found Mr. Hartsell nearly done writing the letter. Though we had to wait to get the letter from Mr. A. B. Young we secured it and published it. But let those who judge of other men's truthfulness and honor only by their own low standard, say what their depraved instincts dictate. It does not injure any one but themselves and it can't do much of that.

THE MERCHANTS WILL CLOSE.

We are glad to note the call of Chairman Young for the merchants and business men of the city to close their places of business on election day. We are even more glad to announce that it is just the thing our merchants are going to do. The sentiment as we are assured is that the day will be devoted to the momentous cause before us. The issues rise above the consideration of the gain of a day.

Let it be no disappointment to any one if business on that day is refused.

We see that in all the leading cities and towns this call is made with the entire probability of its meeting hearty approval. This is gratifying and is another augury that the evil combination must and will be brought to the judgment bar of a virtuous people on next Tuesday and relegated to the infamy that it has seemed in its madness to court.

The difference between Z. B. Vance and the man who succeeded him in the United States Senate was never so strikingly shown as last week when the story that Pritchard was hunting for troops was given out from Washington. Down in this neck of the woods Jeter Caesar Pritchard has been looked upon as a plain, steady everyday citizen, who climbed above his fellows through the uncertainties of politics. While this is true the people who know the idol of Shelton Laurel and the golden calf, as it were, of Spillover have generally looked upon him as a pretty shrewd politician—a man who might be depended on generally to do the safe thing for his party. But his "appeal" to the federal authorities last week shattered the idol. No man who is genuinely a politician would have made so serious a blunder. There is no denying the fact that the sending of troops into North Carolina was seriously considered, because the story sent out by the Associated Press has not been corrected; and if there could have been a denial it is more than certain Pritchard would have at once entered a protest with the news association. —The Tattler in Asheville City.

You may talk about your prosecuting colonized fraudulent voters as much as you please, but unless warrants are ready and you knob the perpetrators on the spot, he will ask you no more boot than a rabbit in a patch of briars. The men that made that election law calculated as they did it.

Sickness has decreased 90 per cent in Santiago as compared with other years and Gen. Wood says there has been no yellow fever for 60 days. This seems to be a good start for Americanism.

A Call.
Pursuant to a call by our State Chairman, Hon. F. M. Simmons, I most earnestly beg the business men of the town of Concord to close their places of business and to go to the polls and give one full days work for white supremacy and good government.

Remember that your business interests, your liberties, your homes and civilization itself are at stake in the result of this election.

A. B. YOUNG,
Chairman Dem. Ex. Com.

Another Colored Man Speaks.

Editors of The Record.
It has been my custom for years to read the daily papers, and I think I thoroughly understand the present situation in this State.

I am a colored man and true to my color, but I cannot support the Populist-Republican issue ticket. I realize the fact that the white people will dominate in North Carolina; as for myself I am in favor of this, as I have always received employment from Democrats, and have been treated kindly by them. I would advise my colored friends not to be traded as so many she p to the Populists, and not to allow our leaders to create animosity between the races.

It will afford me the greatest pleasure to vote for the Hon. W. W. Kitchin for Congress, and by the help and support of the honest and intelligent people I hope he will double his majority this election.

It's all bosh, this stuff that some of the leaders are preaching, we'll be disfranchised. For years the Democratic party administered to the colored man's needs. We should not forget the white people who have done so much for the education of our race and to maintain and support our unfortunates.

The question is now "Who is our friend?" Colored brothers, read both sides. COLORED VOTER,

Come Back, Come Back.

Come back, come back, my charming friends,
Across the stormy water,
And bring Laundry, dye and cleaning work along.
You know, by gosh, you oughter.

I've stuck to you through thick and thin
And washed your shirts and collars,
And cleaned and dyed your clothes,
Until I've raked your pennies in
And now I want your dollars.

Don't send your work out of town
And then get up and holler
Because some reckless washeeman
Tore up your Sunday collar.

I do as fine a line of work
As any sucker living.
Now do not wink the other eye,
It's truth to you I'm giving.

I want your work and guarantee
My work as good as any,
And if it isn't then, my friend,
You need not pay a penny.

Respectfully yours,
J. M. P.
