STATE LUTHER LEAGUE. Fifteen Delegates Enrolled-Mr. J. M. Julian President.

The State Luther League met this (Saturday) morning in St. James' Courch.

Rev. S D Steffey conducted dev votional exercises after which the president, J D Barrier, presided.

Fifteen delegates were enrolled. Mr. M B Stickley delivered the address of welcome, and Mr. J M Jus ijan made the response. Both were substituted for originals, but the addresses were ably and very acceptably rendered.

The president read his annual report which was referred to the com-

his Return Home Eloquently Pictured By Henry W. Grady.

The following extract from the famous address delivered by the late Henry W Grady before the New England Society of New York, on the occasion of its annual dinner in 1886, derives special interest and tions of Memorial Day:

"Dr. Talmage has drawn for you with a master hand the picture of your returning armies. He has told you how in pomp and circumstance of war, they came back to you, marching with proud and victorious tread, reading their glory in a nation's eyes.

Will you bear with me while I tell you of another army that sought its home at the close of the war-an army that marched home in defeat and locked up, says the Charand not in yietory, in pathos and not in splendor-but in glory that equaled yours, and to hearts that were as loving as ever welcomed heross home?

sore Confederate soldier, as, buttons ing up in his faded gray jacket the didate, Mr. Morrison Caldwell: parole which was to bear testimony to his children of his fidelity and of charity, and the sable pall on the faith, he turned his face southward from Appomattox in 1865. I think of him, as ragged, half starved, enough to stand on both the Repuband wounds, having fought to exhaustion, he surrenders his gun, wrings the hands of his comrades in ful journey.

"What does he find? let me ask to obtain her as a trophy. you who went to your homes eager to find, in a welcome you had justly earned, full payment for your year's dreading death not half so much as surrender, he reaches the home he left so prosperous and beautiful? He finds his house in ruins, his farm store. devastated, his slaves free, his stock killed, his barns empty, his trade destroyed, his money worthless, his sccial system—feudal in its mag- Purifier and MERVE TOMICproblem that ever confronted human intelligence-the establishing here. of a status for the vast body of his liberated slaves.

"What does he do, this hero in gray, with the heart of gold? Does he sit down in sullenness and despair? Not for a day. Surely God, who had stripped 'him of his prosperity, inspired him in his adversity. As ruin was never before so overwhelming, never was restoration swifter. The soldier stepped from the trenches into the farrow; horses that had charged Federal guns marched before the plow, and fields that ran red with human bleod in April were green with the harvest in June; women reared in luxury cut up their dresses and made dresses for their husbands; with a patience and a heroiem that fit women always as a garment, they gave their hands to work. There was little bitterness in all this. Cheerfulness and frankness prevailed. 'Bill Arp' struck the keynote when he said, 'Weil, I killed as many of them as they did of me, and
