CONCORD, N. C. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4 1899

WHOLE No 11799

PLAN OF MARCH.

Let Everyone Take Part in the Procession—There is a Place For All.

Each delegation from the different townships is requested to stay in a body somewhere near the streets tomorrow morning and to consider themselves at the command of their marshals from their township and ward. After these divisions have been made then the marshals will get their orders from the two chief marshals as to where their position will be. It is hoped that every marshal will realize the fact that he is on duty for the purpose of lending assistance to every one.

The following is the way in which the procession will be formed and as it will look from the spectators view:

- Steel Creek brass band.
- Horsemen, under the command of the two chief marshals.
- Mr. Pleasant corner band.
- Floats filled with young girls of Cabarrus.
- Carriages and other vehicles.
- Bicycle brigade.

To the Lovers of Music.

The Concord Choral Union invites all lovers of vocal music to meet with them tonight in the lecture room of the Lutheran church to enlarge the organization so as to embrace all who wish to avail themselves of its benefits.

R E KIDENHOUR,
Secretary.

An Evening at the Baptist Parsonage

Some days ago it was decided that a lunch be given at the Baptist parsonage, the proceeds of which were to go towards buying a new carpet for that church. A number of the members of the church assembled there Thursday night to enjoy the evening. The principal feature of the evening was the "fishing." Each lady had been requested to bring a lunch and to also put her card on the inside of the box. The young gentlemen, after depositing a quarter for bait, would stretch his pole over the curtain to await his luck. After catching his box of lunch, he would then meet the lady whose name was therein, and they together would enjoy the lunch. The management also sold ice cream, cakes, etc. From the fishing and refreshments the management realized about $12.00.

Hobson and the Wrecks.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Naval Constructor Hobson arrived in this city today from Philadelphia, where he took part in the peace jubilee. This afternoon he appeared before the board of naval bureau chiefs for the purpose of explaining the condition of the Spanish ships wrecked off the coast of Santiago and the progress and prospects of the efforts which are making for their recovery.

It is said that over a million dollars will be required to continue the operations and the Secretary of the Navy desires to know what chance there is of success before authorizing the expenditure of so large an amount of money. The action of the department will be based upon the reports of bureau chiefs after the examination of Naval Constructor Hobson.

The latter was with the board all the afternoon and gave a great deal of detailed information as to the condition of the wrecks. He was of the opinion that it was useless to continue the service of the wrecking company any longer, and that results did not warrant the $800 per day it is receiving.

Constructor Hobson said that in his opinion the Colon and Vizcaya could be raised and brought to dry docks at New York and Norfolk at a cost of $500,000 for one and $400,000 for the other and possibly both could be brought in for $400,000 each.

Mr. Hobson wanted to be placed at the head of the wrecking company which he should organize and be authorized to expend from $800,000 to $900,000 on the two vessels. He said the hull of the Vizcaya was intact and he proposed to build a coffer dam around her and bring her to the surface after making repairs necessary to float her.

Mr. Hobson also gave the bureau chiefs some information concerning the Reina Mercedes and the Merrimac. The former could be easily raised, he believed, for it was apparent that she only had been scuttled. The Merrimac could be raised, and he said she must be removed from the mouth of the harbor in some way.

The board will have another meeting Monday night and possibly make some recommendations to the secretary regarding the wrecks off Santiago.

An Excellent Show.

Pawnee Bill's Wild West Show pitched its tents on the eastside, Thursday, and all day the grounds were swarmed with eager spectators. Both afternoon and evening performances were largely attended, and all were thoroughly pleased with the exhibition. All the different phases of frontier life were portrayed in a realistic and thrilling manner, and for an exhibition of its kind it is the best that ever visited here. The daring riding and feats of horsemanship exhibited by bands of Indians, cowboys and Mexicans was of a high order, and filled the hearts of all with admiration. The boomerang throwing by the Australian bushmen was a novel feature and deserving of special commendation. In short, the entire performance from start to finish was excellent, and held the closest attention of the large audiences.—Pittsburg, Pa., Dispatch.

This large aggregation comes to Concord Wednesday Nov. 16 for one day only.

Tired of Roaming.

Gideon Marsh, the fugitive president of the Keystone National Bank that failed in 1891 has returned to Philadelphia and given himself up to his bondsman, Wm. H. Wanamaker. When he left Wanamaker had to pay the $20,000 bond forfeited and he has spent as much more trying to apprehend him, but without success.

A Professional Note.

Mrs. Timpkins was taking her son to school for the first time, and after impressing the schoolmaster with the necessity of his having a thorough, good education, finished up saying: "And be sure he learns Latin."

"But, my dear madam," said the schoolmaster, "Latin is a dead language."

"All right," said Mrs. Timpkins, "he'll want it. He's going to be an undertaker."—Pick-Me-Up.
